SUPER JEN

I love that you guys brought back Jennylyn Mercado for the third time. She's getting hotter, wow! I can't imagine it has been close to four years since Jennylyn helped Jennica Garcia during Ondoy. Jennylyn is such a heroine that I never fail to vote for her in your 100 Sexiest poll. Also I'd like to greet my girlfriend a happy 17th monthsary on July 14. Baby, thanks for everything, for being by my side especially when I needed you the most. I love you very, very much! We're looking forward to attending our first Victory Party!

RYZAMAZING!

It has been six years since I last saw Ryza Cenon. I remember watching cute Ryza during her StarStruck days. Now she has graced your cover. Wow, she's totally hot! She's a lot different but her transformation was amazing. Well done, FHM. Well done, Ryza. I got the issue on my Zinio so I can enjoy it on my Android and iOS devices.

MODEL ENCOUNTER

I've been an avid fan of your magazine. I want to share this moment I had with my ultimate model crushes Ornusa Cadness and Sanya Smith. Never have I imagined that I would even see them both in person! It still sucks that I wasn't able to get my November 2011 copy signed; I would have had it framed! Thank you for reading my letter. All the best and FHM rocks!

DON'T WORRY, MS. D

Not only is July the coronation of the 100 Sexiest Women in the land, it's also my fourth anniversary with my girl. I'd like to show my romantic side for a change. I'd just like to reassure her that even though we'll be miles apart due to work, I will still love and will always be here for her. I love you, D. I'll miss you!

COLLAGE-HAPPY COUPLES

I've been a fan of FHM since 2003. Even now that I'm married, I always make sure that I get a copy. I want my husband and I to be a part of FHM because we're celebrating our first wedding anniversary. To my Sergeant, I love you forever. Ked and I are always here for you.
Issah, Imus, Cavite

This July, my girlfriend and I will celebrate our 1,095th day of being in love (do the math!). Here's what I want to say: Sorry for all my shortcomings and thank you for loving, inspiring, and understanding me always. Looking forward to infinite years of togetherness. I love you, Fyam.

YOU ROCK JACK

I finally unleashed my long-time admiration for my soulmate last February 1. We've been kicking ass since. She's so conscious about her body that I'm hoping you'll permit me to post one of her sexiest pictures to lift her spirits. If it's not too much to ask, please do so in your July issue as our joint birthday gift to Jack, my better half, on July 26. Hope we'll paint a smile on her face. Salamat!

EET KITTY

Meow!

Twenty years from now, our children will look at our selfies in disgust. It won't be anywhere near the way we appreciate the old photos of our bell-bottomed moms and mop-topped dads: to which we snicker, say a resounding "Aaww," and put a #throwbackthursdays hashtag on.

Instead, our possibly ultra-cool, lycra-clad future sons and daughters will look at our versions of a self-portrait and ask, "Why, dad, why?" When that happens, you might decide to just laugh it off or throw a major fit (depends on your parenting style). But we have a better face-saving suggestion: Go to Facebook now, search for model Maica Palo's page and take screenshots of her timeline.

When the time comes, tell your children that when selfies are done right (show them your screengrabs) it can brighten up the most North Korean of days—you know: hopeless, sinister, barren, evil. Or, even better, show them these pages, then say, "Children, when you have it, it's your responsibility to flaunt it."

Now, here's Maica doing exactly that…

We stalked your Facebook fan page and saw the many events you've modeled for. Do you get to choose your gigs or do you just take them all?
Of course I get to choose. But I take most of the gigs. Especially those that aren't very hard to do. Remember, opportunities come to those who take initiative.

What's the craziest event you've been to?
A Premiere event in Cagayan De Oro with Kristine Santamena, Dorina Groh, and Akiko. We had a fashion show at a bar, and for the last segment we were supposed to look wet, so nagbasaan kami sa backstage! Ha ha ha! We enjoyed that night so much that I didn't even remember that we were working.

'I HAVE FIVE HELLO KITTY UNDIES: IN PINK, GRAY, RED, BLUE, AND WHITE! I'M THE BIGGEST HELLO KITTY FAN EVER'

Your kind of modeling entails a lot of standing. How can you endure all that? And how big are your calf muscles?
Actually, it's very hard to stand for a long time especially when I'm wearing heels. I usually just sit down during my breaks to rest my feet.

And how do you muster smiles when you're bombarded by annoying event-goers? You know, those touchy, "Ate, pwede pa-kiss?" types?
Ha ha! There will always be people who want to take a picture with you. But I haven't been asked for a kiss yet. Siyempre bawal yon at hindi naman ako papayag sa ganun. Marami rin yung nagtatanong kung pwedeng umakbay sa akin for a picture, and okay lang naman sa akin yon. Pero pag may kasama kaming bouncer sa event, bawal talaga. Smiling is part of the job. It's natural for me to smile every time.

Where does all this work you're doing lead to? We mean, what do you like splurging on?
Halos lahat yata ng naipon ko pinambili ko ng Hello Kitty. I'm such a fan that I buy anything that has "Hello Kitty" on it. Ha ha!
Ah yes, we saw that on your Facebook page. We also found a number of "selfies" there. Ever thought of taking one when you're looking messed up?
I have two selfie pics where I looked haggard, a photo from an energy drink event and another I took after a Zumba session.
Back to Hello Kitty. How many HK undies do you have?
I have five: in pink, gray, red, blue, and white! I'm the biggest Hello Kitty fan ever! Ha ha!
And have you ever tried seducing a man with it?
I have! Ha ha! It worked!
Lastly, forgive our shallowness but we have to ask: Does Maica Palo like being spanked?
Who doesn't? Ha ha! FHM

COURTESY OF FHM.COM.PH

You already know what happens at 100 Sexiest Women of the World Victory parties every year. Here's what it looks like in figures

CATCH 'EM ALL

Think it's hard to get your friends together? It's nothing compared to assembling

50 TO 70 CELEBRITIES

Total cost to dress them up as scantily as possible: P250,000

15 Makeup stations to make them extra pretty

HEAD COUNT

Approximately 7,000 rabid men will attend. That's why we book two halls of the WTC.

THE GOLDEN TICKET

The number of tickets given out directly by FHM through the Bullboard and promos 100

Line waiting time to use that ticket:

45 mins to an hour

Trust us, it's better to come early.

Latecomers who smashed the glass door of NBC Tent in 2002?

NOT COOL

It's also not cool to pay

street price for a sketchily obtained ticket

FHM's 2011 correspondent Zo Dureault really, really wanted to attend—so she started a campaign to raise the scratch needed to fly here all the way from Canada. Beats asking mom for money.

VICTORY COUNTDOWN

3 local gals have won the coveted top spot twice—will Marian join the company of Sam, Angel, and Katrina this year?

Stage setup is 2 days or 48 hours before the event

The hotties' practice begins 1 day or 24 hours before the big night

Major wardrobe malfunctions we've had: (Sorry boys. We put that styling budget to good use). 0

BEST IN ATTENDANCE

Or most appearances in our hallowed list by…

Angelina Jolie, with a lucky seven bows

Regine Velasquez, who only missed out in 2008 and last year

Maureen Larrazabal, only missed out last year

GOODS, PARE!

If watching gigs in the usual smoky, cramped bar setting doesn't appeal, then maybe this annual summer music festival in Manila is what you need

VISIT WANDERLAND.PH FOR NEXT SUMMER'S TICKETS, VENUE AND LINEUP

Clouds looked threatening overhead as people trooped into the venue, but thankfully, rain wasn't the case when we attended Wanderland 2013, the first edition of this annual outdoor music and arts festival held two months ago in May, and every summer thereafter.

It's the first major concert to be held at the freshly built Circuit events ground—a wide-open breathing space within the cramped confines of Makati (it's built on the site of the former Sta. Ana race track) and it's brought to us by a little group called Karpos Multimedia.

The festival's lineup read like a who's who of the indie scene: meaning you most likely had to ask who is playing. Aussies Temper Trap and local darlings Up Dharma Down were arguably the biggest draws of the night, but discovering new music is equally fun. Fellow Australians Colour Coding and Tully on Tully brought more poppy goodness, while New Zealand folk group Avalanche City delighted us with their easy sound and vocalist's well-kept neck beard. It had such a strong Down Under flavor that we half-expected AC/DC to pop up in hologram form before laid-back American alt rockers Nada Surf took the stage instead. Neon Trees, with their whirling dervish of a front man who threw his boots into the crowd, provided a nice contrast to the other act from the USA, and perfectly hyped up the crowd for Temper Trap to bring it home. They were also ably supported by more local acts: Taken By Cars, Pulso, She's Only Sixteen, and Yolanda Moon.

The crowd was full of flower crowns, hipsters, young folk, and hipster young folk in flower crowns, but having attended, we think oldies shouldn't be afraid to turn up either. In fact, this is the perfect setting for you feeling-geriatrics out there. Kids will probably see you as one of those legit hippy types who went to outdoor festivals before it was cool—way better than being that quiet, rapey-looking guy nursing a beer in the back of the club.

Another plus point is not having to leave the comforts of Manila, and instead of purchasing plane tickets, just fork over P3,000 to P4,800 a pop. Though there's nothing we can do if you aren't familiar with the music, gramps. See you next summer!

FIELD NOTES

Things to consider besides your attire

ANTS
The hidden danger of a grassy location, hope your latag is thick enough to deter them.

FILIPINO TIME
Just like gigs, festivals can (and will) run late, prepare to stay longer than expected.

HUNGER GAMES
Most festivals bar outside food, so be prepared to get in line for a while when dinnertime approaches. And quite likely miss a performance while you're at it.

MALE SIDEBOOB
Those DIY tanktops with ridiculously large armholes are comfy, but they are also a bit too revealing–unless you have a matching man-bra for your man-tits.

NO SURFING ALLOWED
Tyler Glenn, waif-like vocalist of Neon Trees, gamely took a dive off the stage into the waiting hands of… equally frail girls. Don't be a wimp if you're up front.

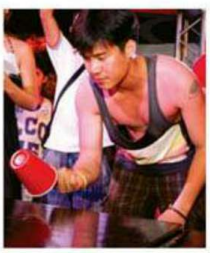
GRIND, SNAP, AND POST!

Babes, booze, and beach-trippin' partygoers ruled FHM and Tanduay's Boracay Grind. Why weren't you there?



The adage "What happens in Boracay stays in Boracay" should really be given a makeover since the hedonistic escapades that transpire on the island rarely escape Instagram now.

Take for instance FHM and Tanduay's Boracay Grind, which was held last May 3 and 4, the weekend of Labor Day, at Club Paraw and Obama Grill. Sam YG and FHM cover girl Danielle Castaño hosted the festivities, with the help of the Tanduay calendar girls as their assistants and visual muses (they sent libidos rising). And not only was the Tanduay Boracay Rum served in free-flowing fashion, but some raucous and raunchy games were played for the audience to imbibe the spirit of a fresh-grad prowling to get lucky.

First was the body shots competition, where tongue action, a dash of creativity, and shots of Boracay Rum got participating couples raging with sexed up intoxication. After that was the Flip Cup relay and the night's highlight, the grinding competition, where four couples lost their inhibitions like a virgin on a mission. It was a parlor game—with bumping crotches, slapping booties, and swapping pit.

All these were caught on camera (smartphone or otherwise) for Internet viewing pleasure. We're sure most of it was uploaded on Youtube, Facebook, and Twitter where friends and relatives can either get a heart attack or go green with envy seeing what their loved ones had done in Boracay. But to make your life a little bit easier, we documented the decadence ourselves to stoke your jealous rage.

Of course you can always join us next year.

GET PARTY READY FOR LABORACAY

Where labor day weekend turns into a beach rave

1. Sando and board shorts spell comfy. With an army beach rats getting drunk and occupying every available space, you might want to lessen your heavy clothing. You're at the beach, for crying out loud, no one really cares if you're shirtless.

2. Carry cash. Getting frat-boy wasted isn't cheap, especially on an island notorious for massive boozing. So if you're macking on a chick, get her some Tanduay instead. It's affordable, hits that sweet spot, and does the trick.

3. Don't be afraid to lose yourself. What's the point of letting loose if you worry about being responsible when you're dared to try new things? Free your mind, succumb to the experience, and revel at the thought of pure ecstasy.

ISN'T IT OBVIOUS?

Sherlock Holmes and Dr. Watson were walking in the park when they passed three women eating bananas. "Good evening, ladies," Holmes said. After they moved out of earshot, Watson asked, "Do you know those women, Holmes?" "No, Watson," he replied. Holmes continued, "I do not know the nun, the prostitute or the new bride." Watson was confused. "Well, if that's true, how then do you know anything about them?" he asked. "It's elementary, my dear Watson, "Holmes replied. "The nun ate her banana by holding it in one hand and using the other to break it into little pieces. The prostitute held the banana with both hands and swallowed it whole. And the new bride held the banana with one hand, and used her other hand to push her head toward it."

PICTURE PERFECT

On their first night together, the newlyweds go to change. The new bride comes out of the bathroom showered and wearing a beautiful robe. The proud husband says, "My dear, we are married now, you can open your robe." The beautiful young woman opens her robe, and he is astonished. "Oh, oh, ahh!" he exclaims, "My God you are so beautiful, let me take your picture." Puzzled, she asks, "My picture?" He answers, "Yes my dear, so I can carry your beauty next to my heart forever." She smiles and he takes her picture, and then he heads into the bathroom to shower. He comes out wearing his robe and the new wife asks, "Why do you wear a robe? We are married now." At that, the man opens his robe and she exclaims, "Oh, oh my, let me get a picture!" He beams and asks why. She answers, "So I can get it enlarged!"

TIME TO GET DOWN

A woman comes home to her hubby and calls her, "Come upstairs and look at this clock!" When she gets there, she sees him naked with his little soldier standing to attention. She yells at him, "That's not a clock!" Her husband grinningly replies, "It will be when it's got both hands and a face around it!"

WORLD PEACE CAN WAIT

A retired Italian wine maker went to the village vchurch to make his first confession in many decades. When the priest slid open the panel in the confessional, the man said, "Father, during World War II, a beautiful woman knocked on my door and asked me to hide her from the enemy. I hid her in my attic." The priest replied, "That was a wonderful thing you did, my son! You have no need to confess it." "It's worse than that, Father," he continued. "She quickly started to repay me with sexual favors." "People in wartime sometimes act in ways they wouldn't under normal conditions. If you are truly sorry for your actions, you are forgiven." "Thank you, Father. That's a great load off my mind. May I ask a question?" "What, my son?" he graciously replied. "Should I tell her the war is over?"

GOLDEN OLDIE

NU-METAL PIONEERS DEFTONES AWAKEN SLEEPING MOSH ANIMALS AT THEIR KOI NO YOKAN MANILA CONCERT

If it had been 1995—the year Sacramento-based Deftones released their debut LP, Adrenaline—the attendees of this concert would likely be wearing oversized shirts, backwards baseball caps, and baggy pants. Alas, it is 2013, and most everyone who grew up listening to the band now dress more sensibly, and thick black-rimmed glasses had long overtaken caps as the preferred symbol of cool. The only remaining indication that Deftones—touring in support of their latest album, Koi No Yokan—hailed from an older fashion era was vocalist Chino Moreno's pants, which still doesn't cover nearly enough of his boxers.

WHAT HAPPENED HERE?

Chino's onstage, body bowed toward the hooting mid-to-late-twentysomething crowd, ready to jump along to the first song of the night. Stephen Carpenter, the guitar player, busts out the bone-crunching attacks of "Rocket Skates," their first song of the evening. The tension balling up within the walls of the World Trade Center explodes in a big bang of slamming bodies. Before long, Abe Cunningham is attacking the drums with the same kind of slaughterhouse finality he displayed during their Diamond Eyes concert here in 2011. Bassist Sergio Vega, meanwhile, has added a mean quality to his stage persona. And inside his enclosure of synthesizers, the band's DJ, Frank Delgado, is cooking up the ingredients that fuse deafening old-school aggression with surreal soundscapes.

ENERGY IN EXCESS

The opening salvo sets the tone for a concert that had an excess of energy—and really bright beams of light. From throat-scathing numbers "Headup," and "Elite," to the ethereal moments offered by "Entombed," and "Cherry Waves," to favorites, "Digital Bath," "Knife Party," and "My Own Summer," a deeply loyal fan base found themselves rocking out like they haven't done so for a long, long time.

KIDS/NOT KIDS AGAIN

It is only by the time that the frenetic set ends—a set spanning 24 songs drawn from seven albums—that their legs and necks remind them rudely that it is 2013, and they are well into their mid-to-late twenties. It felt good to be reminded how to be an angry, excitable teenager listening to the loud metal music their folks had once warned them about. Chi Cheng—the band's former bassist who passed away under tragic circumstances just a few months before the concert—must be proud.

THE DEFTONES SPEAK

Chino Moreno on songwriting
"From noon to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, we just play together. When you go home that night, everything that you were working on goes through your head, which you bring the next day. There's no one big idea or anything before we go in and make everything; we just kind of go and do it."

Stephen Carpenter on album leaks
"It leaks because no one in this world respects privacy. People don't know how to keep a secret no more. Everyone talks, talks, talks, tweets, tweets, tweets. You want to make a record that won't leak? Don't record it."

Stephen Carpenter on success
"Keep on doing it over and over, and play for as many people as you can. You just gotta keep doing it. It's persistence, man."

Abe Cunningham on deceased bassist Chi Cheng
"Two words to describe Chi Cheng: Man mountain."

On playing Asian crowds
"In Asia, the crowds are wild. Though if you come right down to it, people are pretty much the same everywhere you go in terms of having fun. It's just special, this experience, I get to travel the world with my boys."

STILL FAST, STILL FURIOUS

THE CAST OF FAST AND FURIOUS 6 DRIVES BY TO SHARE INSIGHT THAT WHIRS LIKE A DAREDEVIL

The FHM writer thought of ways to make his interview go viral on the web

FILM

1 HEY, IT'S VIN DIESEL

MAIN MAN VIN-D HAS GOT WISDOM UNDERNEATH ALL THAT BURLY MUSCLE

If you weren't an action star, what do you think you'll be doing?
Playing the geek. I love to bring out my inner geek. I used to say if I weren't an actor, I would probably be a school principal or an architect.

Dom is a big family man in the films. Are you a family man in real life?
Very much so. It's the thing that is most similar between Dom and myself.

Dom's motto goes "Ride or die."

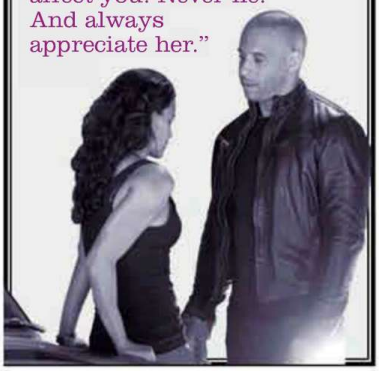
What's the most daredevil thing that you've done aside from being in action movies?
It's pretty crazy to be a movie star. I grew up in New York City doing really stupid things. When we were kids, we used to play at train tracks. We'd jump down and wait till the last minute, and jump out before the trains arrive. As I get older, I like doing more crazy things in film. I don't want to risk my nine lives outside the movie.

What do you think is the most exciting thing about riding fast and furious in killer vehicles?
It's empowering. I think cars in general are a representation of a powerful man. They are able to do things you couldn't do by yourself. They aren't God-given.

'I used to say if I weren't an actor, I would probably be a school principal or an architect'

VIN ON PUTTING THE MOVES ON WOMEN: EARNEST-NESS WINS!

"Best way to approach a chick is to wear your honesty. So many will try to talk to them with real bullshit. It's better if they tell the woman how they really feel. If you find a beautiful woman and you feel attracted to her, come clean. Tell them how they affect you. Never lie. And always appreciate her."



2 WELSH BADDIE LUKE EVANS

AS F&F6 VILLAIN OWEN SHAW

Were you a fan of The Fast and the Furious franchise prior to joining?
Fast 5 is totally my favorite. It's a great film. That was my last memory of the film before I joined. I'm very happy of being part of this cast.

Are you a car aficionado in real life?
Yes, I do love cars. I drive in London and I enjoy it. Driving a car in London is as much the same as driving your car in Manila. You don't go very far, you know. You need a police escort to get anywhere.

Was it difficult penetrating the bonds all the other cast members already built because of the prior films?
You come in and bring a fresh energy and hope to be accepted. I've been in different big movies. I was in The Hobbit and a lot of people in it had already worked together. So I'm used to joining companies that are already established.

Was playing an evil character as fun as it looked on the silver screen?
Deep down, everybody wants to be the bad guy. I thought this character was brilliantly written.

THE WELSH WAY

LUKE EVANS DOLES OUT 5 PAGPAPA-PORMA TIPS

1. Don't try too hard.
2. Always be content. The second you aren't, it shows.
3. Always match your shoes to your belt.
4. Just be your self and always smile.
5. One-liners won't get you anywhere. Believe me. I've tried.

3 MUSCLE CHICK

MICHELLE RODRIGUEZ COULD BREAK YOU IN TWO, BUT SHE'S ALSO AN INTELLIGENT SWEETHEART

On the power of cars: "[Cars are an] Iron Man costume, baby. It's the only Iron Man costume that most people could afford. You can become superhuman by crushing a pedal. I feel when I'm in the car, I'm a superhero."

On girls getting in on the action: "You know what would be more empowering to me? When people stop talking about it like it's a phenomenon. There's so many kinds of women in the world. Let's all get over the whole girls-starring-in-an-action-flick bridge."

On why driving fast and furious gets her high: "The idea that you could probably die doing it. I think there's a thrill in that. It's kind of what makes smoking cigarettes look cool."

FHM WOMEN HIT CINEMALAYA 2013

SEE MARIAN, EULA, LOVI, ALESSANDRA, AND SARAH GAUGLER IN EDGY MOVIES ON JULY 26 TO AUGUST 4

KIDS TODAY

THE NEW BREED CATEGORY: FAIRLY NEW DIRECTORS, FRESH PERSPECTIVE

TRANSIT

Directed by: Hannah Espia
With: Jasmine Curtis Smith, Mercedes Cabral, Ping Medina, Irma Adlawan
Several years ago, the government of Israel passed a law that deports the kids of foreign workers if they were unable to fulfill requirements. In Transit, Anne's younger sis speaks Hebrew as she portrays a girl raised in Israel in this diaspora dramarama.

BABAGWA

Directed by: Jason Paul Laxamana
With: Alex Vincent Medina, Alma Concepcion, Kiko Matos
Alma Concepcion's movie comeback. In the film, an Internet scammer (Medina) uses a fake FB profile to swindle people. He falls instead for the spinster he is trying to victimize (Concepcion) and his desire alters his motives and intentions.

DAVID F

Directed by: Emmanuel "Manny" Palo
With: Quester Hannah, Sid Lucero, Art Acuña, Eula Valdes
Tells a triptych-type story from 1901, featuring David Fagen, an African-American soldier who sided with Filipinos during the Philippine-American War that leads up to modern times to take a look at the lives of the children of Filipinas and American soldiers.

DEBOSYON

Directed by: Alvin Yapan
With: Paulo Avelino and Mara Lopez
Mando (Avelino), a devotee of the virgin of Peñafrancia, is injured in the mountains. He is nursed back to health by morena beauty Salome, who lives at the foot of Mount Mayon. However, what Mando doesn't know is that Salome carries a dark secret that threatens their relationship.

INSTANT MOMMY

Directed by: Leo Abaya
With: Eugene Domingo
The presence of the queen regent of hilarity, Eugene Domingo, should be enough motivation to watch this entry. She plays Bechayda, a wardrobe mistress who pretends to be preggy to reel in her Japanese lover. Guaranteed intelligent laughter from writer Chris Martinez? We're ready to slurp this one down.

NUWEBE

Directed by: Joseph Israel Laban
With: Nadine Samonte, Jake Cuenca, Anita Linda
A nine-year-old girl bears her father's child through rape. It's heavy, hinged in reality, and Jake Cuenca plays the rapist. Based on true events. The director got the idea for this movie after doing a documentary for GMA News TV's Front Row.

PUROK 7

Directed by: Carlo Obispo
With: Arnold Reyes, Angeli Bayani
Purok 7 (Purok Siyete, not seven) is a dramedy about small-town living. Arnold Reyes portrays a father who gets a mistress, causing conflict with his two young children. Set in a remote purok during fiesta season, it mixes buhay-probinsya with the complexities of familial bonds.

QUICK CHANGE

Directed by: Eduardo Roy, Jr.
With: Mimi Juareza, Junjun Quintana, Migs Cuaderno
A peek into the world of illegal cosmetic surgery. Dorina is a transvestite who provides collagen injections for fellow drag queens. Dorina sees herself as one lucky gal, until her boyfriend sets his eyes on another tranny.

REKORDER

Directed by: Mikhail Red
With: Ronnie Quizon, Mike Lloren
Rekorder tells the story of a film cameraman in the '80s (Quizon) who now works as a movie pirate operating in Manila. He routinely smuggles a digital camcorder into movie theaters in order to illegally record films. One night he records something else…and the footage goes viral.

THE DIPLOMAT HOTEL

Directed by: Christopher Ad. Castillo
With: Gretchen Barretto
Gretchen Barretto portrays a reporter who leads a documentary crew (that has FHM babe Sarah Gaugler) to tell the story of a cult leader (Joel Torre) who used to operate in the hotel. The people who enter the hotel have unresolved guilt and are put in a state of more distress.

AMOR Y MUERTE

Directed by: Ces Evangelista
With: Althea Vega, Markki Stroem, Adrian Sebastian
Amor Y Muerte (love and death in Spanish) is an autoerotic drama set during the 16th century. The film depicts the way the Spaniards repressed Filipinas and their sexual desires.

EKSTRA (A BIT PLAYER)

Directed by: Jeffrey Jeturian
With: Vilma Santos, Piolo Pascual, Richard Yap, Marian Rivera
Ekstra (A Bit Player) is a socio-realist drama-comedy film that depicts a day in the life of Loida Malabanan (Ate V) as she experiences waiting long hours on the set.

SANA DATI

Directed by: Jerrold Tarog
With: Paulo Avelino, Lovi Poe
Andrea Gonzaga (FHM cover girl Lovi Poe) is about to get married to a man she does not love. But a few hours before Andrea's wedding, a videographer named Dennis (Avelino, again), reminds her of a past flame.

PORNO

Directed by: Adolf Alix Jr.
With: Carlo Aquino, Angel Aquino
A story about individuals linked by pornography. The broken-glass-mirror approach of the plot infuses grit into the unconventional mode of delivery. Hey, that title already ensures our purchased ticket.

THE LIARS

Directed by: Gil Portes
With: Jim Rocky Tangco
Members of a baseball team based in Smokey Mountain lie about their ages in order to play in the Little League World Series. They win the championship but a journalist (another FHM cover honey, Alessandra de Rossi) publishes an exposé.

INFERNO

Dan Brown

Robert Langdon (or shall we say, Dan Brown), my boy, what have you gotten yourself into now? The Harvard Symbology professor makes a fourth return to solve yet another maze of cryptic codes and riddles and untangle a web of conspiracies—all engineered by the villainous Bertrand Zobrist, a brilliant scientist, who also happens to be Dante Alighieri's Inferno's No. 1 fan. Follow Langdon through the tourist trail as he races to stop Zobrist's dying wish to unleash his homebrewed virus that will forever alter the human race.

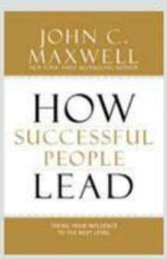
HOW TO MAKE A ZOMBIE: THE REAL LIFE (AND DEATH) SCIENCE OF REANIMATION AND MIND CONTROL

Frank Swain

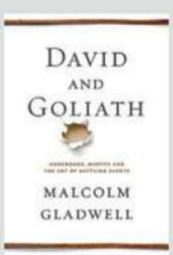
Join Frank Swain's search of how real-life zombies are reborn in the dark corners of the world, where severed dog heads are brought back to life, drugs from secret agents turn unfortunate mugs into zombies, and the elixir of life is masked in an 18th-century painting, hidden from unworthy eyes.



HOW SUCCESSFUL PEOPLE LEAD: TAKING YOUR INFLUENCE TO THE NEXT LEVEL

John C. Maxwell

As Spartacus learned, real leadership and power don't immediately come with the title. Maxwell lays out five levels every leader must achieve to gain followers not out of fear or obligation, but out of the ability to inspire and invest in people. This insightful and instructive read shows how one should build a team that can spawn future leaders.



DAVID AND GOLIATH

Malcolm Gladwell

How exactly did David defeat Goliath? Seems preposterous in the real world setting, but here, Gladwell backs up the legend with hidden rules that keep the balance between the alphas and the underdogs of the world. From the blood-bathed lands of Northern Ireland and Vietnam, to the minds of civil rights leaders, to the labs of cancer researchers, he believes that traumatic childhoods, disabilities, and socio-political struggles may actually be the key ingredient to the formula for success.

HAPPY MONEY: THE SCIENCE OF SMARTER SPENDING

Elizabeth Dunn & Michael Norton

Rich folks tell us that money can't buy us happiness—just look at Bruce Wayne or the Barettos. Behavioral scientists Dunn and Norton tell us that if we follow the five core principles of smarter spending, then happiness can possibly come out from our own pockets. By spending dough on others (like buying that sexy señorita a drink) or on experiences (pleasurable ones, indeed!) rather than material things, you now find the loophole in the age-old saying.

Be #MOMOL Ready
Gillette Fusion ProGlide

Enter Gillette's groom room and let the guys of Boys Night Out and the girls of FHM show you why

When it comes to the battlefield of dating, being #MOMOLReady is the same as always of pogi; a swagger that can be achieved by any man who has the willingness to embrace good being a man's man. With Gillette's latest innovation, the Fusion ProGlide, achieving razor-sharp when it comes to the dating game and being #MOMOLReady, let the Fusion ProGlide, and the

#MOMOLReady MEANS ADAPTING: ALWAYS UP FOR THE GAME

"Most don't want to say it but people do judge you by how you look. You have to clean yourself up so that you feel good about yourself and you can face the world. A guy that looks confident is a sign that he's always ready—#MOMOLReady to be precise. That's the vibe you want to give the girls. If you are #MOMOLReady, a girl will feel and see that. Confidence exudes sexiness, that ready-to-go vibe. You need to know how to adjust to your environment. You have to adapt to survive the MOMOL world! You have to groom yourself in the morning so make sure you bring your a-game by shaving before you walk out your door. Plus, girls don't want to make out with sandpaper face."

#MOMOLReady MEANS STANDING OUT

"Good grooming is essential for proper hygiene. It can be a key factor in girls noticing you kahit hindi ka masaydong pogi. Being #MOMOLReady is a major factor in the dating game! It's the "make it or break it" element; If you're a good kisser it will increase your pogi points by 100-percent. Kahit pangit ka, ang tawag dyan ay "nakuha sa sarap." I always say cleanliness leads to wellness and remember that first impressions do make an impact! How you act and look will determine whether you will get that second date. Being #MOMOLReady is sexy because women like a man who is a great kisser. They like a man who can take the lead."

Ready WITH THE NEW Gillette Fusion PROGLIDE

you should always be made up to make out bringing your a-game. It's the new definition hygiene and grooming, without sacrificing sex appeal becomes an easy endeavor. So dudes of Boys Night Out, be your wingmen

#MOMOLReady MEANS BEING PREPARED

"You need to be #MOMOLReady because you never know who you're going to meet. Being pogi is no joke; it's a full time job, not just a one-time look. Aside from making you more confident in carrying out your day-to-day activities, being #MOMOLReady gives the ladies that kagat-labi effect. To achieve the #MOMOLReady status, you have to look the part and play the part! MOMOL-ing is an experience, not just a word. You have to always remember that you're only as good as your last MOMOL, so make sure you're always prepared and you give it your best! Remember the rules of inception: send signals to girlaloo's brains saying "i-momomol kita mamaya." When the moment is there, take the shot!"

The Power of the ProGlide

The new Gillette Fusion ProGlide has enhanced features for a comfortable shave

RE-ENGINEERED LOW CUTTING FORCE BLADES with thinner, finer edges and an advanced low-resistance coating enables the blades to cut effortlessly through hair with less tug and pull.

The BLADE STABILIZER maintains optimal blade spacing for comfort, while still allowing the blades to adjust to the contours of the face.

A REDESIGNED HANDLE provides ergonomic grips for better control. The enhanced weight balances the improved transition between front and back shaving surfaces.

-The Fusion ProGlide Power Razor is equipped with an on-board microchip that provides consistent battery power. With the low-battery indicator light and automatic shut-off feature, you're able to save power for maximum usage.

A streamlined SNOWPLOW COMFORT GUARD channels excess shave prep to help maintain optimal blade contact, stretching the skin for a close, comfortable shave.

-Both razors feature a chrome handle surrounded by black elastomer for a secure grip and better control.

A LARGER LUBRASTRIP™ infused with mineral oil and lubricating polymers enables the razor to move smoothly over skin even on repeat strokes. While an improved Precision Trimmer has an enhanced blade and a comb guard to better align long hairs and new rinse-through slots.

-The razors are shower-safe, allowing men to shave whenever and wherever they prefer.

AS DRUG MULE

Last Days of Disco (1998)

With: Chloe Sevigny

Two J-school fresh grads navigate the tricky world of career vs. love with the dying NYC disco scene as its backdrop. Drugs, sex, and disco—what's not to like? Throw the amazing Chloe Sevigny into the mix, plus director Whit Stillman behind the camera, and you've got a flick that even the most snobbish of film-buffs can get behind.

Uncovered (1995)

With: John Wood

An adaptation of the Arturo Perez-Reverte book La Tabla de Flandes, it's a schlocky drama about a woman who, while restoring an old painting, uncovers a murder mystery. It's mid-'90s melodrama at its worst but that's not why you're watching it. Pro-tip: Katie gets nekkid.

Serendipity (2001)

With: John Cusack

When the ultra-cool John Cusack did Serendipity, it gave credence to the genre—well, kind of. If a guy like that could do a cheesy-ass movie like that, it'd be okay to watch it, right? Not really. But the next time you think you've run into your soul mate and she happens to look like Kate, take your cue from Cusack and be sure you've got a copy of Love in the Time of Cholera to really drive the point home.

Underworld (2003)

With: Scott Speedman

The OG, and much more badass version of Twilight. Kate plays Selene, a vampire warrior who falls in love with a werewolf, while entrenched in a war of supernatural sorts. Not much reason to this rhyme but you get to watch Kate Beckinsale clad in leather running around for two hours, so quit your whining.

Brokedown Palace (1999)

With: Claire Danes

Remember Claire Danes saying what a shit-hole Manila was/is? Of course you do. Images of Danes' big mouth cursing cockroaches and limbless old men littered TV screens. What you might not have known was that her co-star in the much-contested and subsequently banned Brokedown Palace was then unknown Kate. Don't let the onion-skinned Nazis deprive you of some Beckinsale action. DL, like now!

GAMES

RED, WHITE, AND BLUE

FOUR GAMES SO PATRIOTIC THEY MAKE EVEN BALD EAGLES CRY

It's the Independence Day of our former American overlords this Fourth of July—that means tailgate barbeques, fireworks, parades, and copious amounts of Bud Light for them. But there'll be a fair few camped out in front of their gaming systems and missing the festivities, to these…

METAL WOLF CHAOS

When his VP stages a coup d'état, head of state Michael Wilson doesn't take it lying down. He straps into a giant mecha, spouts off lines like, "A heart of justice, is a heart that loves America!" and proceeds to win back the land of the free. Ironically, this game was made, and only released, in Japan.

18 WHEELS OF STEEL

What's more American than towing shit all over the place with your oversized pickup (shout out to Texas)? Perhaps hauling a 50-foot land train filled with capitalist goods through the featureless expanse of Middle America! The 18 Wheels of Steel series lets you live the "exciting" life of delivering freight cross-country. Don't forget your trucker hats!

POLITICAL MACHINE

Donkeys or Elephants? Pick a side in the simulation of the ultimate game: democracy. If your idea of fun is hiring spin doctors, conducting smear campaigns and fundraisers, and choosing Sarah Palin as your VP, then this is the game for you.

GRAND THEFT AUTO

Forget working hard to end up with cute kids, a perfect wife, and a suburban home with a white picket fence—the new American Dream is hookers, blow, fast cars, and getting rich with minimal effort. Sad but true—and endlessly entertaining to play out in Rockstar's series that is famous for being a good mirror of American society.

WE LIKE #MOMOLReady MEN!

Gillette Fusion ProGlide

These FHM babes chime in on the power of being #MOMOLReady

"WHEN I SEE A WELL-GROOMED MAN, I JUST CAN'T HELP MYSELF"

"I start to think he must be well-groomed in other places. There's nothing sexier than a #MOMOLReady man who is aware of his appearance. When someone knows that they look good, they start to feel good, too. You see it in their walk, their gait, the way they carry themselves. And that is ravishing, if not super sexy."
- Linda

"I WANT A TAKE-CHARGE KIND OF GUY"

"Take-charge women like myself want a man who is always ready for action. There's nothing sexier than someone who is confident both inside and out. A man who is kissable or #MOMOLReady is someone ultra-attractive. It shows me that he knows what he wants and how to get it. If you want to be #MOMOLReady, make sure you always look like you're willing to take that date to the next level."
-Abby

"I JUST CAN'T KEEP MY LIPS OFF OF A CLEAN-LOOKING MAN"

"There's nothing that turns me off more than a grizzly-faced man who looks like he doesn't shower. In my opinion, you always need to look fresh to be #MOMOLReady. If you look smelly, unkempt, or unhygienic, then that's an automatic turnoff. But looking groomed will ensure my smackers on you in an instant. Girls want a guy who at least knows how to manage our expectations by taking care of himself. Because then at least I know that he might just be able to tend to my needs."

ABBY

SHAVE IT OFF!

Bush down there is neither cool nor clean. It's not erotic at all! Your genitals should be totally hair-free for a number of reasons, which Jahziel may not be familiar with. Hindi kasi nagse-shave yan!

Yes, I prefer unshaved pubes when having sex. Abby may think it's gross but for me, having hair down there is not bad at all. For ladies like me, as long as it's trimmed, well maintained, at hindi lumalabas sa undies yung hair, it's perfect!

Right. Perfect breeding ground for crab lice that feed on your blood to survive, and whose saliva can cause itching in your crotch. Crab lice that, through sexual intercourse, can infect your partner, too!

Exag ka naman, Abby! Crab lice agad? For as long as you practice safe sex, pubes are okay. Truth is mas sensitive at prone to infection pa nga ang genitals without hair. Kaya tayo binigyan ng pubes kasi it traps germs and prevents disease.

Pubic hair keeps your sex organs warm. And with global warming, I don't really think you should be growing pubes anymore. Excessive pubic hair traps sweat, dirt, and bacteria so when you sweat down there, I'm pretty sure hindi magiging "mahalimuyak" ang amoy mo. Which is gross!

Abby, my dear, those are called pheromones. Pubic hair emits pheromones, which actually attracts the opposite sex!

I know what pheromones are. But scent alone doesn't cut it. A shaft that's clean, odorless, and hairless—that's what turns me on. I have "acomoclitism"—I love bald cocks and I myself don't grow pubic hair! Hairless cocks are easier to suck and stroke, and they give better sensation during penetration since there's no hair getting in the way.

Ang weird kasi pag shaved. Lahat ng guys that I've encountered, trimmed and may hair pa rin. I get more turned on because it's manlier, unlike pag shaved—ayan na, nag-he-hello na kaagad! During the act itself, remember: there's less friction with hair on!

As a kid, was it your plan to get into the modeling business?
Actually, no! I only started modeling in 2011. That was after I graduated, and only because a friend gave me an offer to model for an event. Now, madalas na ako sa car shows.

If being a model hadn't been the original plan, then what was?
I took up Mass Communications because I want to be in media as a reporter. I'm a very adventurous person. Gusto ko yung na-pu-push ko yung sarili ko. Right now, I'm just looking for an opportunity to start. Sabi nga nila, "Ability is nothing without opportunity."

What's the most adventurous thing you've done so far?
Recently, I trekked Mt. Pinatubo! It was challenging but also fun. Masayang mag-travel sa malayo, away from your comfort zone—tapos may climbing at bungee jumping pang involved in between.

It's your first time for you and your boyfriend to kiss. He's not a good kisser. What do you do?
Tuturuan ko na lang kung hindi. Tulungan kami sa isa't-isa di ba? At least, matututo kami parehas. Tuturuan ko siya ng flying kiss na may kindat! Ha ha!

In part, we can thank Jahziel Manabat for this shoot. What do you think of her?
Jahziel is a very confident woman! Alam niya kung anong meron siya sa sarili niya at kaya niyang ipakita yun. She's her own woman! FHM

Times when absolutely nothing seems to fall into place is a terrible position to be in. We persevere, though, waiting for something that will inspire a series of fortunate events.

That something comes in many shapes and colors. In our case, it seems to have come in the form of the fair, slender Cyen Lazam, who we met during one of those car shows last summer. We were doing our usual rounds, and getting ready to just mail it in when this pretty chinita caught our attention. To our luck, she was stationed with FHM Master Debater Jahziel Manabat, who introduced us to her. Eventually, we asked Jahziel to encourage her to have a shoot with us. A few moments later, she said yes...

Women do the darndest things. It's a good thing they tell us here after...

STORY OF THE MONTH

DIBS ON THE NEWBIES

My colleagues and I recently went on an outing. Right after work on Friday, we headed straight to a private pool in Pansol. We planned to stay there until Sunday afternoon. We brought along the new girl from the office. She was pretty and innocent looking. We invited her hot boyfriend too. So the girls had their plans to check out the guy, and the men had their plans to teach the new girl. I wanted to do both. The guys brought three cases of beer and four bottles of tequila to get everybody going. As early as 10 p.m. she was already drunk. Her BF had to bring her to the room. I followed them thinking that if they were going to do it, I'd offer to join in. I snuck inside, and saw the new girl alone in bed with only her two-piece suit on. I went over to the bed and kissed her. Her boyfriend suddenly came out of the restroom, caught me and asked me if I was a lesbian. I said I was only checking if his girlfriend was okay. He said he was relieved that I wasn't wasting my "assets." I knew I had hooked him. I asked him what he meant by assets and he grabbed my breasts. I was so horny, so I kissed him torridly and he raised my legs. I led him to my room where the other ladies were already waiting—well planned, I should say. About two hours into our five-on-one escapade, it seemed like he wasn't getting tired. He kept banging us all–even if he wasn't that good. The other girls were keeping him busy, so I went back to the new girl's room. She was still sleeping alone, so I went over and started kissing her. She woke up, but to my surprise, instead of pushing me away, she kissed back. We had some girl-on-girl fun; she wasn't so innocent after all. The next morning, everyone went out of their rooms acting like nothing ever happened—the two of them didn't even have a clue about what happened to each other last night. All of us had a good smile on our faces at the end of the outing, though. That's for sure.

DOG LOVER

My boyfriend and I just celebrated our first anniversary. I keep thinking that, luckily, I haven't gotten pregnant. We don't use any contraceptives or condoms and rely solely on the calendar method. Thank heavens I have a regular menstrual cycle. We've made love several times. When he goes down on me, I feel like I'm floating on pure pleasure. I love it because he enjoys it as much as I do. In moments like these, I really feel that I love him so much. My favorite is doggy style, because he can really go deep. We also do it in the spooning position; I like it because he kisses my back and caresses my breasts. We always do the deed at the "lodge," which means there's no limit to my moaning and screaming. We still have a lot of positions to try, but I'll make sure to always have a round of doggy style when we do the deed.

SEASIDE ESCAPADE

My boyfriend and I went on a day trip to the beach just last month. There were people when we arrived, so we sat down and just talked, but my boyfriend couldn't help but hug and kiss me. Before I knew it, he was squeezing my breasts and slipping his hand inside my shorts. Good thing I packed a pillow to hide what he was doing. I was so wet that I told him to go in the CR with me. As soon as we got in, we started doing every possible position we could with the amount of time we had. After the hot deed, we kissed and he told me we'd be doing it again that night. I'm sure you can tell how great our beach trip was from there.

NIGHT DIFFERENTIAL

One day, my boss asked me if I could stay after work to finish some documents. I agreed. After all the people in the office had left, my boss entered my cubicle and leant close to me as I was typing something on my computer. He went near my neck, inhaled, and said, "You smell good." I didn't react and continued to work when he kissed my ear. I tried stopping him but I was really getting turned on with what he was doing. In no time, he was in front of me. I was still seated in my chair just staring at him as he undid the buttons of my blouse. He caressed my boobs and kissed me on the lips. I was getting horny so I kissed him back, torridly. As he undid my bra, he sucked my nipple while his other hand was busy playing with my other breast. He stopped and invited me into his office. I gladly obliged. He laid me down on his table, and this aroused me so much. He teased me and told me that he would do me whenever, and wherever, he wanted. He lifted my skirt up, took off my panties, and started licking my pussy. I moaned loudly because I knew that there was nobody left to hear me in the office. After eating me out, he inserted a finger in me, and moved it in and out to torture me. I begged him to take me after he inserted another finger inside. Nodding, he inserted his cock inside me and I was shocked. It was huge and I felt really full. He started pumping me hard and fast as I madly kissed him. I moaned so loudly because I didn't care if someone was listening anymore. When he was about to come, he asked if he could blow his load in me. I said yes. It felt so good. As we fixed ourselves up, I turned around to see if anyone had seen us. I saw the half open door so it was possible someone had seen us do the nasty. It turned out to be exactly the case. As we left his office, a janitor passed by and smiled at me.

Alodia
Gosiengfiao

Alodia Gosiengfiao can do anything. And we're not referring to her famous talent for transforming herself into uncannily accurate renditions of seemingly anyone from the who's who of anime and video game land. We were just wrapping the shoot up when Alodia excitedly asked us a favor. She'd been eyeing the bright red piano in the living room for some time, and asked if she could play it for a bit. Of course, we said, and she launched into a flawless rendition of the Final Fantasy theme.

For those of you who don't play video games, she performed the Game of Thrones opening as well. She plays by ear, we are told. She's a gifted child; a wig-donning, contact wearing version of a Promil kid perhaps?

While admiring her newly revealed musical prowess and thinking how unfairly talented she is, we realized that though Alodia is our undisputed cosplay queen, she could easily have been known for something else. To add to her artistic side, a burst of her youthful impetuousness turned her into an accidental cheerleader, before another equally impulsive move led to her discovering the hobby that has taken her from otaku forum idol, to an internationally known star. Great things, or millions of page views, happen when Alodia decides to do something, anything on impulse. What if she decided to stick her pretty bottom behind a piano and call it a day? We're glad she picked the more photographed path instead.

How she combines the status of being the face of anime fandom and manage to remain blissfully unaware that she has the stuff to pull in more than a couple of 100 Sexiest votes is crazy. And the blithe and cheerful spirit that Alodia has in spades is the last thing we ever hoped to find from someone known for looking like a perfect human doll. Dolls are supposed to be beautiful but hollow and uninspiring, too fragile to actually live with. Alodia is more like what you'd expect to get from one of those ideal anime girlfriends–those who are too ideal to exist. It's not possible for someone to simultaneously have achingly perfect looks, be disarmingly shy but extremely popular yet down to earth save for an imagined character, right?

Which happens to be what Alodia is very, very good at playing. But to us, the best role she can possibly play is simply herself.

This is herself.

Cosplayer-model-artist-singer-etc. You are quite the multi-hyphenate. How does it feel to add FHM cover girl to your achievements?
Of course, I'm honored, though I didn't really expect I'd be doing it soon. I'm very shy, so it took a while for us to think about it–but finally I'm here!

Was it really that difficult to decide on?
For quite a while, the first invite I got was three years ago. And I wasn't ready then, I was still in college. And very, very shy!

Did the fact that you've already placed twice on our 100 Sexiest list help nudge you toward saying yes?
Of course. But I must admit, I had no idea how I made it to the list—it's so funny. Ha ha! I'm very thankful that at least people nominated and even believed I was qualified.

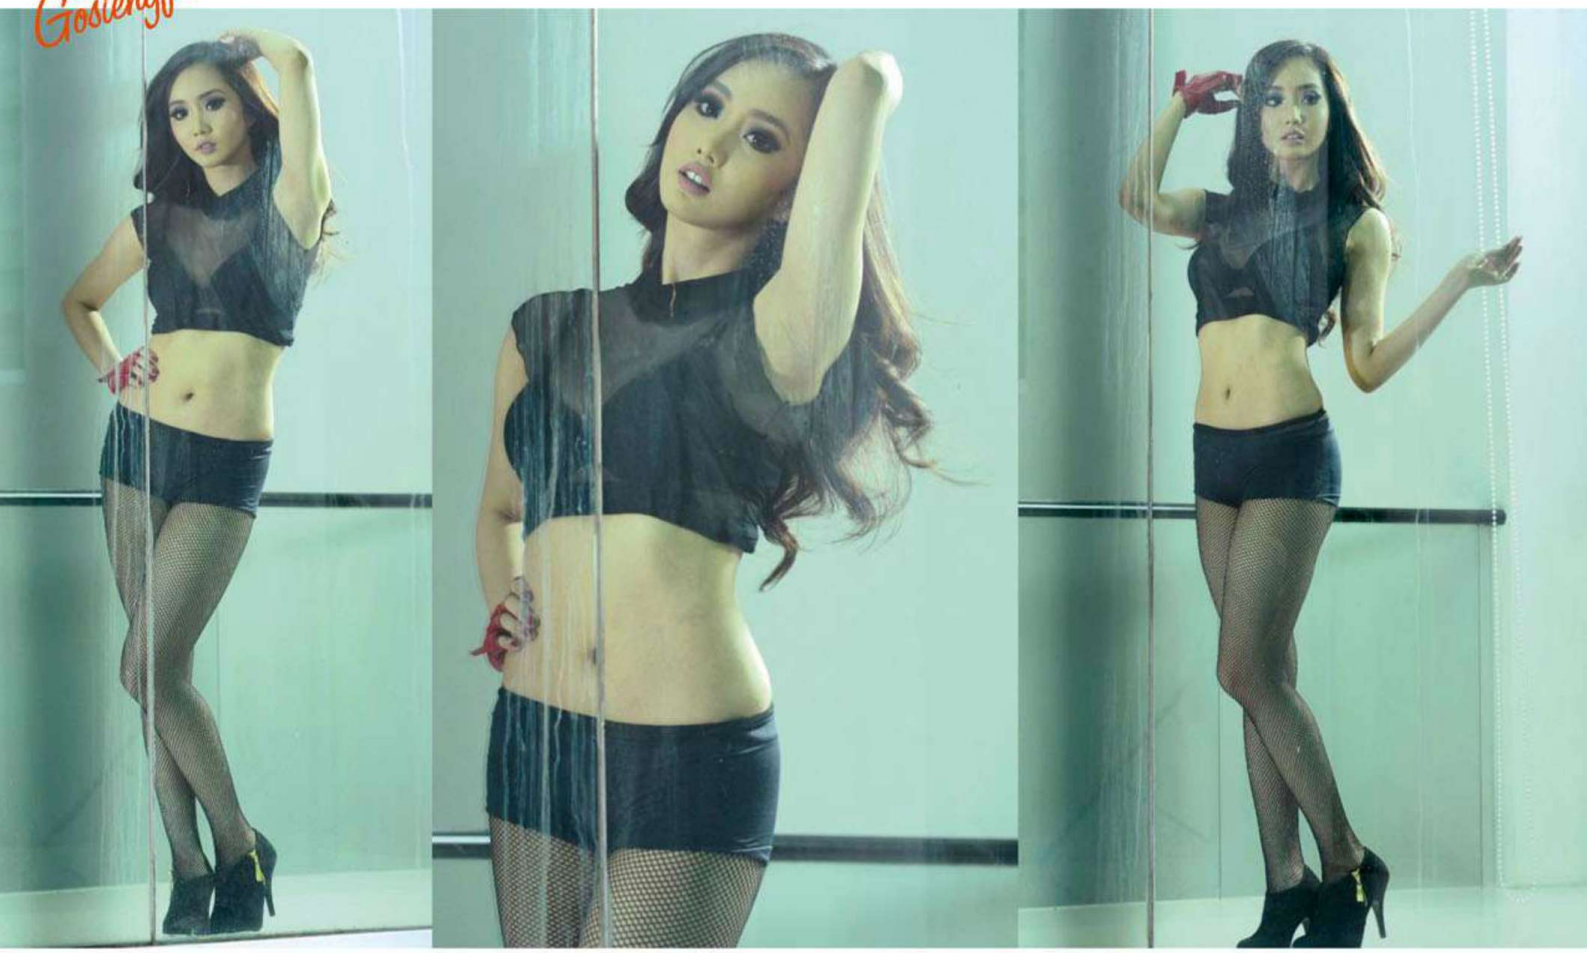
How did you find out you made it?
Through Facebook and Twitter. People posted things like, "Hey, please vote for Alodia." Then I clicked the link and was shocked to see my name on the list. It's actually cute; I was, like, "Aww, thank you."

You really had no idea that fans thought you were worthy?
None, really. It was something I didn't expect.

Based on our "observations," cosplay and anime fans tend to be nerdy or geeky males. Is this true?
Actually there is a difference between nerdy and geeky. Most of them call themselves geeks or otaku—anime fans and gaming fans. But I think the world is changing—sometimes we see geeks now as "cool." Like the founder of Facebook, Mark Zuckerberg—for me he's cool. I think geeks are really cool right now.

So does that mean you go for the geeky guy?
Of course! When I see guys who are extremely buff...yeah, they look good but for me geeky guys are cuter, ha ha! It's my personal preference.

Alodia Gosiengfiao



Is it a plus if they like animé, too?
Well, I don't really want to push them to like it—it's not a requirement. I just want them to at least respect what I do. I like doing cosplay, I love video games, and I hope they don't mind that I do that. I have other friends, they have boyfriends, or whatever who tell them, "Hey, you stop cosplaying." That's not so nice.

Hold on, how much of a gamer are you? You don't mean gaming as in Candy Crush right?
I used to have a lot of time to play games! Right now, I don't have time but before, when I was in high school—okay, kids don't try this at home, ha ha!—I'd wake up at 5 a.m. for school, get out 5 p.m., and then I have cheerleading training after. So I finish 9 p.m. And then when I get home, I sometimes skip dinner. I sleep at around 9 p.m.-12 p.m. Then I wake up at midnight and play video games until 5 a.m.!

You don't eat, you don't sleep, and you don't...study?
Ha ha, I do sometimes! I listen during class. I draw and listen at the same time.

Cheering didn't beat the heck out of you?
Sometimes, I looked like a zombie but I got used to it in time.

Anime, video games, and cheerleading–you'd be the perfect girl for a lot of guys.
I don't know. I hope so? Ha ha! Because I always thought I was odd... girls back in high school were into soirees and parties, I was the quiet one who stayed at home a lot playing games and working on artworks.

Are we missing something? Are you secretly a horrible girlfriend?
Something I find different [about me] is that I don't like opening gifts, ha ha! I like seeing them as is. I leave them wrapped. Two years and I still don't know what's inside. It's so funny! I still appreciate the gift of course—I guess I'm trying to save the best for last, so I don't want to spoil it.

Also, a cheerleader–that is shy?
Yeah, how did that happen? Ha ha!

Yes, are you hiding something?
Actually, it was my best friend who forced me to try cheerleading. We're super best friends since Grade 3—we'd been together the whole time. When it was time to join a club in high school, I didn't know which one to join. Normally, I joined the art club. I drew for the school magazine back in grade school. But she said: "Hey, join our club, I'll teach you the basics. It's actually quite easy." Of course, I went with her, I didn't even know what club it was. When I got there, she was, like, "Go, do the cartwheel. Show them what you've got." I knew how to do a cartwheel [because I also took up ballet back in grade school]. And then she taught me a few steps—I didn't know it was cheerleading! Everyone wanted to get into the cheerleading team because it was like a Pop U crowd. But me, I didn't take the tryouts seriously—and then I got in, ha ha! The other girls who wanted it didn't get it. I was really wondering why I got it.

Chalk it up to natural talent?
Maybe, or maybe because I was always overflowing with energy, ha ha!

With how that story went, we imagine it would have been easier to convince you to get on our cover–or to do anything for that matter.
No, not all the time, ha ha! It was only because we're friends and I trusted her. But now do my I research before I do anything, ha ha!

Going to what you are famous for–cosplay, do you consider it "work"?
It really started out as a hobby, but now it's what I do full-time. Technically it's work but I still treat it as a hobby. I don't really consider it work because I enjoy what I do, I don't really mind even if I feel tired. I mean physically, I go 20 to 30 hours straight without sleep, airport-shoot-airport. I hardly go home. But it's okay because I find it really fun.

How do you cope up with the schizo weather that we have? Smell good, no matter what!
Our weather can sometimes be as fickle as a girl's mind and you can't really tell what to expect when you go out of the house, even if you have planned your day ahead. Umbrella moments with your dream girl might pop up any time and you have to be all ready for that once in a lifetime moment. You surely do not want to look and smell lousy on that particular moment and the bad weather is also not an excuse. You are to leave an impression, make sure you're leaving a good one.
Don't forget to take a bottle of Blackwater Elite Homme with you just like TV Host/ Singer Christian Bautista. Christian loves Blackwater Elite Homme's inviting, warm and masculine scents that take his personality into a whole new level. It has an array of masculine scents with a sharp blend of striking contrast which women will definitely find extremely alluring and irresistible. How did you discover cosplaying?
It happened online; I was part of a forum called Anime Club. Someone posted an announcement saying that there was a video game launch called "Ragnalaunch." It was the launching of Ragnarok Online. They told me about this costume competition: cosplay. We didn't even know what cosplay was, and we'd never attended a competition before. Anyway, we prepared a costume. I went with my sister and my cheerleader mate—I was able to have her come with me, ha ha! There were three of us at the convention and that's when we found out how a convention was like—you go up on stage, perform a little, and then win something. Unfortunately my sister and I didn't win, but my friend did! Even if that's how things turned out, I enjoyed it a lot. And it all started from there.

Did it lead to a moment where you thought, "Wow, I'm famous."
I don't know. Everything happened gradually—it didn't happen overnight. My Facebook page has 1.8 million Likes, I think...

FHM*'s page has 1.3...
Ha ha! I started that from zero. I still manage the page myself, I don't let anyone else manage it. Until now, I'm the admin of the page and I find it really heartwarming to see it grow more and more. And before Facebook, I also had Deviantart [an art sharing site]. Before I did cosplay, I used to draw a lot and post my artwork. I was really happy when I got two likes, or 10 likes—that was a big deal. Now I get more Likes, ha ha!

It seems people adore anything you do-like that famous "Gwiyomi" vid...
That was a very funny experience. YouTube is actually my most inactive account. I just post whatever I have, I don't give it much time. And then a lot of people would post on FB and Twitter requesting me to do a "Gwiyomi" video. I didn't even know what it was, so I researched—of course, I do my research these days, ha ha! And then I saw the girl was just pointing to her face. So I said, okay, I'll grant their request. I was in Dubai then, we had an event there. So before I left the hotel, I made a video—very fast, with no lighting. I knew I even got the steps wrong—then I posted it and left. When I got back, people started leaving comments. It already had several thousand views. The next day the views multiplied. It was on the news—GMA, ABS, TV5—everywhere! Then when I got to the airport the security guards were calling me Gwiyomi. They didn't even know my real name, but they knew me as Gwiyomi, ha ha!

Do people often recognize you out of costume now?

I think because of the "Gwiyomi" video I was known outside of cosplay, which was really unexpected. Before that, only some people who really follow me on FB and Twitter knew me.

Any fan trouble? Obsessed stalkers?

There are a few, but nothing really grave. One time, someone threw a gift in our backyard, and landed in the garden. Things like that. Some slip in notes, letters. Which is okay with me. I get flattered because it means they like our work.

How about unusual requests?

"Gwiyomi" live? Ha ha! No, nothing out of the ordinary. They're very respectful.

You're also reaching out to more people with your other work, your "real work" would you say?

That would be my regular shoots. It's out of responsibility or obligation that I do those things. I tape for Animax Asia—it's based in Singapore but we shoot in the Philippines—then they air regionally in Asia. So when I go to Malaysia some people recognize me, and it's flattering. Now I'm also a regular on GMA's I-Bilib. They call me a "regular guest" because I'm always out of the country. When I'm here, I shoot with them, when I'm not, it's alright with them. I just can't have a super everyday job here.

Is it something you're thinking about, though? Like becoming an actress?

Yes, of course, I want to try it. I've done Kimmy Dora and the Temple of Kiyeme, with Ms. Eugene Domingo. That was my first official movie. We shot in Korea and it was snowing!

You must need new passports often with all that travel. Just how often do you fly out?

Every week or every other week. Sometimes every weekend because events happen on the weekends. Like, I just got back from Malaysia, and at end of the month I was supposed to go to Turkey—but it got cancelled. After that I'm going to LA, San Diego, Japan, Singapore…

Ever considered basing yourself abroad for a while?

I might have to stay in Japan for a while actually. I just launched an album that I recorded late last year. I have a contract in Japan, with a production outfit. They want to train me to become a singer.

You can sing in Japanese?

Yes, they need to teach me Nihongo. I'm learning a little, I took it up for a semester in college but you forget if you don't practice it.

Is this another thing on your bucket list, becoming a singer?

Well, everything that's happening right now, I never planned. My dream before going into cosplay was becoming an illustrator or a concept artist for a video game like Final Fantasy. I wanted to become a character designer or something But because of cosplay, I got to meet the artists behind different series like Final Fantasy and Blizzard who did World of Warcraft and Diablo.

Maybe go back to it after singing and cosplaying?

Well, it's an option, but I still want to be involved in cosplay. Because I've learned to love it and I don't see myself leaving the whole thing behind. Even if I couldn't cosplay myself, I'd want to help others start doing cosplay, so I started organizing events, featuring other people on my Facebook page.

How organized is the cosplay scene now? No bitching behind the scenes?

There will always be some issues, but I try to stay away because you get nothing out of it. Instead of spending two hours debating online, I'd rather spend two hours doing something productive.

Is that attitude the key to your success?

I don't know, I am still quite puzzled. Ha ha! I feel it's because I'm just one of the first few who did it about a decade ago. I really think that there are a lot of other cosplayers who are better than me. There are also so many who are prettier and sexier. Maybe I'm more insistent, and I just keep going, ha ha! All it takes is dedication to your craft. If you want something, give it your all. Pour everything into your work—your heart and your mind.

Including really role-playing the costumes you wear?

Yes. Cosplay is actually "costume role-play." You play the character, even the gestures and habits.

So are you playing a character for this shoot?

Sometimes! I act out to be someone sexy, because most of the time I'm just goofing around, ha ha!

More sexy characters soon please? More modeling out of costume?

Maybe not more FHM stuff yet because I'm very shy! I'm just thinking this is a cosplaying thing, ha ha! It's fun to take on different roles—I've been doing this for 10 years already—and it's nice to try something different! FHM actress and singer Roxanne Barcelo do titillating poses is the visual equivalent of a string orchestra playing heavenly melodies that induce pure ecstasy.

Watching

As she takes on a new persona in alter ego Roxee B, the former Click mainstay, PBB alum, and children's show host has debuted a new single called "WOW (Women of the World)," a danceable, fiery tune that's sure to keep the clubs raging with fist-pumping, stiletto-shredding rave rats. The sound is confident and, just like Roxee in this spread before you, penetrates the senses in a victorious assault.

"When I first heard the name Roxee B, I decided this woman deserves so much more. She deserves the best," she tells us, affirming the characteristics of her newfound identity. "It's about waking up the next day and believing in change. It's about knowing your worth. It's not about pleasing other people. Now, it's about what I want."

Denying Roxee B–whose roots began on the humble stages of a now-defunct television talent search–the opportunity to showcase this budding confidence would be a crime of repression. So here (and yes, you're most welcome, fine gents) we allow the former sweetheart to evolve into the contemporary woman she was always destined to be.

Most remember you from the teen show Click and PBB: Celebrity Edition. Can you recount to us how it is you got into the entertainment industry?

I went through auditions for a singing contest called the Metro Pop Star Search in 1998. I was the youngest in the batch. I was happy that I even won first runner-up.

What was the song that got you there?

It was a Disney song called "Part of Your World" from The Little Mermaid, ha ha! That's the song I chose because I wanted to be part of their world. I always wanted to be on TV ever since I was a kid. It's pretty amazing that I didn't win but was picked for the show Click.

Has singing always been your passion?

Singing has always been my first love. I started when I was eight. There are things that I sometimes can't say. There are things that get said through a song. I'm able to express myself more through singing and songwriting.

You've got a new single called "WOW (Women of the World)." What's the idea behind it?

The title came from my manager Jerome B. Smooth. When we [Q-York and J. Smooth] were producing the song, everyone was asking me what it was I really wanted to tell people. I thought that it was a difficult question, knowing what you want to express to your audience after doing stuff such as children's shows like Art Angel, which was fun and I even got an award for hosting it.

And did you find out what it was you wanted to communicate this time around?

If you listen to my lyrics, it says that I embrace every single thing I've done in my past. I even gave a shout-out to Big Brother, to Kuya. That's what I wanted to tell women. The song is "WOW" because it stands for Women of the World, but it could also mean Women of Worth or Women of Wisdom. It's about women having purpose. I really feel strongly about women right now…but not in that way! Ha ha!

What in your opinion makes a woman worldly?

You have to accept all the flaws you can call beautiful. It's about waking up the next day and believing in change. It's about knowing your worth. All the things you think are ugly or quirky, those are the things that make you special. It's not about pleasing other people. Now, it's about what I want.

Speaking of change, what made you finally decide to immortalize your womanhood here on the pages of FHM?

This is the direction my music is going. My new song is about being a confident woman. When I asked my best friend Marian [Rivera] why she made the decision to be on the cover of FHM, she answered, "Gusto ko lang!" and it was that simple. You have to honor, believe, and respect what it is you want in life.

Since you and Marian Rivera are BFFs, what is the sexiest thing about her that the world doesn't know about?

Wow! She's a lot of things and many things make her sexy. The thing that's on top is the fact that she is so loving. She is capable of unconditional love. That's the amazing thing about women: no matter how much we've been hurt, we can always bounce back and love again.

In the game of love, how should a man play it to win?

Know what your intention is. If the intention isn't true, the woman will see right through you. If we see and feel the good intentions, then we'll go for it.

We understand you've taken on this alter ego, Roxee B, for your music career. How has this affected your onstage persona?

When I first heard the name, I decided this woman deserves so much more. She deserves the best. She's able to do things I can't normally do, like this photo shoot for instance, ha ha. When I go onstage, I go all out, not caring what other people think. It's a passion I have never been able to showcase or let out. After doing this, I only hope for good things. FHM

1 GIRLS LIKE SEX TOO!

And 39 other bedroom truths every man should know

ILLUSTRATIONS: ROBBIE'S BROWN SHOES
WORDS: CHIARA CUI

Women don't need candles or scattered rose petals, and if cuddling is the best part, you're doing it wrong. The female orgasm is not a myth. It is alive and well and living inside your girlfriend's vagina, and lucky for you, there is no secret password, just 40 hard truths every man should know.

2 ON SPONTANEITY. Waiting until the weekend to get your freak on is about as exciting as getting your teeth cleaned. There are few things better than a spontaneous romp in the sheets. Ditch the candlelight dinner and get frisky with her in the laundry room.

3 MASTURBATION. Girls flick the bean more often than you think. If a girl knows how to pleasure herself, chances are she'll have—and will be—more fun in the sack.

4 MUSIC. If there is a singular, undeniable truth on Earth it's that no one makes baby-making music like Prince.

5 WANT SOMETHING A LITTLE MORE CONTEMPORARY? Thunderheist's "Jerk It," Cat Power's "I've Been Thinking," or D'Angelo's "Brown Sugar" does the trick too.

6 ONE-NIGHT STANDS ARE FUN BUT...

7 NOTHING'S BETTER THAN SEX WITH SOMEONE WHO KNOWS YOUR BODY.

8 EVERY ONCE IN A WHILE, EVERYONE NEEDS A LITTLE JUMPSTART. A little lube will go a long way. It'll take some of the pressure off of both of you. Don't let your ego get in the way of your lady having fun.

9 DON'T EXPECT GIRLS TO RIDE THE LESBO TRAIN FOR YOUR PLEASURE then get all homophobic when some gay kissing comes on the TV.

GOING ALL NIGHT IS OVERRATED. IF YOU'RE PUMPING AWAY FOR MORE THAN AN HOUR, IT'S LIKELY TO LEAVE HER BORED AND SORE.

11 FINGER BANGING. When it comes to the finger bang, don't just shove your digits in there like you're pulling food out of a clogged kitchen drain. You want to stimulate, not simulate a tampon.

12 SEX AFTER 30. Women typically reach their sexual peak at 30, so while bedding barely legals might be your ultimate fantasy, women in their thirties will probably show you a better time.

13 MIRRORED CEILINGS MIGHT HAVE BEEN YOUR IDEA OF THE EPITOME OF RAUNCH BACK WHEN YOU WERE 10, BUT IT IS TACKY AS F*CK. Get rid of the gimmicks, this isn't Miami Vice. Nothing turns a woman off more than narcissism in the bedroom. Check your ego before you get into bed.

14 CONDOMS. USE 'EM THEN LOSE 'EM. No one wants to play with soggy cum-filled rubber.

15 WHEN IT COMES TO THREESOMES, SOMETIMES THE FANTASY IS MUCH BETTER THAN REALITY. Try it once, but be prepared for disappointment. Real life ever rarely lives up to your porn star dreams.

16 THE G-SPOT. THE G-SPOT'S KIND OF LIKE AN INSIDE JOKE: HARD TO EXPLAIN, AND TO GET IT YOU'D HAVE TO HAVE BEEN THERE.

17 PHONE ETIQUETTE. Put the Candy Crush down. Nothing's more of a turn-off than a guy who can't put his phone down, especially post-coital.

18 WHISKEY DICK IS NOT SEXY. The reason why most one-night stands are forgettable. They start out promising but quickly devolve into a drunken mess ending with both parties not very satisfied. If you're looking to get lucky after a night out, keep the drinks to a minimum.

19 FOREPLAY, FOREPLAY, FOREPLAY. There's a reason "wham-bam" ends with "thank you, ma'am" and not with "sir." And it's not just the rhyming.

20 DIRTY TALK CAN BE FUN, BUT IT CAN STRADDLE THE FINE LINE BETWEEN FREAKY AND CREEPY. Know the difference.

22 THE IDEA OF REACHING CLIMAX TOGETHER IS GREAT AND ALL, BUT DON'T LET THE IDEA GET IN THE WAY OF YOU BOTH GETTING YOUR ROCKS OFF IF IT DOESN'T HAPPEN.

23 GET YOUR FREAK ON. All women have a dirty side, and if you show them yours, the more likely they'll be comfortable enough to show you theirs.

24 LESBIANS HOLD ALL THE ANSWERS. Having a hard time making her cum? Learn from the lesbians. Next time you're spanking the monkey, check out some amateur lesbian porn and take notes.

25 SEX IN PUBLIC CAN BE EXCITING, but stay out of the port-a-lets and bar bathrooms.

21

YOU CAN PRACTICE YOUR O-FACE ALL YOU WANT; THE TRUTH IS, NO ONE LOOKS GOOD WHEN THEY'VE REACHED CLIMAX.

Stare

With these derma-tested and vitamin E-enriched cosmetics from Ever Bilena, 'staring blankly' remains just a phrase for Daiana Menezes

Photography By: TM De Leon | Styling By: Niño S. Mas | Hair and Make-up By: Ever Bilena

You know how most people smile with their eyes? Some just have this amazing gift of letting their eyes/ stare do the talking for them. One glance and you'll know what she wants to imply. TV Host/ Actress Daiana Menezes is just one of the chosen few who has this gift. And to make it even more exciting, she bumps up this feature with amazing eye make-up that adds up to the exquisiteness of her stare. Hear it straight from this Brazilian beauty.

"If I'm in the mood for matte lids, I'd definitely look for my Ever Bilena Matte Eyeshadow pallete," shares Daiana, "I love how glowing my eyes look when I'm wearing shades from this palette," she added. It comes in duo, trio and quartet palettes which have highly-pigmented and long lasting shades of different varieties. Designed for your every need, each palette has fabulous combinations of warm and cool tones that are easy to wear anytime, anywhere!

"If I have nighttime affairs, I pick shades from my Ever Bilena 12 Shades Eyeshadow palette," Daiana gushes. It actually has a combination of frosted and matte eyeshadows that are perfect for both daytime and nighttime wear. It's enriched with vitamin E which keeps the skin around the eye area moisturized and glowing.

NEVER UNDER-ESTIMATE THE POWER OF A GOOD SPANK.

27 "HOOKER BATHS" AREN'T JUST FOR WOMEN. Make sure your hands, and cock, are clean before they go anywhere near your lady. UTI ain't fun.

28 LEARN HOW TO TAKE DIRECTION. If you've been at it for a while with no end in sight, let her get in control. She knows her body better than you do, let her show you how it's done.

29 DON'T TAKE YOURSELF TOO SERIOUSLY. Sex is supposed to be fun.

30 IF SHE'S GOING DOWN ON YOU, IT'S BEST TO LET HER KNOW WHEN ELVIS IS ABOUT TO LEAVE THE BUILDING.

31 WOMEN ENJOY PORN, TOO. Next time you want to spice things up in the bedroom, let her choose your viewing material. Besides, let's be honest, you're not very choosy.

32 PETS. IF YOU REALLY LOVED YOUR PETS YOU'D KEEP THEM OUT OF THE BEDROOM. They don't need that kind of trauma.

33 IF IT WERE POSSIBLE TO BORE SOMEONE TO ORGASM, THEN JACK-RABBITING YOUR WAY THERE WOULD BE A FEASIBLE IDEA. It's not. Get creative.

34 SEX IN THE SHOWER SOUNDS SEXY BUT IS RARELY EVER A GOOD IDEA. Combine awkward positions with slippery surfaces and things can go south very quickly.

35 SHAVING YOUR MAN-BUSH WON'T MAKE YOUR JUNK LOOK BIGGER, BUT A LITTLE TRIMMING GOES A LONG WAY. Your pubes have no place in her mouth.

36 DICK PICS. Acceptable only if your name ends with Weiner.

37 ANAL. SOME WOMEN LOVE IT, SOME HATE IT, SOME SHIVER AT THE VERY THOUGHT OF IT, ALL OF THEM HAVE THOUGHT ABOUT IT AT SOME POINT. If you're both ready to explore the nether regions, make sure you've got lots of lube.

39 GET LOUD. WE DON'T MEAN YOU SHOULD WAKE UP THE NEIGHBORS, BUT SILENCE DURING SEX CAN GET A LITTLE CREEPY. Women dig a little caveman grunting sometimes.

40 ONLY 30 PERCENT OF WOMEN ACHIEVE ORGASM THROUGH PENETRATION. This means your standard missionary position is not going to cut it.

MODEL, VJ, DJ, AND ROCK VOCALIST JULZ SAVARD MAKES MALE SWOONING INSTANTANEOUS

PHOTOGRAPHY: Ejay Leung of Midnight Bonkers

WE NORMALLY FIND IT INAPPROPRIATE (READ: GAY) TO QUOTE MARILYN MONROE. BUT WHEN SHE SAYS, "HOLLYWOOD IS A PLACE WHERE THEY'LL PAY YOU A THOUSAND DOLLARS FOR A KISS, AND 60 CENTS FOR YOUR SOUL" AND OUR PAINFULLY PRETTY MODEL SUBJECT AGREES SO, WE SAY: TO HELL WITH VIRILITY. MARILYN IS THE PEG!

HERE IS JULZ SAVARD—HALF FRENCH, PINOY BIG BROTHER TEEN EDITION ALUMNA, MYX VJ, RADIO JOCK, EVENTS HOST, AND FRONTWOMAN FOR ROCK BAND SAVE ME HOLLYWOOD, WHO CLAIMS SHE HAS BEEN "PULLED AND TWISTED AND PUSHED IN SO MANY WAYS, FROM SHOWBIZ TO MODELING TO THE MUSIC INDUSTRY." TRUE, SHE MAY HAVE BEEN THROUGH MORE DIFFICULT PHASES THAN THE CRAZIEST CANDY CRUSH LEVELS A WOMAN IN HER EARLY 20S WOULD NORMALLY WHINE ABOUT, BUT HERE SHE IS, EMERGING BY ANY MEANS A ROCK STAR WORTHY OF ADULATION. AND IT'S SO MUCH MORE THAN THOSE LONG HOT LEGS...

YOU DO A LOT OF THINGS. ONE OF THEM IS BEING IN A BAND. WHICH CAME FIRST: MODELING, VJING, DJING, OR THAT?

You'll never have guessed it but modeling and acting came first. I first joined Miss Teen Philippines back in 2006. I was signed to Star Magic, went through workshops, and did a bunch of guestings. A year later, I joined MYX and became a VJ. That's where I found out I had a knack for hosting.

WHAT'S NEXT?

I decided to get into more serious modeling and more serious acting. I'm getting back into theater and doing independent films. Even if they won't land me on the cover of a magazine or earn me endorsements, they'll give me pride and a sense of self.

BY SERIOUS, DO YOU MEAN CONSCIOUSLY VEERING FROM PA-TWEETUMS ROLES? WE HEAR YOU WERE ALSO PART OF THE PBB TEENS IN 2010.

Pa-tweetums talaga ako dati. But you know, you go through life and realize that not everything's as brilliant and as pretty as people would say it is. That's the reason I said, okay, I'm going to do my own thing. I'm going to color my hair the way I want, I'm going to have tattoos, I'll sing in a band. People would call it being a rebel but I call it learning to be myself.

WHICH MEANS?

This is what I'm comfortable with now. If showbiz opens its doors to me again, I would, but this time I won't compromise. I do want to be on the same level as the actresses and hosts that I see on TV, but I wouldn't want to wake up one day and look in the mirror and say, "That's not you." Fame will come and go but respect stays forever. I guess that's why my main passion became music.

IS SAVE ME HOLLYWOOD YOUR FIRST BAND? HOW DID YOU GET IT INTO IT?

I'd been training vocally until I was 16. When YouTube wasn't a big thing yet, I would post a lot of covers and get feedback. I joined MYX because I wanted to get into the music industry. Dun ko nakilala si Calde [Calderon, Chicosci bassist], who does behind the scenes work at MYX, and he asked me if I could do vocals for a new band. Three years down the road, here we are. We've launched an album last month. Besides that, I've been doing other music projects. I've been working with Champ Lui Pio and Rez Toledo (Somedaydream). I just do a lot musically.

PEOPLE SAY YOU GUYS SOUND LIKE PARAMORE. YOUR THOUGHTS?

Maybe that's just because of the fact that Haley [Williams, of Paramore] and I kind of have the same tone of voice if you hear us talk, and because I'm a female in an all-guy band.

DID YOU WRITE THE SONGS FROM THE ALBUM? WHAT SORT OF THINGS DO YOU WRITE ABOUT?

I don't musically arrange them, but I write all the lyrics and the melodies. I wrote about an ex for one song—not exes because I'm not like Taylor Swift, ha ha! The album is very personal to me in a sense that it was written when I was 18-21 years old, which is such a vulnerable time for a girl. If you listen to it from start to end, it's a struggle, a journey within myself. Because I've been pulled and twisted and pushed in so many ways, from showbiz to modeling to the music industry. It's my story to tell, and that's the reason the album's called Your Story to Tell. If you listen to the album you're practically my closest friend.

SEX, DRUGS, AND ROCK 'N' ROLL: IS IT PURELY MYTH OR ARE YOU ABOUT TO MAKE A TESTIMONIAL?

It's there but it doesn't mean you have to do it to be a rock star. My bandmates keep me so grounded and protected. They tell me to just be me and that I don't have to be the girl na, to put it in layman's terms, gustong sibakin ng lahat ng lalaki; that I'm respected. I'm thankful for that.

CONSIDER THIS OFF THE "GUSTONG SIBAKIN" TOPIC BUT...WHAT'S YOUR TYPE?

I love scruffy-looking guys. Sabi nga ng friends ko—yung mga tipong hindi naligo kahapon. Ha ha! Maybe I see myself in them. I like the badass, not necessarily the bad boy. I like a guy with values but who has that swag, angas, about him. That's very attractive to me. I try to veer my sights toward the more responsible boys—you know, like lawyers or doctors. But I don't think that's going to happen because I don't think they will understand me. Ha ha!

LASTLY, WHAT CAN WE SAVE YOU FROM?

There's this misinterpretation that I'm some kind of a hot mess. I'm not. I go to sleep at 10 p.m., I read books, I wear glasses for crying out loud. I used to be an ugly duckling, you couldn't take a picture of me before. This is just all stored confidence through the years, broken down by a lot of insecurities. Ha ha! FHM

THIS MODERN LOVE

SASSY GIRLS FRONT WOMAN STEPHANIE TAN USES HER SWEET ASSETS TO TAUNT US EVERY CHANCE SHE GETS. WE'RE MORE THAN HAPPY TO BE ON THE RECEIVING END

PHOTOGRAPHY: Paolo Pineda
INTERVIEW: Anton D. Umali
STYLING: Pat Ragadio For StyleList Inc.

AS THE LEAD FOR A NEW GIRL GROUP CALLED THE SASSY GIRLS, STEPHANIE TAN HAS ONLY JUST BEGUN WRAPPING YOU, YOUR FRIEND, AND YOUR FRIEND'S BROTHERS AROUND HER PRETTY LITTLE FINGER. WITH AN ANGELIC FACE THAT'S COY RATHER THAN HOLY, THE CREAMIEST SKIN YOU'LL EVER SEE, AND A POUT THAT WILL TAUNT YOUR INNER ANIMAL, SHE'S READY AND RARING TO BARE HER BODY AND SOUL IN A DANCE OF UNADULTERATED PASSION.

SHE SAYS, HOWEVER, THAT FOR HER SEXUAL SIDE TO TAKE LIGHT, SHE NEEDS TO BE IN LOVE WITH THE PERSON BEFORE HER. WHETHER THIS IS A STATEMENT OF FACT OR A METHOD OF SEDUCTION IS HARD TO DECIPHER, BECAUSE AS MOST DUDES WITH CASES OF BLUE BALLS WILL TELL YOU, THERE ARE GIRLS WHO LIKE TO TEASE...

IT'S YOUR FIRST TIME TO POSE FOR A MEN'S MAGAZINE. WHAT'S YOUR DEFINITION OF SEXY?

Sexy kasi, for me, maski hindi sobrang labas yung skin pero sa theme, sa look, dun pumapasok sa akin ang sexiness. Siyempre mas ma-po-portray mo ang sexiness when it comes from within. Parang ma-fi-feel din nung mga mag-s-scroll nung photos o magbabasa nung magazine na, "Uy! She's sexy!"

WHAT DO YOU FIND ATTRACTIVE IN THE OPPOSITE SEX?

Sa akin kasi it's being jolly, yung makulit. For me, that's sexy. Nagkaroon ako ng mga boyfriend before that weren't hunks, they weren't macho. They were chubby and they were cute.

DOES A SENSE OF HUMOR ADD BROWNIE POINTS TO YOUR CHUBBY PROSPECTS?

Yes, a sense of humor plus being understanding.

CAN YOU TELL US HOW YOU WERE BAPTIZED INTO THE ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY?

I was doing commercials. I've been in different advertisements for telecom and deodorant brands. Stuff like that. Then when I needed to sustain my financial needs, I joined Wowowee.

AND WAS THAT GIG SUCCESSFUL?

I lasted for almost one year pero hindi ko siya kinaya kasi umuuwi ako ng Laguna. I was so tired and parang hindi siya worth it for me. Tapos nagagalit pa yung dad ko because I might get sick from exhaustion. So I stopped. Then luckily, my cousin's girlfriend was EB Babe Joy. So noong hiring for EB Babes, sabi niya sa akin, "Steph, if you want pasa ka sa akin ng resume mo." I did and I got in with the EB Babes.

WE UNDERSTAND YOU WERE ALREADY ABLE TO MODEL FOR THE 100 SEXIEST SHOW A COUPLE OF YEARS AGO.

I think that was two years ago. Ang saya and overwhelming nung feeling kasi I wasn't expecting that the EB Babes would be part of the 100 Sexiest. It was an honor.

YOU HAVE A GIRL GROUP CALLED THE SASSY GIRLS. WHAT SETS YOU APART FROM OTHER ACTS?

Yung Sassy Girls kasi kabubuo niya pa lang but we're more on the Moulin Rouge side, more burlesque. We do sing and dance, but more on the J-Lo style kami. Parang we're doing Latin. We sing but we also do sexy dance routines.

BURLESQUE IS NATURALLY SENSUAL. HOW DO YOU PROJECT THIS?

There's teasing involved. When I feel the music, it comes naturally from within.

DO YOU THINK GIRLS IN THIS DAY AND AGE HAVE MORE OF AN AVENUE TO EXPRESS THEIR SENSUALITY WITHOUT BEING JUDGED?

Nowadays naman dito sa Philippines, people are more open-minded. Communities are starting to embrace the importance of sexiness, though not fully yet.

WHAT'S THE BEST WEAPON YOU CAN ARM OUR READERS WITH WHEN IT COMES TO WOOING MODERN WOMEN LIKE YOU?

Just be yourself. Don't be too arrogant, don't be too shy.

AND HOW WOULD YOU DESCRIBE THE PERFECT KISS?

I don't know. Maybe, I would feel that if the perfect guy were the one who kissed me.

WOULD IT BE TORRID OR SWEET?

Sweet kind of kisses so I feel he really loves me. When it's torrid, it's more on the sexual side.

SO WHAT WILL IT TAKE FOR YOU TO BRING OUT YOUR SEXUAL SIDE?

I need to love the person. FHM

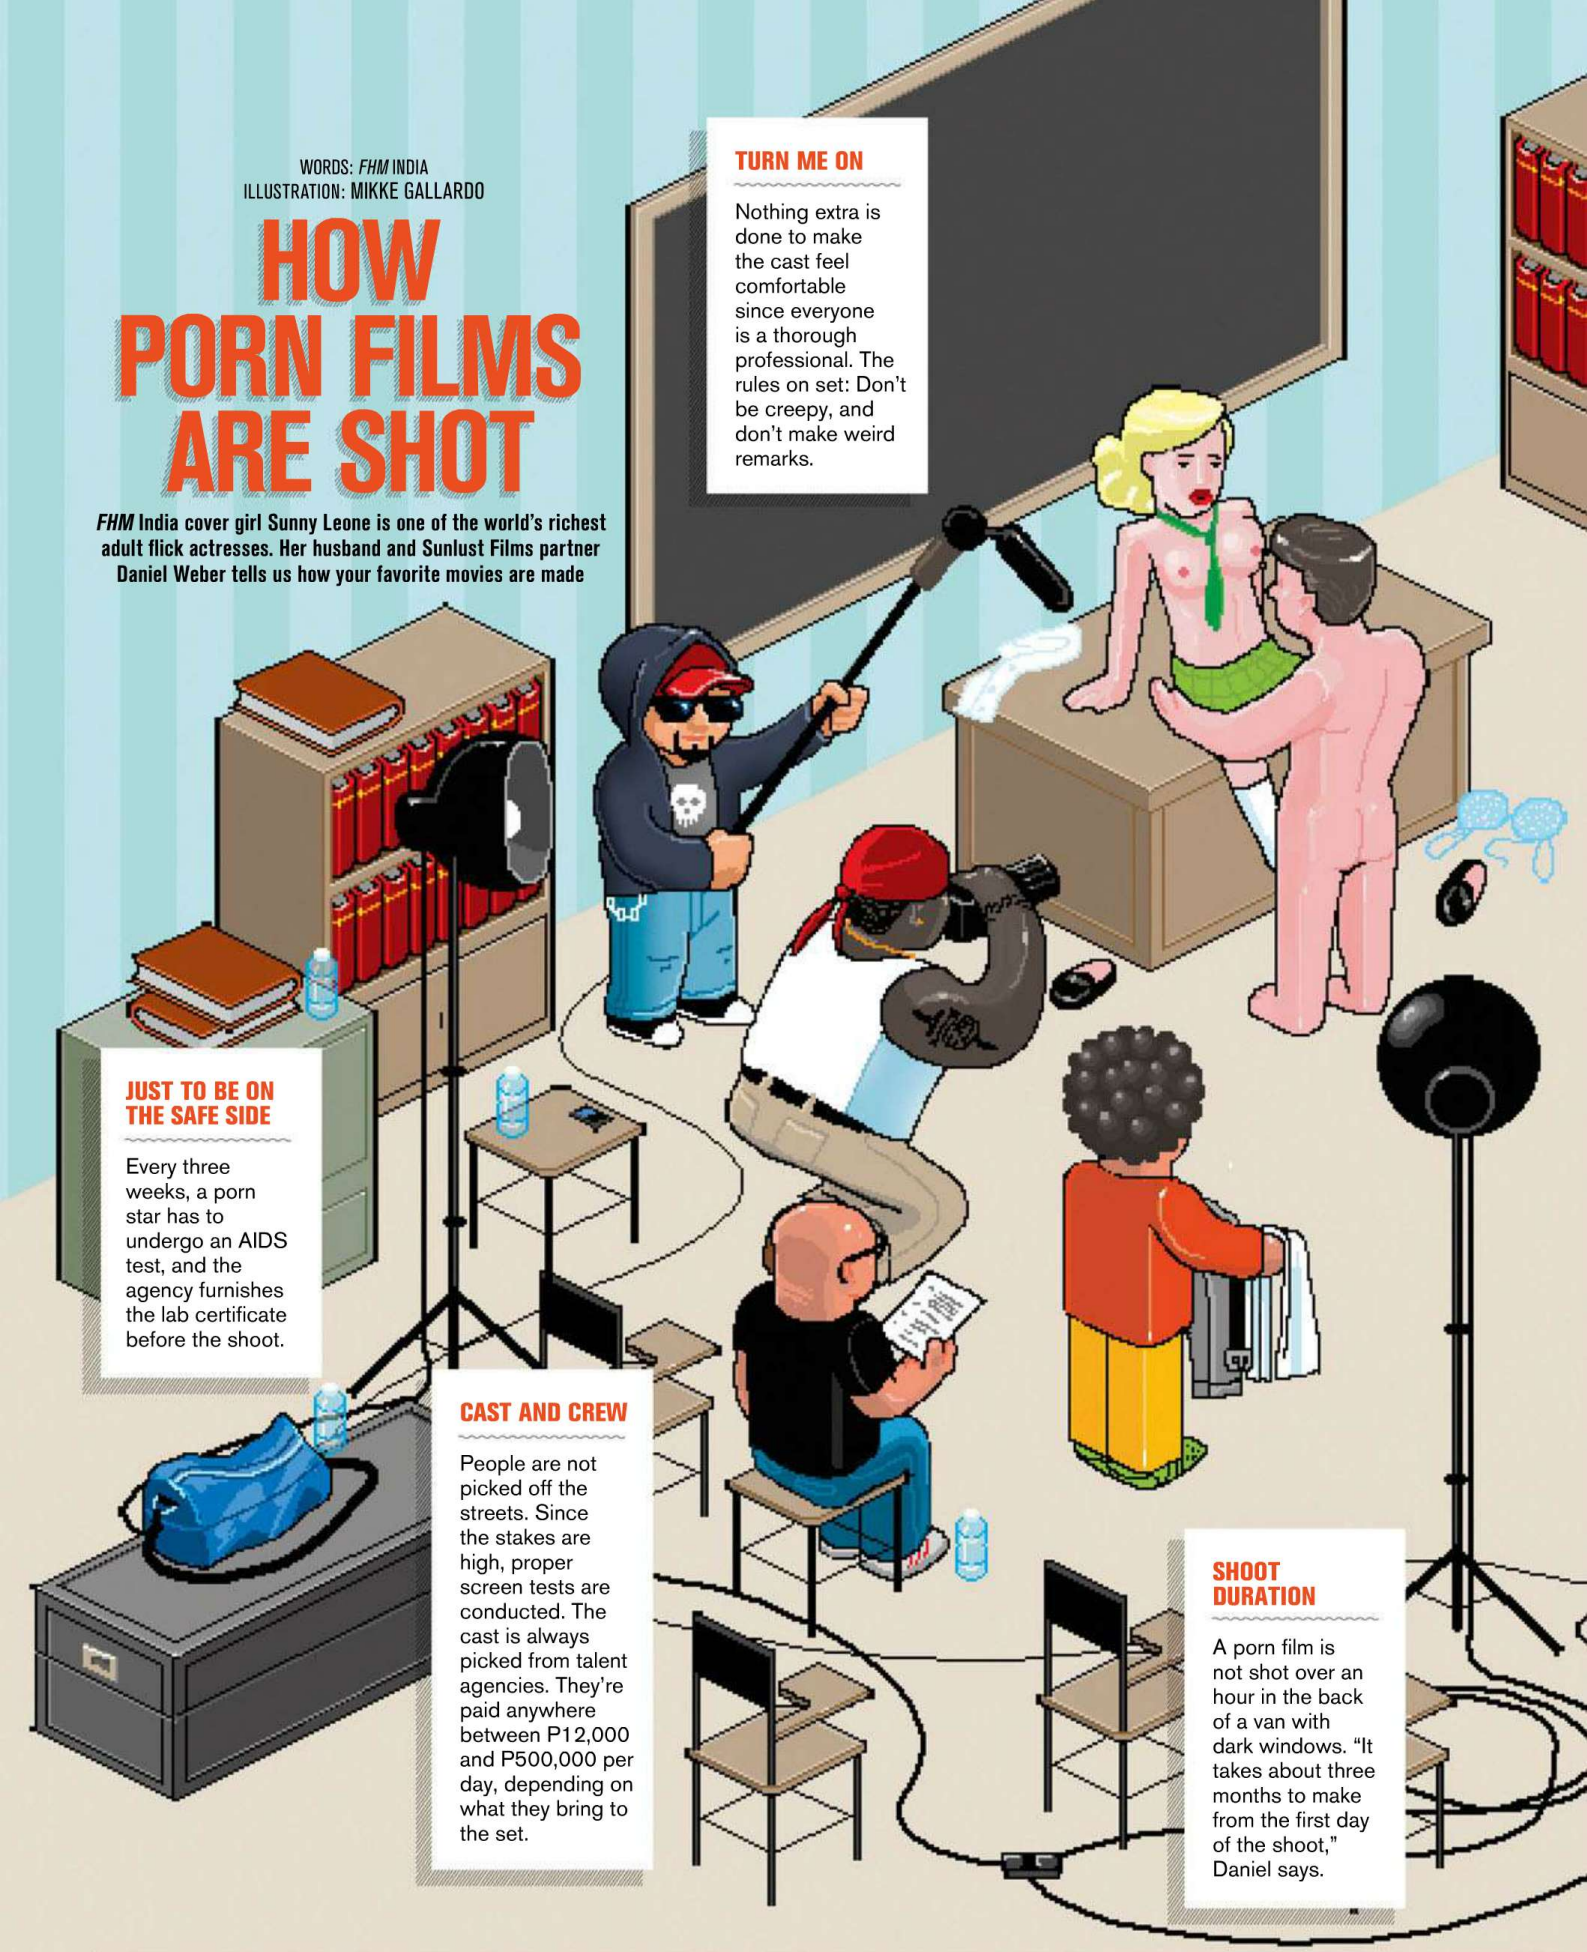
HOW PORN FILMS ARE SHOT

FHM India cover girl Sunny Leone is one of the world's richest adult flick actresses. Her husband and Sunlust Films partner Daniel Weber tells us how your favorite movies are made



TURN ME ON

Nothing extra is done to make the cast feel comfortable since everyone is a thorough professional. The rules on set: Don't be creepy, and don't make weird remarks.

JUST TO BE ON THE SAFE SIDE

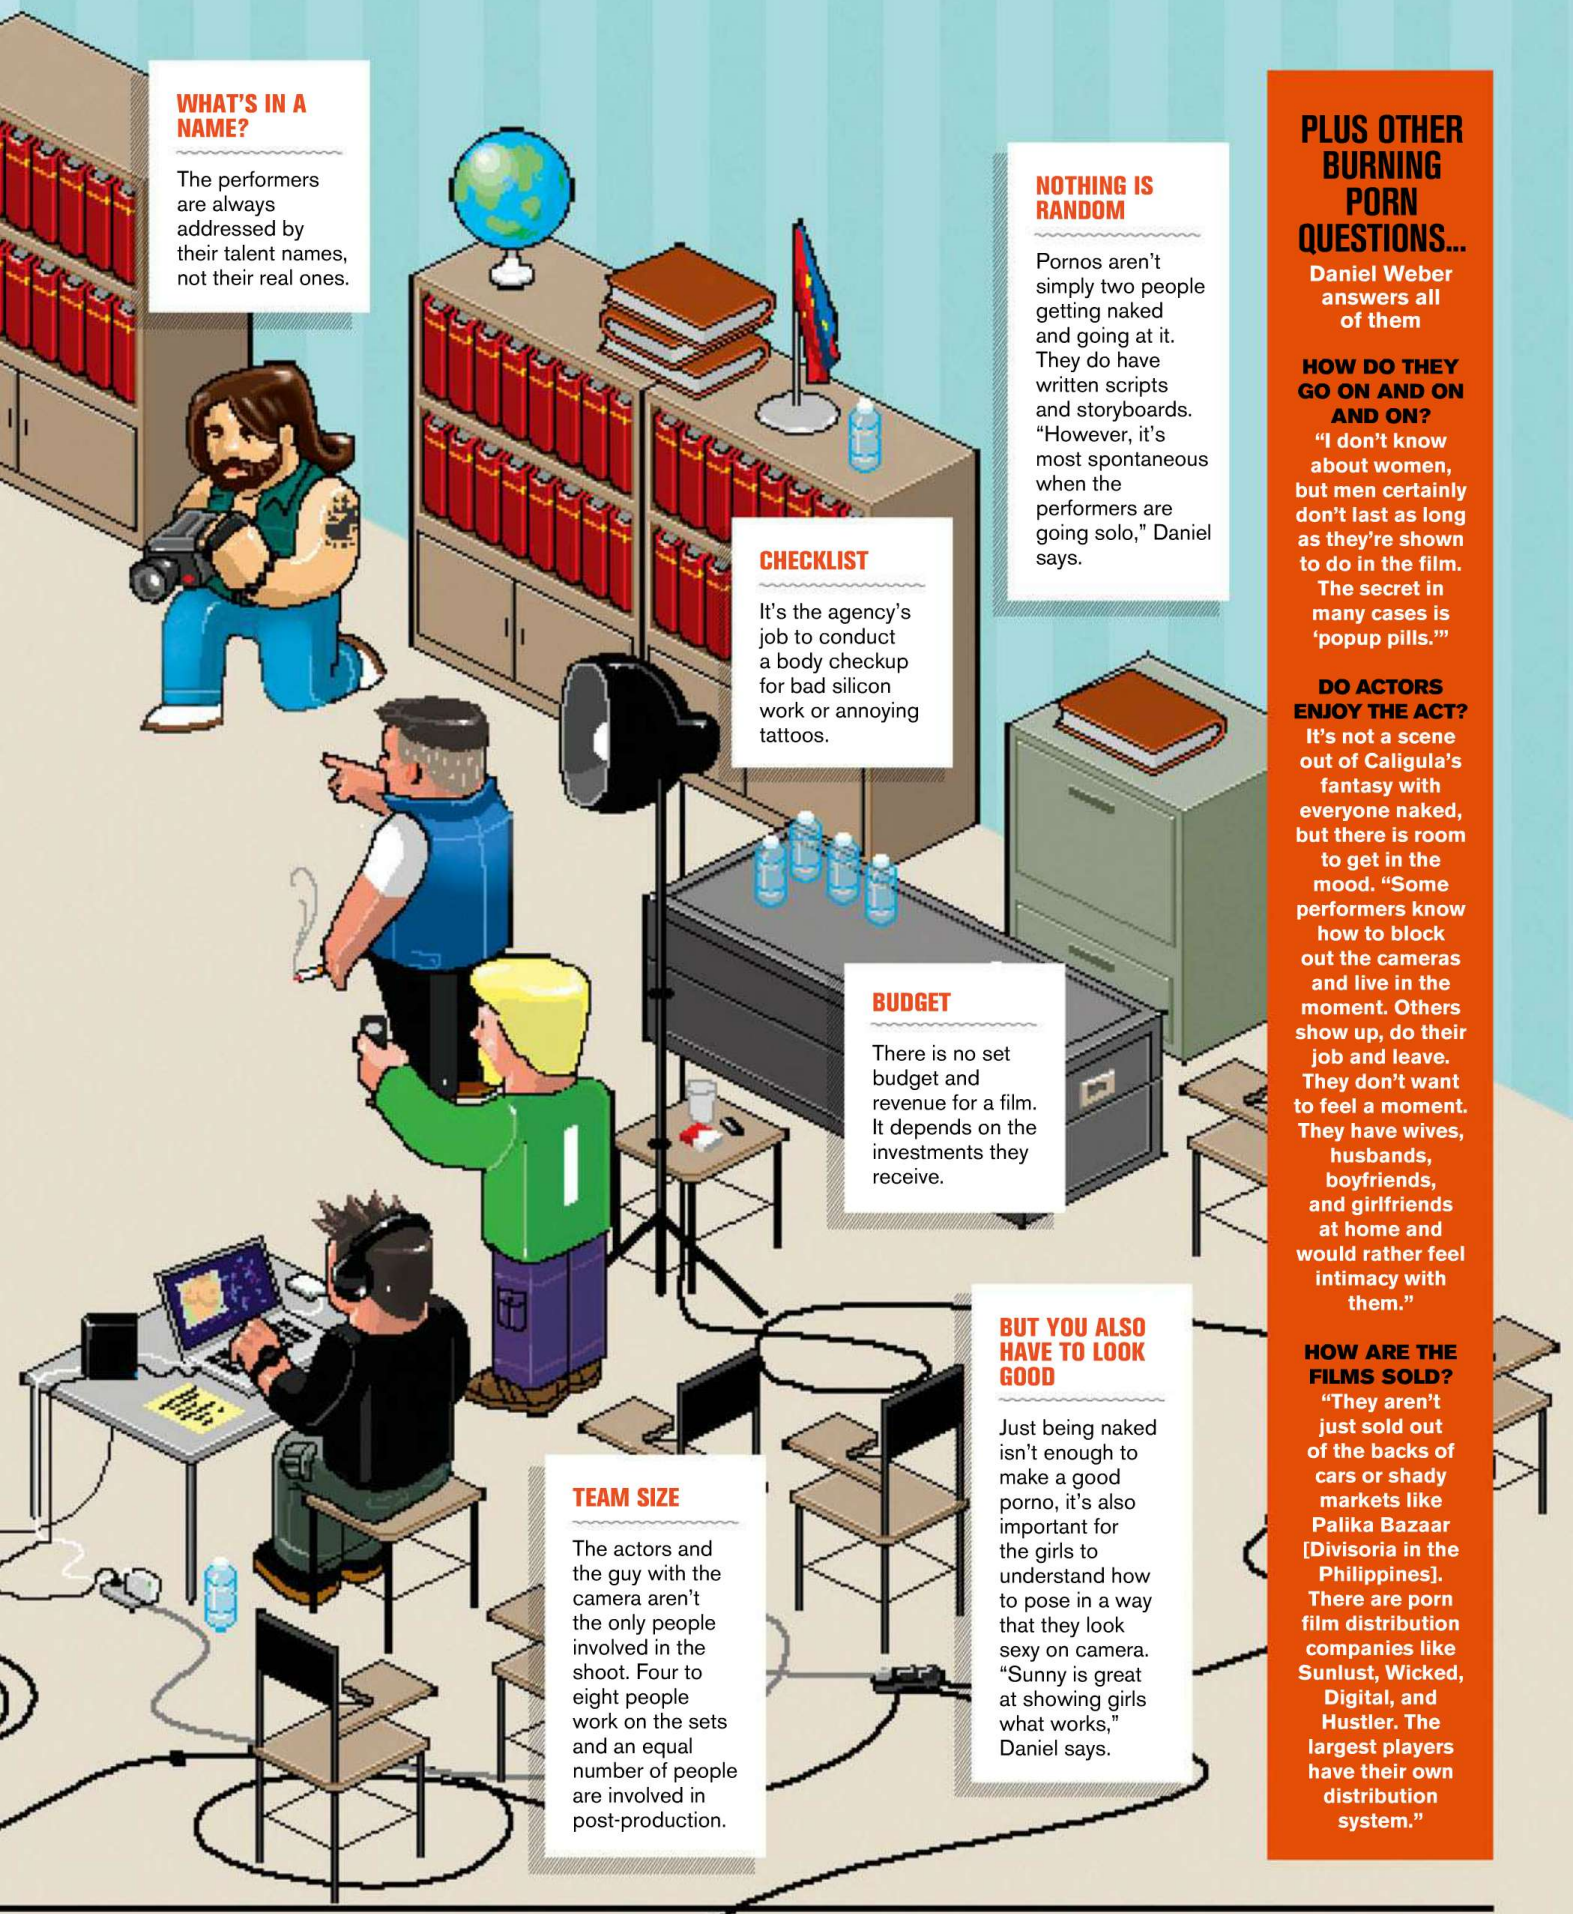
Every three weeks, a porn star has to undergo an AIDS test, and the agency furnishes the lab certificate before the shoot.

CAST AND CREW

People are not picked off the streets. Since the stakes are high, proper screen tests are conducted. The cast is always picked from talent agencies. They're paid anywhere between P12,000 and P500,000 per day, depending on what they bring to the set.

SHOOT DURATION

A porn film is not shot over an hour in the back of a van with dark windows. "It takes about three months to make from the first day of the shoot," Daniel says.



WHAT'S IN A NAME?

The performers are always addressed by their talent names, not their real ones.

CHECKLIST

It's the agency's job to conduct a body checkup for bad silicon work or annoying tattoos.

NOTHING IS RANDOM

Pornos aren't simply two people getting naked and going at it. They do have written scripts and storyboards. "However, it's most spontaneous when the performers are going solo," Daniel says.

BUDGET

There is no set budget and revenue for a film. It depends on the investments they receive.

BUT YOU ALSO HAVE TO LOOK GOOD

Just being naked isn't enough to make a good porno, it's also important for the girls to understand how to pose in a way that they look sexy on camera. "Sunny is great at showing girls what works," Daniel says.

TEAM SIZE

The actors and the guy with the camera aren't the only people involved in the shoot. Four to eight people work on the sets and an equal number of people are involved in post-production.

PLUS OTHER BURNING PORN QUESTIONS...

Daniel Weber answers all of them

HOW DO THEY GO ON AND ON AND ON?
"I don't know about women, but men certainly don't last as long as they're shown to do in the film. The secret in many cases is 'popup pills.'"

DO ACTORS ENJOY THE ACT?
It's not a scene out of Caligula's fantasy with everyone naked, but there is room to get in the mood. "Some performers know how to block out the cameras and live in the moment. Others show up, do their job and leave. They don't want to feel a moment. They have wives, husbands, boyfriends, and girlfriends at home and would rather feel intimacy with them."

HOW ARE THE FILMS SOLD?
"They aren't just sold out of the backs of cars or shady markets like Palika Bazaar [Divisoria in the Philippines]. There are porn film distribution companies like Sunlust, Wicked, Digital, and Hustler. The largest players have their own distribution system."

ON JUMPING FROM MUSICIANHOOD TO VARIETY-SHOW TANDEM HOSTING:

TEDDY: MAY DOUBTS DIN KAMI. PERO SI DIREK BOBET, PINAGLABAN NIYA KAMI SA MANAGEMENT. NA 'SINO BA 'TONG JUGS AND TEDDY? PALITAN NA LANG NG ARTISTA YAN. SABI NIYA "HINDI, TULOY ANG JUGS AND TEDDY. KASI ALAM KO MERON KAYONG MAGIC."

Were you close friends before Showtime?

Teddy: Nagkikita kami sa gigs…

Teddy: Kami? Noon yun, nung nagsisimula pa lang yung Rocksteddy, single pa kaming lahat. Nagkataon ding yun yung time na nag-boom yung band scene, so nagkakakitaan kami.

How are your individual bands holding up?

Jugs: Wala na disbanded na!

Teddy: Ang matitira na lang Jugs Jugueta, saka Teddy. Rocksteddy Corpuz. Parang Bamboo, tapos Bamboo Mañalac.

Jugs: Ha ha ha! Hindi. Okay pa naman kami. Sila kakalabas lang ng EP, kami naman, yung Itchyworms, maglalabas din ng bagong EP soon. May bago kaming single, "After All This Time" yung title.

Teddy: Ang title ng bago naming EP is Instadramatic. Kinompile namin lahat ng pictures na kinunan namin sa Instagram lang. Tapos yun yung ginawa naming front and back cover ng EP.

Jugs: Puro selfie! Ha ha ha!

Musicians hosting noontime shows are not typical fare. Did being paired off with each other help?

Jugs: Sa akin malaking tulong na andun siya, kasi first, may experience na siya sa showbiz. Nasa GMA siya before sa Sugo…

Teddy: Sa TV5 din, Idol Ko si Kap, saka Shock Attack.

Jugs: Yun, so malaking tulong for me na nandiyan siya. Sinasabi sa akin na, o ganito dapat, tapos ganyan. Tapos nagpa-practice pa kami ng spiels. Sinabi ko na rin sa kanya yun dati, "Pare, kung hindi ka natuloy dito, hindi ko kakayanin."

Teddy: Kasi originally meron kaming isa pang bokalistang banda na hindi natuloy. Nung nagkaka-back-outan na, nagsabihan kami ng, "Oy, pare, walang iwanan ah."

Jugs: Sinabi kasi sa aming kasama si Raimund [Marasigan] sa lineup, pero nung nag-mock shoot kami, wala siya. So kami, parang, "Oy, pano ba ito?"

Teddy: So tinanong namin humindi lang ba ngayon si Raimund o wala na talaga siya. Tapos sabi sa amin, hindi wala na talaga siya. Hindi na siya kasama, so nag-stick na lang kami together na, o kung san man tayo dalhin nito, wala nang iwanan.

What were other bands' reactions when they found out what you were doing?

Teddy: I think isang factor din kung bakit kami ganito ka-close right now, is because may ibang banda na hindi rin kami naiintindihan nung mga nagsisimulang panahon na yun, bands na medyo purist na, "Uy, dapat di kayo nag-ganito, sellout na kayo." For us, una wala kayo sa sapatos namin para sabihin yan.

Jugs: Tama!

Teddy: Yun din kasi yung time na sobrang boom pa yung bands. Baduy ka pag nag-TV ka.

Jugs: Ma-guest ka lang sa ASAP andami mo nang maririnig.

Teddy: Sa TV din kailangang mag-makeup, so baduy din yung makeup. "Uy naka-lipstick si rocker." Mga ganung eksena.

Jugs: Yung mga "Kala ko ba punks ka bakit ka naka-makeup?"

Teddy: Sino ba nagsabing punks ako?

SHOWTIME IS PRETTY BIG NOW. WHAT DOES THAT MAKE YOU?

Jugs: Actually! (to Teddy) Pare, I'm proud to say, nauna tayo kay Adam Levine. Nauna kaming mag-TV bago siya nag The Voice. So ngayon pag may banda ka tapos nag-TV ka, okay na kasi meron ang Adam Levine.

Teddy: Saka okay na kasi may Teddy Corpuz at Jugs Jugueta na. Pero dati hindi eh. Kami ang nag-set ng bar! Kami ang nag-set ng standards! Naks. Kaya ngayon meron na ring Kean Cipriano, di ba? Sino pa ba? Meron ding Rico Blanco! O di ba?

Jugs: Tapos may Bamboo!

Teddy: Oo nga 'no? Marami nang nag T-TV.

ON BEING GOOGLED INDIVIDUALLY AND SUGGESTED SEARCH RESULTS READING: "TEDDY RELIGION." AND "JUGS HEIGHT."

Jugs: Ako matagal ko nang sinasabi, si Teddy puwede maging pastor. O kaya pag matanda na siya, parang Gary V?

Teddy: Sa Twitter kasi active akong mag-share ng gospel.

Jugs: Ano ako, height? Hindi man lang weight 'no? Feeling ko, nagugulat sila kasi sa TV, parang mas maliit akong tignan. Kasi una, si Teddy matangkad sa akin ng one inch talaga. Pero palagi siyang naka-mohawk. Si Kuya Kim mas maliit sa akin pero parati siyang naka-hat. Sina Anne naka-heels, si Vice matangkad talaga. So parang lahat ng tao, pag nakikita ako in person, ang tangkad mo pala?

ON MINING THE JUGS AND TEDDY TANDEM WHILE IT'S STILL HOT

Teddy: Wala kaming plan actually, or may ideas lang pero wala pang initiative. Halimbawa, "Gawa tayo ng indie film, pare." May storya na, pero wala pang script. Kumbaga we want it to be as organic as possible, ayaw naming pilitan na let's do it habang mainit pa yung Jugs and Teddy. For us kasi, or for Rocksteddy or Itchyworms, we're here for the marathon. Hindi siya parang 100-meter sprint na pak! binigay mo lahat: nag-concert kami, nag-movie kami...

Jugs: Tapos tapos na. Hindi. Gusto namin parang Ogie Alcasid. Or Tito, Vic and Joey.

Teddy: Korek, pang long-term. So kung hindi siya dumating right now, okay lang, hindi kami nagmamadali.

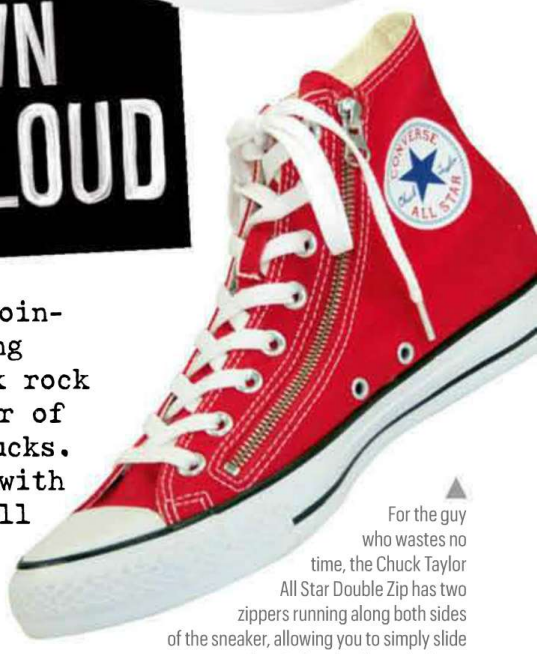
Kicking up the classic Chuck Taylor high-top silhouette, this charcoal gray pair boasts of a grunge look that spares you the trouble of trudging through mud and pavement to get that "I-don't-care-that-much" look. It still has the pearly-white rubber soles which—let's face it—is what really makes people look down and stare. Try these with a pair of distressed jeans and your favorite statement shirt.

The key to injecting some color into your footwear without going all Rainbow Brite is to go for the worn-out look. Take this Chuck Taylor All Star Flag: it has just the right amount of red, white, black, and blue to get you out of the goth crowd and into the more lively cool group. Not everyone looks good in all black. But this pair would be perfect with a vibrant tank top and a pair of walking shorts.

SHOES KEEP IT DOWN SNEAKERS GET LOUD

Save for the black eyeliner and groin-suffocating skinny jeans, nothing succinctly sums up the image of punk rock and its rebel followers than a pair of worn, beat-up, and personalized Chucks. Classic as they are contemporary, with new designs such as these, they'll add some much-needed edge to any outfit.

Putting a fun twist on the classic high-top Chucks you've grown to love, the good folks at Converse decided to put a zipper on the side to make it easier to put on or take off. Let's face it, not everyone has the patience for shoe laces. For guys who are always in a rush to get out the door, these Chucks might spare you the morning rush hour.



For the guy who wastes no time, the Chuck Taylor All Star Double Zip has two zippers running along both sides of the sneaker, allowing you to simply slide in, zip up, and go. Still in the classic high-top profile, they'll go well with your favorite pair of denims, khakis, or chino shorts when the temperature rises–sockless, of course. If sweaty feet worry you, skip the foot powder and go for everyone's secret: footsocks.

Just when low-cut, white-soled, and black canvas Chuck Ts couldn't get any better, they decide to add some studs. Placed on the tongue, and lining the back coming up from the heel, the only way to wear and show off a pair like these is to go for a pair of knee-length shorts. Chinos will work best. But if you really want to go all Jay-Z, try them with your best suit and tie. It says you're classy but don't really give damn.

For those who prefer footwear with a little bit of kick, these All Heel Stud Hi Chuck Ts may just be enough to give you that much-needed punk edge. Keeping the retro high-top silhouette, the black canvas makes a statement with some sick-looking studs on the tongue, and lining the back from the heel. For the preppy these definitely ain't. Sport a pair with your favorite dark denims and you'll be ready for the night ahead.

ON THE KIND OF PARODIES THEY WRITE:

USUALLY MGA NAGHIHIWALAY, MGA NANUNUNGKIT NG PANTY, MGA MAGNANAKAW, MGA BADING, AT MGA ESTAPADOR NA BADING...

The two of you were in something called Kamote Club before becoming a tandem. What was that like?

Rex: Ang concept kasi ng Kamote Club, gag show sa radyo. Para siyang Bubble Gang o Tropang Trumpo, pero napapakinggan niyo lang.

Pakito: Nagsimula dun sa ensemble, tapos nagkaroon ng concept ng tandem. Iba-ibang DJs ang na-pair sa akin sa simula, kasi nung pumasok si Rex sa iFM, hindi pa siya DJ. Hanggang sa kinailangan ng pakulo na parody. Eh magaling siyang mag-compose at mag-areglo ng kanta...

Rex: Na-hire ako sa iFM in 2007, pero hindi as DJ—as spot producer, gumagawa ng jingles, commercials, jokes. Pero nung 2010, yun nga sabi niya, nangailangan sila ng tulong on-air para gawin yung ginagawa namin ngayon na pag-pa-parody ng kanta, pinagtambal kami tapos nag-click.

Do you get a lot of comparisons with fellow parody duos Moymoy Palaboy?

Pakito: Siguro nung una lang. Eventually nakita rin ng tao yung pagkakaiba sa ginagawa namin. Kasi sila nag-li-lip synch ng kanta. Tapos kami, binabago talaga namin yung songs.

Rex: Yung songwriting din, hindi lang ako gumagawa. Ideas namin pareho yung pumapasok sa song.

Your first famous/infamous parody was of the Charice song "Pyramid," which you titled, "Tira 'Mid." The KBP wasn't too happy about it. How many of your parodies to date are considered "controversial"?

Rex: Sa ngayon, yung "Tira 'Mid" lang yung medyo napansin ng KBP, kumbaga nadala na kami. So nag-iingat na.

Pakito: Ang sa amin lang kasi pag-parody, kumbaga sinasalamin niya yung mga nangyayari pero wala naman kaming bad intentions na mambastos o ano.

Rex: Nanggaling din kasi yun sa joke na, "*Para hindi ka magkatulo, gumamit ka ng tiramid: Tirahin mo yung...*maid." So ginawa lang naming kanta.

Rex: Meron na kaming clean version... Tira Goat.

Pakito: Kambing? Ha ha ha! Hindi, kumbaga sinigurado na namin na walang matatamaan...

Rex: Matatamaan na ano?

Pakito: Siguro unti-unti ring natanggap ng public na joke lang yun. Katuwaan lang naman. Pero yung mga sumunod namin na songs, medyo mas tame na.

How many parodies have you performed and written in your three-year run together?

Pakito: Sa music library ko siguro may 300 songs na ang nagagawa namin. Dati kasi sa Kamote Club, halos araw-araw kaming gumagawa ng songs, kasi araw-araw din kami on-air.

Rex: May time pa nga na dalawang songs yung kinakanta namin sa isang segment. Dati walang umuulit, pero naging sobrang dami na kasi nung songs, so iniikot namin. Yung ibang mga hindi nakapakinig noon, dapat marinig nila ulit.

ON WHY THEY HAVEN'T RELEASED AN ALBUM

Rex: Gusto rin namin magka-album, kaso aminado yung mga record companies na iba na yung sales ngayon. Mahihirapan silang sumugal sa mga DJs tulad namin.

Pakito: Pero maraming naghahanap ng album, akala nila meron na. Siguro sa ngayon sa Internet na lang muna. Or kung maglalabas kami originals na, kasi parodies mas mahirap.

Rex: Kailangan din humingi ng permission sa mga original na kumanta, eh hindi lahat ng pina-parody namin local songs.

ON BEING EACH OTHER'S HALVES, OR JUST BEING EACH OTHER

WALLY: PAG NASA MALL AKO MAY LALAPIT. "NASAAN SI JOSE?" HINDI SILA SANAY NA AKO LANG.
JOSE: AKO RIN GANUN. PERO MINSAN TINATAWAG NAMAN AKONG WALLY, MINSAN TINATAWAG SIYANG JOSE, SO NALILITO NA RIN.

Do you ever get tired of each other?
Jose: Mahirap pagsawaan yung tandem. Kasi pag nagkasawaan kayo, wala na yung tandem niyo.
Wally: Saka after work, may kanya-kanya naman kaming bahay. Tapos pagdating sa trabaho, wala namang sawaan kasi gusto namin yung ginagawa namin. Siguro sa past life mag-asawa kami.

In that marriage: Sino yung lalake, sino yung babae?
Jose: Eh sino pa ba?
Wally: Eeeeh. Pwede bang ikaw yung lalaki?
Jose: Hindi, hindi natin alam. Baka mamaya ako pala yung babae. Kasi mas maton siyang tingnan sa akin dahil kalbo siya.

How many hours in a day are the two of you together?
Jose: Dati 24 hours, dahil nag sho-show pa kami gabi-gabi. For seven years namin ginawa yun: Eat Bulaga, after Eat Bulaga, may raket sa labas, after raket sa labas taping. Tapos may show pa kami sa Clownz at Zirkoh. So for seven years ginawa namin yun na 24 hours kami, halos hindi natutulog. Ang tulog siguro namin sa hapon, mga three hours pinakamahaba.
Wally: Two to three hours.
Jose: Tapos sa gabi, tulog ka ng mga 4 or 5 ng madaling araw gigising ka ulit ng 7 para mag-Eat Bulaga. Ngayon mas kaunti na. Hindi na kami masyado nag-so-show sa gabi. Kasi siyempre nagkaka-edad na kami.
Wally: Signs of aging…
Jose: Kailangang alagaan mo rin yung katawan mo kahit papaano. Baka may pera ka nga, puro naman pang-ospital. So medyo limit na rin, tapos more on exercise pag walang ginagawa. So ngayon Eat Bulaga na lang tapos kaunting shows o kaya taping, pero hindi na ganun ka-regular.

You were already a tandem when you entered Eat Bulaga. Who thought of pairing you together?
Wally: Biglaan lang. Kasi pareho kaming komedyante simula't sapul, tapos nagkaron ng corporate show sa isang probinsya…
Jose: Pangasinan.
Wally: Sa Pangasinan, may nag-encourage sa kanya na mag-show sa sing-along bar. Medyo nag-aalangan siya kung mag-ki-click. So nag-produce muna siya ng show para ma-practice nang magkasama kami.
Jose: Kasi ang experience ko lang sa entertainment yung pagiging clown. Original ako ng Boyoyong Clowns so lahat ng jokes ko malinis, kaya nag-observe muna ako sa comedy bars. Si Wally kasi nag-sta-standup talaga yan, tsaka magaling mag-bakla-bakla yan.
Wally: Hi hi hi!
Jose: So ang na-obserbahan ko, pag bakla o babae ang nakatayo sa comedy bar, pwedeng manlait. Yun ang trend ng comedy bar, laitin mo yung audience, puwede. Pero pag normal na lalaki ka, parang offensive, iba yung dating.
Wally: Baka sabihin nakakalalaki ka.
Jose: Oo, lalo pag mga nakainom. So nung nag-produce ako ng show: idea ko, idea niya pinagsama namin. Nabuo namin ngayon yung routine, kinabukasan ginamit namin. Lumaki nang lumaki, dumami nang dumami. Tapos yung next na nun yung makilala kami sa telebisyon.
Wally: Yung idea niya, magamay namin yung isa't-isa. Sa tulong ng Eat Bulaga, sinuportahan nila yung tandem namin.

THE
RULE

PHOTOS: PAUL MONDOK WORDS: RICK OLIVARES

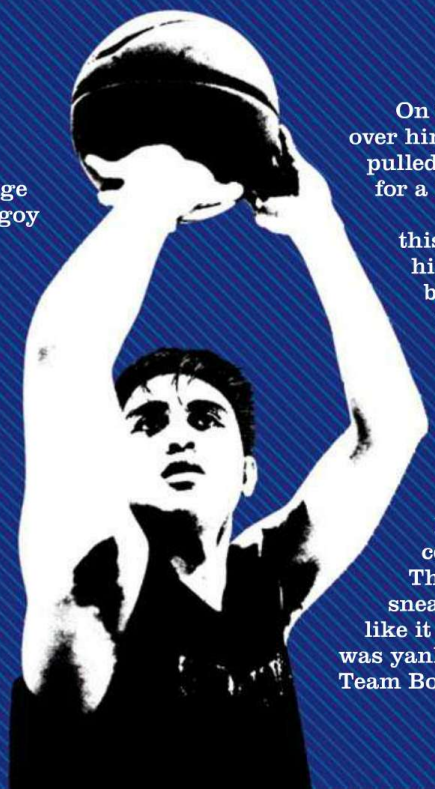
...OR WHY THE BEST JUNIOR PLAYER IN THE COUNTRY IS NOT PLAYING IN THE UAAP (AT LEAST FOR TWO YEARS)

When basketball star Chris Tiu announced the names of the reserve players that would comprise his "Team Chris" at the inaugural Master Game Face All-Star Basketball Challenge last June, there was a curious entry: Jerie Pingoy of the Ateneo Blue Eagles.

Pingoy never suited up for the Blue Eagles during the Filoil Flying V Hanes Premier Cup (although he played for the blue and white in the Fr. Martin's Cup), yet in the summer pre-season's All-Star Game, he had gotten the nod of Tiu to crack his lineup.

He came in with the third unit early in the second quarter and found himself guarding Arellano University's John Pinto, who was already being labeled by sportswriters as the next Denok Miranda, a stocky pointguard. After a switch, he found himself matched up against Far Eastern University Tamaraws' RR Garcia.

Garcia, a one-time UAAP Most Valuable Player, rifled in a shot in front of Pingoy. Swish.



On the opposite end, with Garcia all over him, Pingoy returned the favor as he pulled up just inside the three-point line for a line drive jumper.

Sensing the game of can-you-top-this was heating up, Garcia drove at him only to see the younger guard block his shot. The King Tamaraw retrieved the leather and went hard again inside the lane, this time proving successful on his drive.

Minutes later, while trying to fight through a screen, Garcia nailed Pingoy with an elbow to the chest.

Another FEU guard, Mike Tolomia, checked in and continued to take shots at Pingoy. The younger player retaliated by sneaking in an elbow. When it seemed like it was getting out of hand, Tolomia was yanked by Borgie Hermida, coach of Team Borgie.

The Pingoy kid had moxie, all right. In only 13 minutes of action, he tallied seven points, three rebounds, three assists, one steal, and a blocked shot. Although Team Chris had lost to Team Borgie, 89-88, Pingoy had impressed. Those 13 minutes could be the last time he's playing as an Ateneo Blue Eagle, at least for two years, anyway.

THE MOVE

Pingoy is a game changer of a player. At 5'9" he can hurt an opposing team in a variety of ways. He doesn't even have to score to be effective. He can create for his teammates, rebound, and even hound opposing guards for steals.

The young Cebuano has excellent range on his jumpshot—from the paint, to 15 feet and beyond. He has also mastered the floater and can finish on the break.

In his senior year with FEU-FERN, Pingoy averaged 21.0 points, 4.2 rebounds, 5.1 assists, 2.1 steals, and 0.6 blocks en route to Most Valuable Player honors. He led the Baby Tamaraws in defeating defending champion, National University, in the finals.

Only now he has decamped to the eastern side of Katipunan (where Ateneo is located as opposed to the western side where the University of the Philippines sits).

"He gives a team what it needs," says first-year Ateneo head coach Bo Perasol. "If he can play he will be a very good addition to our second unit where he can provide scoring and passing. Everyone should be able to watch what this kid can do."

If allowed to suit up, there will be no letup in the play of Ateneo when Kiefer Ravena takes five.

Scoring machine Terrence Romeo and point guard Mike Tolomia would still be in FEU mottled green but Pingoy, with his slinky moves and stutter step dribble, which make him a potential heir to Johnny Abarrientos's throne, was projected to drive their offense. And—in the grand tradition of Glenn Capacio, Abarrientos, Celino Cruz, and Denok Miranda—lead them to cage glory.

BLUER PASTURES

Pingoy's departure from FEU and his recruitment by Ateneo saw the jilted Morayta school's management to exact their own version of Shylock's pound of flesh by getting the majority of the UAAP to pass by a vote of 5-2 last March, what is now informally known as "The Jerie Pingoy Rule."

The rule stipulates: "An incoming collegiate athlete who is a high school graduate from a UAAP member university and enrolled in a member university shall take a mandatory two-year residency. This two-year residency will not be considered as playing years."

It is actually an amendment to the one-year residency rule that was passed to curb player piracy (that incidentally was initiated for another Tamaraw gone astray) that was almost immediately called "The Soc Rivera Rule."

In the summer of 2007, Soc Rivera, a former FEU-FERN star, opted not to play for his school's senior team and elected to move to UP along with three other Baby Tamaraws (Mark Lopez, Jomar Paulino, and Dexter Rosales). A fifth Tamaraw, Jolas Paguia, went to Emilio Aguinaldo College. The only top player from FEU-FERN's team to move to up the men's squad was point guard Jens Knuttel, where he played behind Mark Barroca at first then Garcia.

As a response to the departure of his high school players, a livid FEU team manager Anton Montinola pushed for the approval of the one-year residency rule for UAAP high school players transferring to another UAAP college that won by a vote of 4-2. The two negative votes were from the board representatives of Ateneo and UP.

Then UP head coach Joe Lipa said that FEU asked UP to pay for the expenses incurred in his players' upkeep, an amount that fetched P40,000. "This was the amount allegedly incurred from miscellaneous fees during Rivera's stay in FEU," said Lipa, who felt that the rule was unnecessary and wrong.

Rivera played only one season for UP in 2008. After Lipa was removed as head coach, Rivera also left, disenchanted with the team's direction. However, Rivera was also struggling with his academics and it was doubtful if he would have been allowed to suit up the following year even if he remained.

The former King Baby Tam floundered and dropped out of school. Two years later, he eventually showed up on the doorstep of Eric Altamirano at NU and at the San Sebastian College gym where Ato Agustin was forming his team that would win the NCAA crown that year. After that last attempt at a basketball comeback, Rivera once more disappeared.

Enter Pingoy, who like Rivera, was earmarked to make the Tamaraws squad.

And the "Soc Rivera Rule," as it is informally known, has now been superseded by the "Jerie Pingoy Rule."

The rule comes as a relief for some schools. The 2009 UST Girls Volleyball Team was decimated by the transfer or recruitment of its key players —Alyssa Valdez to Ateneo, Kim Fajardo to La Salle, and Dindin Santiago to National University (where her younger sister Jaja would transfer for high school).

UST volleyball head coach Ojie Mamon believes that the loss of Valdez and company affected their women's team's fortunes after. "Kami nagtanim pero iba yung umani," he lamented. "Sana yung ibang schools mag-develop na lang ng players nila at wag na silang mag-pirate."

That kind of thinking is precisely why most of the UAAP schools voted for the two-year residency rule. "We have to protect the programs we are building," explained Fr. Max Rendon, C.M. of Adamson University, the current president of the UAAP.

Rendon cited the plights of former Adamson star and juniors Most Valuable Player Mark Juruena who moved to UP but had to sit out a year. "We lost a player who could have helped us," he said.

Juruena disputes that and said that it was his dream to go to UP.

Regarding Pingoy, Montinola says that the young Cebuano cager signed a contract that he would play for FEU in college. (We attempted to get a copy of the contract but the FEU admin refused.)

A conversation with a La Salle Green Archers sponsor who refused to be named said that they made inquiries about Pingoy as well. "But when we learned he signed a contract, we backed off," he said. "Then we found out that Ateneo was recruiting him. If Pingoy signed something, then he is bound by that. Kung wala, he is fair game."

A NATIONAL ISSUE

"The Jerie Pingoy Rule" created such an uproar that a special senate hearing was called by Senator Pia Cayetano, chairperson of the Committee on Youth, Women, and Family Planning Relations, to see how the rule could be repealed.

Cayetano, a former UP volleybelle herself, publicly called for the repeal of all high school-to-college residency rules (although the one-year wait after transferring from one college to another is all right). "I'd like to believe that the UAAP has done a great job through the decades and that they will continue to do," she says. "But they need to keep a clear mind about this issue and I will not hesitate to say that I will take legal action also to ensure that the rights of these athletes are protected."

Curiously, save for Fr. Rendon, the UAAP schools—FEU, La Salle, UST, and UE—that voted in favor of the two-year residency rule were absent from the hearing.

This didn't deter Cayetano from speaking out. "You present the athletes with a terrible choice: stay with a school that isn't your first choice, or move to a school that you want, but not play the sport which is your first love," she said. With that statement, she informed the representatives of the UAAP Board during a public hearing for "Proposed amendments to the UAAP Rules and their effects on the youth" that the rule is "anti-youth and anti-student" and it "curtails many basic rights."

She then lowered the boom, saying, "I will call it a spade: the rule protects the institution more than it protects the child."

Cayetano also promised legal action of the rule is not repealed.

The league responded with an escape clause that allows student-athletes to suit up immediately if released by their high schools.

However, with the acrimony built between Ateneo and FEU over the years due to a variety of on- and off-court squabbles, when the UAAP's Season 76 tipped off last June 29, Pingoy was conspicuously absent from the field of play.

On the other hand, Roger Domingo, Pingoy's teammate in the juniors, was released by FEU although UP head coach Ricky Dandan bared that he would first be playing for Team B.

SO FAR GONE

FEU Tamaraws coach Nash Racela says that losing Pingoy is not just for this season but also the next couple of seasons. "Not in the immediate future," he says. "Not at least for this coming season. Siguro very minimal. Yung long-term, yes because he was supposed to be filling up the spot of RR. By his second year, if Pingoy would be playing for us, he would be playing heavier minutes. But that's not happening now."

Racela sees a silver lining because now, third year guard Mike Tolomia, who labored behind the shadow of Garcia and Romeo, has begun to show what he could do with more minutes. In the summer basketball tournaments, opposing teams geared part of their defenses to stop Tolomia, a former RP Youth Teamer.

"Pingoy's loss has forced us to take a long and hard look at how we recruit," added Racela. "Mahirap dito sa Manila kasi maraming kalaban. So we will have to continue to heavily invest in provincial players or maybe even those in the NCAA."

Has all the brouhaha surrounding the non-release of potential transferees affected recruiting? Racela denies this.

"It has affected us in a positive way because it made us look at other options. We put emphasis on recruiting outside the UAAP and outside Metro Manila. It is never safe to say that all your high school players will go to you. As much as we look at other options outside the Philippines (such as the Fil-Americans) or even more in the provinces."

Adds the coach, who is incidentally also an Ateneo High School alumnus: "From what I heard, when it comes to recruitment, FEU's focus is getting players in the provinces na medyo raw na may potential. Nothing has changed all the more after this incident; lalong na-pinatibay mag focus sa labas. Tuloy pa rin kami. Invest two to three years with those kids then mas ready na sila sa UAAP. The setback is, after that they are ready for the seniors, then you could not get them."

THE WAITING GAME

"Over four months na akong nag-train with Ateneo," says Jerie. "Sa una kailangang mag-adjust kasi eto na yung five-time UAAP champions. May style at sistema, angat na angat yung laro nila. At dahil college na, mas mature na yung players. Kailangang mag-isip ka sa mga gagawin mo at sa diskarte mo."

Does the idea of him not playing in the UAAP in his first year with Ateneo frustrate him?

"Hindi ko iniisip yun," he says. "Kailangang labanan yung negative feelings. Kasi kung magpapatalo ka maba-bad trip ka lang apektado mga desisyon mo. I'll just focus on my studies."

Now Pingoy, who goes by the nickname of Koko, may not show it, but he is affected. His father, Jerry, who himself once suited up in the Philippine Basketball Association for Gilbey's Gin and Tanduay, is. More so after how his son was allegedly treated in school after news first broke out that he was moving to Ateneo.

"Nung graduation ng anak ko," the elder Pingoy relates, "imbis na diploma yung ibinigay, papel lang, yung bond paper lang ang inabot sa kanya. Pero sa iba yung diploma ang binigay.

"Tapos meron pang kung anu-anong fees," he adds. "Kung ano yung tulong na ibinigay ng FEU, siguro nabayaran na niya sa paglaro niya para sa school. Napa-champion niya at naging MVP siya. Nagbigay na siya ng karangalan sa FEU.

"Ang pag-transfer naman ni Koko ay dahil sa paghabol niya sa pangarap niya," he further explains. "Si Chris Tiu yung idolo niya. At sino bang ayaw magpunta sa Ateneo? Sino ba sila para pigilin ang pangarap ng isang bata?"

"In fact, yung ibang teammates niya tinutulak pa siyang lumipat," he adds.

Ateneo is working on Pingoy's release but Montinola, who is a true-blue Atenean having gone to the school from his elementary years to his college days, is adamant about not giving in. "No," he said flat out. "Under no conditions will we release him. He has two options: Wait out those two years or go to an NCAA school where he can play right away."

"Sa ngayon naghihintay tayo ng balita," Pingoy says as of press time. "Ginagawa ng Ateneo ang lahat. Wala na tayong magagawa kung mag-decide yung board at ibang schools. Pero gustung-gusto kong maglaro at makatulong sa Blue Eagles."

"Kung hindi mangyari, handa naman akong mag-concentrate sa pag-aaral, na isang reason naman kung bakit ako lumipat. Alam naman nating mahirap dito sa Ateneo. Pero alam natin that everything happens for a reason. Sabi naman ni coach (Perasol), maglalaro ako sa mga Fr. Martin's Cup II [which runs concurrently with the UAAP season and features the Team Bs of different schools] at saan man ibang liga na nilalaro ng Ateneo. Pero sana talaga payagan ako."

"It's a blow to him and to us," says Perasol. "We have to find ways to keep him in shape. But as he said, he will use the opportunity and time to attend to his studies."

The younger Pingoy is prepared for the worst. "If I sit, I have to look on the bright side. At least meron akong time to adjust to my new school and concentrate sa studies. Pero siguradong nandun ako kapag may laro yung team. I will be a cheerleader for them." FHM

SEXY ACTRESS ALTHEA VEGA SAYS SHE LETS HER EYES DO THE TALKING. WE'RE MESMERIZED

ALTHEA VEGA

This July, you will be seeing a lot of sexy actress Althea Vega—and we mean that in the most literal (and best) way possible. Her latest film, Amor Y Muerte, is part of this year's Cinemalaya film festival, and if we haven't given you enough reason to catch it for the love of Philippine cinema, do it for the love of Althea Vega. Sensuality seeps out of her every pore—her voice is a low, suggestive purr; her eyes always seemingly warm with invitation. Ironically, though, Althea says it's sexier to have self-control rather than be obsessed with knocking boots—but damn, tell us how that's possible after two minutes in her presence?

We hear you kind of just stumbled into show business, even if you are a Mass Com graduate.
Hindi ko naman talaga pinangarap maging actress. But back in 2008, I auditioned for DMV Entertainment and luckily I was cast in a movie directed by Joel Lamangan opposite Polo Ravales. After that, tuluy-tuloy na. I originally wanted to be a policewoman!

That's a dream job we've never heard from any other woman before. Why join Manila's finest?
My father was a policeman, so bata pa lang ako I was trained to think that I would join the force as well. He's fine with my career choice. Ngayon, okay na sa kanyang nagse-sexy ako; he said I'm old enough to do what I want.

It must have been hard to entertain suitors growing up. Has being a policeman's daughter affected your expectations of men?
Hindi naman ako mahirap ligawan, but right now, I'm focusing on my career. But yes, I'm attracted to strong personalities, because I have one as well and I want him to match me. Ayaw ko sa lalaking mahina ang loob. Physically, I like a nice chest—not too bulky with muscles, though.

How hard is it to face the camera in your birthday suit?
Actually my first film pa lang may sex scene na, so for my current movie, hindi na bago sa akin yung love scene. May experience naman ako sa mga ganung bagay so it isn't that hard to act it out. Iniisip ko na lang that the guy is my boyfriend. I think of the character I'm playing, and I also think of the guy and pretend na mahal ko siya.

Have any, um, mishaps occurred while filming?
Wala naman. Seryoso naman yung guys on the set. This movie is my most daring. My love scene with Markki Stroem took 47 minutes to shoot. It was the longest scene I've ever shot! And yes, I showed pretty much everything!

After 47 minutes of simulating sex, how can you stay professional? Is there a chance that you can get turned on?
Of course it's possible to get turned on while doing a love scene! But it's work. When I get on set, I am Amor. I don't take the character, or whatever she did, home with me.

Your character is a very sexually liberated woman forced into repression by the Spanish. How can you relate to Amor?
A similarity I share with Amor is a strong personality. Pag may gusto siyang sabihin, she says it, and I'm the same way. Amor is a very sexual creature and she can't control it. But me, as Althea, I can control it. So, speaking of love scenes, I can control how I feel and how I act in a sexual situation.

Has your perception of sex changed since you act it out for a living?
I don't have a boyfriend now so I really can't say. Ang tingin ko kasi sa sex, it's all about respect and sharing. It's supposed to be with the right person at the right time. But what's sexier for me is if you can control your sexuality rather than to give in to it all the time. It isn't a good thing to be obsessed with sex and doing it all the time.

You seem very confident in how sexy you are. What part of your own body do you find the hottest?
May times that I still get conscious. But sexiness is really self-confidence. If you're confident, you're sexy. That being said, my sexiest body part is my eyes—I don't need to talk. They do the talking for me. FHM

THE SUITE LIFE

DON YOUR SHARPEST SELF AND SOME SPANISH FLAIR WITH SUITEBLANCO

The arrival of foreign brands in the Philippines has happened in the wrong order for most of us. For a long time we've had access to high-end firms like Louis Vuitton and other fancy places with tongue-twisting monikers at our more upscale malls. Great if you're in the market for a croc-skin and buttercream suit, but not so great if you need something less ostentatious. That's why we welcome the recent rush of fast fashion labels (such as F21, Uniqlo, and Cotton On) in the country, the latest being Spanish fashion firm Suiteblanco. Don't be scared by the overwhelming girly-ness of the storefront. Inside their flagship branch in SM Aura is a tasteful collection of basic and flashy digs. We can't blame dudes for wanting Suiteblanco's stuff, especially when you don't need to break the bank for them. Shopping together with the girlfriend or missus might be a bad idea though…

SOL MERCADO

FIRESTARTER

Sol Mercado has spent his professional basketball career lobbying for respect and recognition within the league. Here is a man who's highly capable of winning a season, yet only a few people recognize it. Think about how he scored 29 points in his rookie debut game, setting a record for second most in PBA history. Or how he has consistently racked up MVP numbers during do-or-die games. How is it that one of the most menacing young guards in the game has changed teams four times in a span of six seasons? Sol dismisses it as mere business, we call it a basketball travesty.

STYLE TIP: Most cagers like to keep their style trouble-free off the court. "You can match the simplest clothes with the fanciest kicks and still come out stylish," says Sol. "Just dress as if you're making money and earning a good living."

JEFF CHAN

DEADSHOT

The former FEU Tamaraw couldn't ask for a better collegiate basketball career, winning the national title back in UAAP Season 68 and making it to the mythical team the year after. His success in the pro ranks took more time than expected; his first three seasons spent switching teams and cooking up sub par numbers in limited minutes. But hey, this is Jeff Chan we're talking about here. The seasons that followed had him leading Rain or Shine to a PBA Governors Cup title—raking in a Finals MVP, a Most Improved Player Award, a Second Mythical Team selection, and a Smart Gilas roster spot in the process. The man's just a winner.

STYLE TIP: "Never go out wearing clothes that make you feel uncomfortable," says Jeff, who knows a thing or two about the hassles of finding the right sizes. "I can settle for shirts and shorts, pero bumabawi ako sa shoes and watches."

ON JEFF: WHITE INNER SHIRT, ZARA, P995; VARSITY JACKET, STYLIST'S OWN

SEAN ANTHONY

HARD-NOSED

A couple of seasons into his pro career, Sean Anthony is still finding his rightful forte as a basketball player. But if his stint as a Barako Bull is any indication, the Fil-Canadian cager feels right at home with his new team, providing quality minutes as a second stringer and even taking pride in low-post scoring and dominance on the boards. At this point, we have no problem associating Sean's game with that of a Barako—intense, extremely physical, hard-nosed, and ready to hustle. Or maybe the Bull part depicts it better. Either correlation suits him just fine.

STYLE TIP: "I know people say this all the time, but you just got to be yourself," says Sean, who has done his share of shopping abroad. "It also applies to fashion. Find a clothing line that suits your physique and personality."

WORTH THE SPEND

SIX TIMELESS WARDROBE ESSENTIALS YOU SHOULDN'T BE AFRAID TO BURN YOUR SALARY ON

01 QUALITY JEANS

P3,999.50

By Levi's

You use them almost daily that they've practically become your uniform. It seems silly to spend on a cheap pair of jeans. You should always put quality at a premium for something that is as much a staple as it is a fallback. Darker shades never go out of trend, and when they fade, they gain instant retro cred.

02 SWANKY KICKS

By The Ramp Man, Crossings Dept. Store

Come on, you know you need a killer pair of leather shoes you can mix with the rest of your aging wardrobe. Sure, Nike Dunks are cool and hip, but there are days when people do need to take you seriously too, you know.

03 WHITE SHIRT

P1,995

By Topman

No question the most versatile. It goes with jeans, chinos, and even shorts. Take it to the office with some nice khakis and some elegant brogues, or hit the nearest dive when paired with cut-offs and your favorite sneaks. Just be careful with that Mang Tomas sauce.

FORMAL SUIT

A two- or three- button suit may seem like the ultimate sell-out, but take our word for it, sooner or later, you're going to need one–and dear old dad's dated old sack won't be the right fit. A deep shade of black or gray will help narrow down the very-tedious shirt and tie selection process.

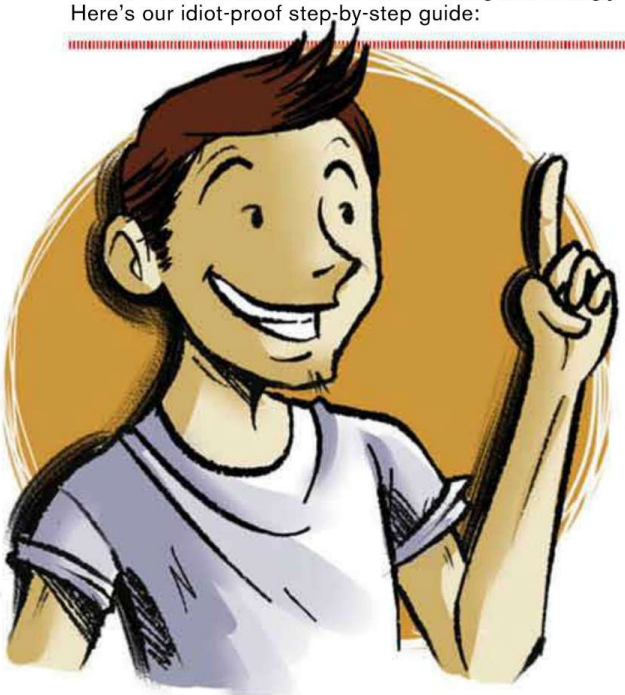
So you want to set up an online business. How hard could it be? With just a computer and a (hopefully) reliable Internet connection, you can easily create your own page and start promoting your brainchild. The advantages seem worth it: On your own, you can be the boss, employee, delivery boy, and accountant all at the same time, sans the need for a physical store (aka paying rent). But with the Web becoming increasingly saturated with online sellers, how can you make a dent in it and get noticed? Here's our idiot-proof step-by-step guide:



STEP 1: THE BIG IDEA

First, choose a product or service that's dear to your heart or something you're skilled at. Finalize how it will be made or done, if any manpower will be required, and where you'll get materials for it.

"One of the most important things you have to know is/are your competitors," says Bamba de Guzman, owner and creator of Bambag Canvas Bags. "Of course, there are already products or services that are similar to yours, so you have to know what makes your business different from them. Why would people buy from you?" With this, also identify your targeted market, or whom you'll dupe into buying your merch.

Maan Agsalud, who co-owns, designs, and makes crafts with her sister for their business Popjunklove, admits that establishing their brand entailed much experimentation and learning. "When we started out, we didn't know anything about jewelry making or pattern making or what," she says. "We'd experiment with materials and tools and processes and eventually, after much trial and error, countless hours and after butchering our hands, we'd learn the best way to make [our products]."

Once you come up with a clear brand identity, the next step is to determine how much to sell your product or service, based on your projected expenses.

WORDS: STEPHANIE ESGUERRA; ILLUSTRATIONS: JAMES ANDRES

STEP 2: GET LEGITIMIZED (OR NOT).

The Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) rules say to register the business name with the nearest DTI office, secure a mayor's permit or municipal license from the city it is located in and register with the Bureau of Internal Revenue (BIR) for taxation purposes as well as with the Social Security System (SSS) for any employees. This makes sure corresponding taxes are paid, and the business is able to issue receipts. But while regular businesses may require these first before operating, setting up exclusively online ones, on the other hand, can be rather tricky.

"In the digital world, everything is somehow more lenient," explains Agsalud. "Anyone who has an idea or product can easily set up a Facebook page to sell their items. People can dive into starting their own business without risk of investing too much in building an actual store and all the technicalities of registration and taxes."

De Guzman explains some of the other loopholes related to the possibility of online business registration and taxes. "For online businesses here in the Philippines, the government is still studying how they'd be able to put taxes on them."

News reports from August 2012 to January 2013 have been stating how the BIR is planning to get the informal sector (read: buy-and-sell websites) to also pay their due taxes.

STEP 3: CHOOSE A PLATFORM.

To establish an online presence, you'll need to create an account with your preferred social media sites. The choice of site, of course, would largely depend on how much you'd like to be in touch with your target customers.

'Like' me: Facebook

- Free of charge, with double promotional potential by sharing posts on their personal accounts
- Announcements, photos, videos, links, offers, events and even questions can be posted onto the timeline for easy monitoring.
- Administrators can measure the virality and reach of posts and they are also notified of each comment, like or share. Users can also be tagged to be alerted of posts.
- De Guzman adds that you can also interact with clients through the personal message function or through chat. For Agsalud, on the other hand, the beauty of Facebook is that she and her sister can update their followers in real time and the level of engagement with them is more personal. Pro tip: post regularly so you come up on people's feeds.

Insta-celeb status: Instagram

- A smart phone is a prerequisite
- Updates can be synched to Facebook and Twitter posts for increased virality and reach.
- Users can also be tagged, but if your account has amassed a lot of followers, the task of replying to comments, inquiries or reactions can be tedious.
- Because celebrities manage their own Instagram accounts, some online sellers comment on their photos offering free items in exchange for exposure.

Money is no object: Launch your own domain

- This would require a web design and programming team, signing up for web hosting, not to mention a monthly fee for the use of the domain (i.e. .com, .ph, etc.).
- For secondhand items, better to set up an account on online buy and sell sites such as sulit.com.ph or ayosdito.ph. For more specific items such as tech products, try tipidpc.com.

TIP: Instead of "secondhand," use "pre-loved" instead to make the products sound better to customers.

STEP 4: GET PAID.

"Since everything is going digital nowadays, there are a variety of ways to go about online purchase transactions," says Agsalud. "Bigger companies have credit card options and PayPal, while smaller businesses either use GCash or bank deposit schemes, which take 2-3 days. Some opt for cash upon delivery or meet ups."

PayPal is a merchant and payment services solutions service that allows sellers to receive online and mobile payments anytime and anywhere. It's an alternative for funds to be transferred electronically, made by providing one's bank account or credit card information. These transfers, of course, come with a charge.

The problem with the whole online setup is that conservative consumers may be apprehensive with "intangible" transactions, adds Agsalud. In a way, they have to trust that the seller is legit. "That's why it's key for online marketers to deliver on their products and to have a very visible presence in the digital space because this helps in building one's credibility," Agsalud emphasizes.

De Guzman agrees with this. "Based on my experience, Filipinos still prefer payment through bank deposit compared to PayPal because 1) not everyone has credit cards, especially students, 2) they're not familiar with PayPal, and 3) they still want the cheaper price since PayPal has an additional transaction fee." She recommends that online sellers use PayPal if they are targeting international clients as well.

TRAVEL

Head to: HONDURAS
Why: Located in Central America, Honduras is the perfect place to send your worst enemy on a one-way all-expense-paid holiday. A study conducted by the United Nations reported that Honduras had 6,239 homicides in 2010. That's 82 people murdered in every 100,000. Now dubbed by some as "the murder capital of the world," there are many reasons the killings have become so common. And with the high poverty rate and proliferation of gangs, the Hondurans are always living on edge.
How to get there: 21-hour flight
Or take a connecting flight to: El Salvador

Head to: DENMARK
Why: Work-life balance is like a lottery jackpot. We talk about having it but never really getting it. Not in Denmark. In a study of 34 countries, Denmark scored a 9.1 in the work-life balance scale–10 being the highest. The Danes spend 16.31 hours of each day devoted to leisure and personal care. How in the world do they get any work done? With more time to actually have a life, productivity in work hours is high. In fact, in terms of GDP they always rank in the top 30 in the world.
How to get there: 12-hour flight
Or take a connecting flight to: Norway

Head to: SOUTH KOREA
Why: No longer just the land of hot K-pop groups, South Korea is fast becoming the place to visit if you're thinking of getting a lipo, beer belly tuck, or boob job. According to market research firm Trend Monitor, one in five women from Seoul has gone under the knife. So next time you catch yourself drooling over some hot SK chick on TV, chances are the only real thing is the screen. Meanwhile, Greece has the most number of men undergoing penis enlargement procedures.
How to get there: 3-hour flight
Or take a connecting flight to: Greece

Head to: ECUADOR
Why: As of May 2013, the current exchange rate of the Ecuadorian Sucre (ECS) against the Philippine Peso is 613.11ECS for every P1. For every US Dollar, meanwhile, it's 25,048.71 ECS. Now you see why Ecuador is the best place to spend your hard-earned retirement fund? You can purchase properties for cheap, enjoy a laid-back lifestyle on sunny beaches, cold mountain ranges, or small rustic towns. And with people as friendly as us, a short vacation could be a whole lifetime.
How to get there: 21-hour flight
Or take a connecting flight to: Panama

Head to: SWITZERLAND
Why: Next to the Swiss knife and precision Swiss watches, Switzerland's third greatest contribution to mankind are their banks and strict privacy policies. This is where some of the world's famous politicians and billionaires–including allegedly, the Marcos family–hide their hard-earned (or stolen) money. Despite the ongoing European crisis, Switzerland remains the most economically stable country in the region.
How to get there: 17-to 20-hour flight
Or take a connecting flight to: The Cayman Islands

Head to: NEW ZEALAND
Why: There's medical tourism, adventure tourism, and cultural tourism. But for those who prefer something more stimulating, there's always sex tourism. And one of the best countries to experience fun fornication is in the land of hobbits. Prostitution and street solicitation is legal and regulated. Prepare to shell out some dollars, though, as the ladies-for-hire cover a wide range of types: from your usual fast-talking streetwalkers to high-end escorts.

en with girlfriends and fiancés pressuring them into marriage should be aware of the components that come into play when looking for an engagement/wedding ring. Diamonds are in order. You'll need to check color, cut, clarity, and carat weight. When all is said and done, your wallet cries tears of joy and vows are swapped. Then comes the house, and next comes the car.

We don't have sage advice about the nuptials and your future shelter, but for a newly settled family at a brand new start, the Nissan Almera fits like a well-planned ring. Named after the Spanish term for diamond, the top-of-the-line sedan is pragmatic in every sense, without sacrificing the pureness of luxury.

Specifically engineered to cater to the B-segment market, the upscale interior provides ample space for yet-to-be-realized bouncing babies. The 1.5-liter CVTC engine, which gives enough pulling power at mid RPM range, may not be a speed demon's dream, but rather a family man's best bud for everyday chores—say, bringing the spawn to school or taking the missus to the grocery. By putting a premium on fuel efficiency and aerodynamic design, it grants the brand of happy that can only be found in the well-oiled safety of practicality.

JOIN THE RUNNING REVOLUTION WITH THE ADIDAS ENERGY BOOST

UNMATCHED ENERGY RETURN, SUPERIOR CUSHIONING, OPTIMAL FIT AND TEMPERATURE INDEPENDENCE: INTRODUCING THE ENERGY BOOST BY ADIDAS, THE NEW RUNNING SHOE WITH REVOLUTIONARY CUSHIONING TECHNOLOGY THAT PROVIDES THE HIGHEST ENERGY RETURN IN THE INDUSTRY. AND JUST LIKE THAT, RUNNING WILL NEVER BE THE SAME.

BOOST YOUR CUSHIONING

The foundation of the Energy Boost innovation is centered on proprietary cushioning material, BOOST, that allows the runner to feel a continuous energy return. The revolutionary technology allows small energy capsules in the soles to store and unleash energy more efficiently with every stride.

BOOST YOUR CONDITIONS

Holding its performance in almost any condition the exclusive BOOST material has been proven to be three times more temperature-resistant than standard EVA material, thus providing a more consistent and comfortable run.

"As a revolutionary material, BOOST combines the usually conflicting performance benefits of soft and comfortable with firm and responsive cushioning. It almost makes the shoe come to life, and you will feel it from the first moment you put it on. It sets a new standard, not only for running shoes, but for the entire industry, and all products going forward," said Bernd Wahler, Head of Innovation for adidas.

BOOST YOUR COMFORT

The adidas Energy Boost innovation goes beyond the revolutionary midsole technology. The upper on the Energy Boost features adidas Techfit technology, which provides optimal comfort and support to the entire foot while in motion.

Additional features include a special mid-foot support frame, an extended Torsion system to minimise roll for more stability, adiwear outsole to reduce wear in key soles areas and an external heel counter to maximise the heel fit and comfort. The adidas Energy Boost is miCoach compatible.

LIMBER TECH

Flexes and folds four ways (see below) to adapt to positional entertainment needs: working, net surfing, movie buffing, Skype-ing, and arguably the most important: Candy Crushing. The Lenovo Yoga 11S doesn't only fold though, its 10-point multi-touch Windows 8 optimized display gives new dimensions to the word "touchscreen." Motion control lets you use your webcam to input gesture control commands. Dolby Home Theater sound and HD viewing are major plus, and a rescue system that recovers files from viruses and tech difficulties in a snap seals the deal.

PALM TOP

If you didn't trust your hands around Dell Latitude's five-point touch corning Gorilla glass, the 10-incher has a neat standing lock slot that tucks away and easily unfolds to make the tablet stand by itself. Perfect for selfies in the 2MP front-facing HD video, or for snapping on the 8MP rear-facing cam. Too pedestrian? Data encyrption features, a viewing dock that simulates desktop-like experience, and reinforced magnesium alloy frame make this tablet look both pogi and badass.

HIGHLIGHT

AND DID WE ALMOST FORGET?

THE GALAXY, PART FOUR

SAMSUNG'S GALAXY S4 IS SHINIER THAN EVER

Score for: P24,990

SNAP ADVANTAGE

Makes smartphone-taken pictures look crisper, professional-looking, and the opposite of Instagram. The fuddle-proof cam interface does well in automode and pixel spec is upped to 13MP from the previous S3's measly 8 MP.

MAMMOTH SPACE

Yes, you can always save files on the cloud, but immense physical storage space in your phone—9.16 GB of it—is just as nice. Think how many useless apps you can stuff in. S4's 4G LTE and 1.9Ghz quad-core Snapdragon processor may not guarantee faster processing speeds, but it downloads, uploads and shares sites, apps, and multimedia pretty quick.

JUICE

Like its Galactic predecessors, and unlike iPhones, the S4's 2600 mAh li-ion battery is still removable. So instead of charging when the beefy battery life goes kaput, you can always pop in an extra slab.

INTERACTIVITY

Which here not only means Facebook, but also Group Play: something Samsung cooked up to let you play selected video games with Android friends over Wi-fi.

GO ALL IN?

WITH THE RIGHT CHOICE, ALL-IN-ONE COMPUTERS CAN SOMETIMES BE HOLE-IN-ONES. HERE WE'VE OUTLINED THE PROS AND CONS OF GETTING ONE

WORDS:
LIO MANGUBAT

It used to be that when you were shopping for a PC, you'd go for the boxy desktop kinds, with all the blood and guts of the comp packed into a CPU tower, and a monitor on the side, like an order of fries. They'd even throw in a free voltage regulator for good measure. But today, the all-in-one PC form factor is gaining traction, and they're making some serious arguments for your wallet. Basically, an all-in-one PC is one with all components—from display to CPU—integrated into one case. Slim and sprightly, they occupy the middle ground between the ultra-portability of a laptop and the maximum computing power of a classic tower desktop.

In the old days, Macs would be the only serious contender for all-in-one computers, but PC all-in-ones can now be found on the display shelves of any computer shop, some of them listed here. But first, your judgment sheet…

WHY YOU NEED THEM

THEY'RE LIGHT.

While you'd never tote them inside backpacks, all-in-ones take up lesser space than traditional desktops. With the monitor integrated into all the rest of the components, they're easier to move around the house, and easier to set up. All-in-ones also score plus points for hooking up to your flatscreen TV with an HDMI cable. If you're looking to maximize your table's real estate, then you've found your computer.

THEY LOOK SNAZZY.

Hardcore computer tinkerers will sniff at this, but all-in-ones are handsome-looking machines. With their svelte looks and slim form, they make for better desktop accessories than butt-ugly towers, whose idea of aesthetics include light-up neon lining and aquariums built right into the case.

THEY HAVE TOUCH.

Sure, there are touchscreen desktop monitors available that you can hook up to your existing tower, but many all-in-ones come with touch out of the box. Touchscreens are becoming increasingly important as software inches toward a type 'n' swipe future. Seriously, clicking the live tiles on Windows 8 just isn't that much fun with a mouse.

WHY YOU DON'T

THEY'RE NOT AS UPGRADEABLE.

While they don't have as closed a system as laptops, all-in-ones aren't as flexible as tower desktops when it comes to swapping out components. When your specs just aren't up to snuff anymore, you may have to consider buying a new one.

THEY'RE NOT AS POWERFUL.

The all-in-one form factor comes with one big limitation: space. A smaller available space means that you can't pack as much cooling components into an all-in-one...important for high-end video cards like the Radeon 7-series or 8-series. Basically, for high-level gaming, video editing, graphic design, or AutoCAD, all-in-ones may not be for you.

THEY DON'T COME CHEAP.

All-in-ones sell for around P50,000 on average, which is cheaper than a Mac. But it's much more expensive than a desktop, which will only set you back around P30,000 if you assemble your own future-proof machine. And speaking of assembly... technically, it's possible, but it's still not feasible at this point to make your all-in-one from scratch. You're stuck with branded offerings for this one.

BASIC

HP PAVILION 20

Will set you back: Around P22,000

On the one hand, it's not full HD. On the other hand, it's fairly inexpensive, its screen is nice and the resolution gorgeous, and it's a perfect low-end all-in-one if you're not looking to bust your nuts on heavy-duty gaming or graphics processing.

UPPER MID-RANGE

LENOVO IDEACENTRE B540

Will set you back: Around P50,000

The Lenovo B500 series positions itself as a more-than-capable gaming all-in-one, thanks to a 1GB Nvidia GeForce video card. Plus, it comes with a cutting-edge 3D touchscreen, upgradeable hard drive and memory slots, a Blu-Ray drive...whatever your entertainment fetish, the IdeaCentre's got you covered.

UPPER MID-RANGE

ASUS TRANSFORMER AIO

Will set you back: Around P60,000

This genre-busting PC converts from all-in-one desktop to a gigantic Android tablet by just removing it from its stand. The two built-in ecosystems—Android and Windows 8—will sometimes confuse, and the display is small for its price, but for sheer whoa factor, the Transformer AiO gets our thumbs-up.

HIGH-END

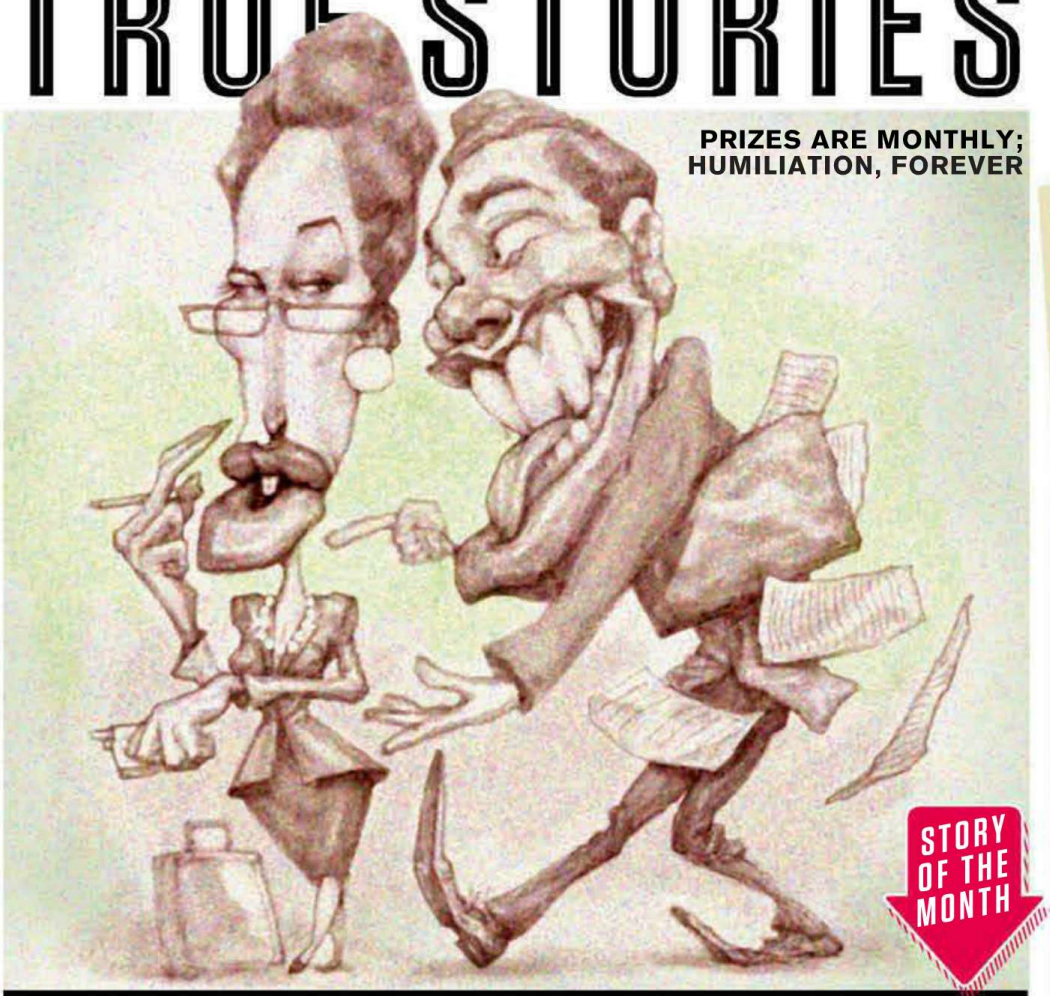
SAMSUNG SERIES 7 DP700A3D

Will set you back: Around P70,000

Justifies its price tag with eye-melting 23-inch and multitouch HD display. It can even use its webcam to watch your gestures so you can control your desktop Kinect-style. Specs are impressive, though a built-in video card would've been nice.

TRUE STORIES

PRIZES ARE MONTHLY; HUMILIATION, FOREVER



STORY OF THE MONTH

ASK AND YOU SHALL RECEIVE

I was fresh out of college applying for a job, and I arrived 15 minutes ahead of schedule. To calm my nerves, I decided to have a cigarette in the designated smoking area outside the building. My corporate attire blended in smoothly with the employees on their cigarette break there. Then I realized, I forgot my yosi, so I asked a girl smoking alone if I could bum a stick. She looked surprised, but agreed to give me one anyway. The nicotine quickly helped me forget about the awkwardness of asking for one. When I eventually went upstairs for my interview, my heart jumped into my throat. The girl I bummed a cigarette from was part of the panel. She didn't bring up my asking for yosi during the interview, but I bet they talked about me after I finished–kakahiya. I didn't get the job, by the way.
David G., by email

THAT'S RACIST

It was a slow day in the office, so I decided to take part in my usual pastime: standing near the end of our aisle and checking out all the girls who pass by. A new girl walked past, I've never seen her before and her (admittedly pretty) Indian features easily made her stand out. I don't know what spirit possessed me, but I suddenly felt the urge to sing Pussycat Doll's "Jai Ho," out loud. Of course the only lyrics I actually knew are the two Indian words in the song. She definitely heard me because she turned around and gave me a look that can be kindly described as shocked, but to me it looked more like offended. I ducked back into my cube and comforted myself with the fact that she will never know who I was—until I found out that she was from the all-seeing HR department.
Percy, by email

GET LUCKY

It has always been a goal among us officemates to be the man and score with the hot girl from our web department—and for a few hours at our Christmas Party last year, I was almost that guy. She lived relatively near my place, and considering we lived in an area rapidly approaching the middle of nowhere, she gladly accepted my offer to take her home. Flushed with my imagined success, I freely drank with my officemates at our table, and since laki kasi ng ulo ko I drank way too much. At the end of the night, I was so drunk that driving home was out of the question. The girl ended up waiting for nothing, and I ended up being the one taken home—albeit by two dudes instead.

Babe TRUE STORY
JERI LEE

I really wanted to take a picture with the ladyboys when I was in Boracay. The first group we went up to were nice, sexy, and open to taking pictures with me. However, with the second group that we went up to–my friend told them that I was a ladyboy so they would take pictures with me. Because if it was just a woman who wants to take pictures with them, they'd just be, like, "No, we don't want to." So my friend was, like, "Oh, she's a bayot!" The mama-san, or their leader, gave me a look that I didn't really notice 'cause I was kinda buzzed She went, "Martial arts." And I was, like, "Martial arts? Karate?" I think my friend noticed that she took off her slippers. "Come on, martial arts. But don't hit my face." That's when we all just started laughing and took off. The ladyboy wanted to fight me, ha ha!

HERE WE GO AGAIN...

We've been doing this for 13 years now, yet here we are, still receiving imaginative messages from people who want to get within spitting distance of the 100 Sexiest Women in the World Victory Party stage. The many tricks they employ to win tickets are sideshows in themselves.

Some come to our office unannounced, flashing their puppy eyes in the hope of melting our hardened hearts somehow. Others flood our Facebook page with their somewhat endearing hello-powhz- and mwaaahugz-powered pleas. The same people, we suspect, do the same schtick, albeit more irritatingly, with their 10-emails-a-day-till-our-inbox-crashes overtures. Most claim kinship to an FHM staff of their choosing. While the rest namedrop anyone that comes to mind—from famous congressmen and Smart Gilas players to tarp-happy city councilors, barangay chairmen down to their kagawad and their respective entourage.

Funny how over the years we've learned to roll with all the excitement and shenanigans that have marked the triumphant unveiling of 100 Sexiest Women in World. We applaud your creativity, sirs. We're sincerely humbled in fact by your ardent display of devotion to the campaign. But you all know by now that tickets are limited for a reason. We need ample space, after all, so all the 100-percent jaw-dropping women you deemed worthy of your precious votes can breathe quite comfortably inside the World Trade Center on July 10. It's their night as much as it's yours, remember.

That said, do know that you still have time to score tickets to our by-invitation-only event. Your usual up-to-the minute go-to sources for all things ticket-related remain the same: FHM.com.ph, facebook.com/FHM.ph, twitter.com/fhmphil, instagram.com/fhmphilofficial. One last warning: We don't sell tickets so beware of scalpers who peddle fake tickets, please!

If things don't go your way, however, keep your smart phones and tablets within reach and experience the annual FHM bash online. Live blogs, updates, behind-the-scenes pictures will be available on our website and all of FHM's social media accounts as soon as your favorite babes arrive for rehearsals in the morning till they're all prepped and dressed to rule your world come party time and beyond. Exclusive photos and videos will be uploaded to FHM.com.ph just hours after the party as well.

The hashtag to follow, by the way, is #fhm100sexiest. Make it trend. Cheers and see you on July 10!

Opening act

ALYZZA AGUSTIN

☆ NEW ENTRY

The second most important number on this list? Sexiest Woman No. 100, where all the fun begins. Homegrown sweetheart Alyzza Agustin is a worthy No. 100; not only is she a fitting opener, photo-wise, for this 40-page celebration of all things sexy, she also exudes that warm, welcoming vibe that compels you to turn the page very, very slowly. Take your time, guys.

99

Actress or musician?

ARCI MUNOZ

☆ NEW ENTRY

She checks the mic for feedback, asks the already sweaty crowd in the mosh pit if they're good for another round of slam-dancing, then minutes later screams her heart out. That's Arci the frontwoman of a rock band. For real. How sexy is that?

GLAIZA DE CASTRO

☆ NEW ENTRY

In the golden days of Philippine cinema, big shots would alternate between phoning in commercials and making film art. Glaiza wasn't around then, but the way she flits between starring in mainstream films and indie darlings would make those directors proud. If they were alive to see Glaiza's fine form, we imagine they'd be making her their muse as well.

Sexy number

SAICY AGUILA

↙ LAST YEAR : 74

Saicy might be a few inches shorter than most gals on this list, but what she lacks in height, she makes up for with oozing sex appeal and sheer dancing prowess. That also means she has a killer figure. She's a killer, period.

96

Stay the same

ALYSSA ALANO

↙ LAST YEAR : 60

Alyssa Alano's not perfect. She's best remembered for her massacre of the song "Kiss Me." She's also not the best driver in town, after recently figuring in a car accident. Yet, she survives. Our devotion to her quirks still grows. She's not perfect, and we like her just like that.

95

Go-getter

KAREN BORDADOR

↺ RETURNING

She hosts a radio show and a number of web shows and commercial events. This proud morena has explored different avenues, showing that a true FHM babe can be bold in more ways than one. Our favorite way, though, is still that one where she boldly shows off her fine physical form.

Schizo-sexy

MONICA MENDOZA

☆ NEW ENTRY

She goes by two different personas: a sweet-faced beauty who was set to pursue a teaching profession when a modeling career took off after an agent saw her on Facebook. And then there's Akiko—Ultimate Premiere Vixen with killer curves and a loyal legion of ogling men. Some people are calling it a public facade; we're calling it a case of schizo-sexy.

Here comes the nice

JADE LOPEZ

↙ LAST YEAR : 52

Nice doesn't always cut it. But with Jade Lopez, nice is but a footnote to the other qualities she possesses (see: long gams, supple breasts, porcelain skin). Despite being quite "nice," she transformed into a bad girl for this magazine–spiked panties, killer heels, and devilish makeup included. But thankfully, when it was all over, Jade went back to her girl-next-door self, raring to shower everyone with utter kindness.

92

Good vibes

SARA POLVERINI

☆ NEW ENTRY

A fine woman strikes the right chord with just about anyone. The kind who'll do you no wrong. Vibes so good it's like coffee on a weekend morning. Face so pretty you want to infinitely stare at it. Curves so fine they leave a lasting mental picture. We're all talking about Sara Polverini, right?

Mighty Aphrodite
YASSI COO

☆ NEW ENTRY

When we plucked Yassi Coo from obscurity and decided to take her out of town for a photo-shoot, we knew then and there that she was something special. It was love at first sight. Three FHM appearances later and her induction into this list, it's clear that Yassi-mania is in full force.

90

Mass appeal
KARYLLE

↙ LAST YEAR : 88

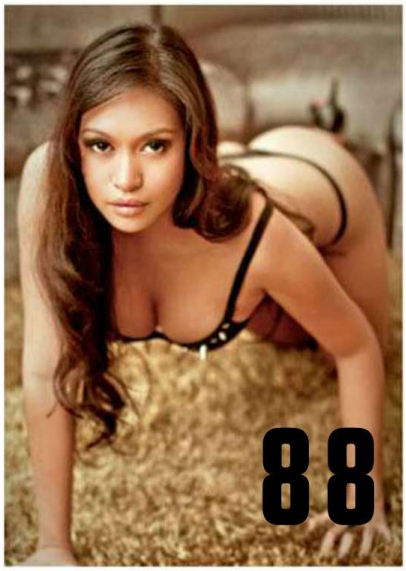
She has bravely explored her abilities to express and impress—singing and acting in musical Rama Hari and the Singaporean drama The Kitchen Musical. She's done our country proud and to this we say, "Continue expressing yourself!"

89

Grace under pressure
RHIAN RAMOS

↙ LAST YEAR : 55

We've got to hand it to Rhian. Despite the recent issues that rocked her career and personal life, she's still admirably coming through. Still flashing the smile that helped her acquire a loyal following. As far as we can tell by looking at her, it's as if everything's fresh as daisies.



Indie-mand
MERCEDES CABRAL

↙ LAST YEAR : 76

The official indie film princess of the Philippines. She brought a love for the art house scene that redefines the definition of the Filipina leading lady. And thanks to Mercedes, gone are the days when displaying your body in the name of a sex scene carried a shameful notoriety.

87

Just add water
ERIKA PADILLA

☆ NEW ENTRY

Erika does not mind getting wet. As a PBA courtside reporter, she's been subjected to buckets of water courtesy of rowdy athletes. Despite this tradition, the statuesque and athletic stunner embodies a unique confidence. Because of her inherent tenacity, we're lucky we get to see her dripping with raw sex appeal in all her drenched glory.

86

Bring home the bacon
RACHEL ANNE DAQUIS

☆ NEW ENTRY

The FEU volleybelle makes us want to go back to school. Imagine her as your college girlfriend, making you proud as she brings home the bacon with those winning spikes, planting you with a kiss after. Now get back to reality, you've already graduated.

Talent with youth
GWEN ZAMORA

↗ LAST YEAR : 89

We know talent when we see it. And looking at Gwen Zamora, we can safely say she has loads of it. At the young age of 22, she has already been part of several big-time showbiz projects from the Kapuso network and has even starred in the international flick The Witness. Youth, beauty, and talent—if we were girls, we'd be really jealous of her.

84

Beautiful creature

ISABELLE DAZA

↙ LAST YEAR : 73

She created headlines last year when her famous beauty queen mom stormed her cover shoot for another magazine we refuse to mention. Rumor has it that mama was furious with the execution of some of the layouts—too sexy or provocative for her tastes. We know a thing or two about controversy (trust us, we've had our fair share). But with you, Belle, should you give us the opportunity to immortalize your regal and raw magnetism, we'll make sure that everything goes as smooth as butter. We just hope that mom approves.

83

We're willing students

PALOMA

↗ LAST YEAR : 87

Being our former sex guru, Paloma had (and probably still has) no qualms about sharing tips and secrets about the more intimate parts of our fantasies. Self-assured without a hint of bodily insecurity, has killer bright eyes, and a figure that make her already erotic "lessons" glow even hotter, making men practically beg to be teacher's pets.

82

Knockout blow

RACHEL DONAIRE

↙ LAST YEAR : 38

The local WAG (athletes' wives and girlfriends) scene goes from legit A-List power couples to skeezy mistresses. They owe their relevance to the man, but every now and then you get sneak-attacked by a lady like Rachel who can stand on her own.

81

Truth of the matter

KRIS BERNAL

↙ LAST YEAR : 61

Now that she's through having a machete man for a love team, the petite, dainty beauty still intrigues: vacationing in Europe with her family, a nose job rumor, and the possibility of her settling down as someone else's misis? We can't say for certain which chismis is false, but one thing we know is true: the lady is fine.

80

Comeback in the making

EDA NOLAN

↗ LAST YEAR : 81

Despite motherhood, someone as beautiful as Eda could not just fade away. Plans were in order for the young star. She made a surprise appearance in last year's 100 Sexiest Party and it certainly looked like an explosive comeback was imminent—maybe on our cover. Why not?

79

Named lady

KRISTINE SANTAMENA

↗ LAST YEAR : 95

An FHM fan favorite whose face and incredibly small waistline are memorable. With a name that rolls of the tongue, you'll never forget her. Obviously, we're all just big fans (of her name and so much more). We hope she reciprocates our appreciation to her burgeoning fandom by honoring us with more appearances.

MAUI TAYLOR

↺ RETURNING

Maui Taylor was a shoo-in for our 150th issue's babe classics spread. How could we not include the former Viva Hot Babe whose petite and delicate figure was once responsible for sending men to the high heavens? You should've seen her in psychosexual thriller Gamitan. Better yet, you should've seen her in last year's The Taste of Money, a Korean flick with sensual themes and sensibilities. Her talent for steaming up the lens has yet to fade. And if you were able to grab a copy of the abovementioned issue, we're sure you enjoyed how bright she's still able to shine.

77

Full package

FRANCINE PRIETO

↺ RETURNING

Don't you love it when a girl is frank about her assets? And by frank we mean acknowledging they're great by naming them. We're referring to her Sustagen twins. It makes adoring them less a form of slavering admiration and more of us simply agreeing with her God-given gifts–like gentlemen. But that's just one aspect of this gal's personality–and just one part of her stunning form. Okay, maybe we're slavering just a bit...

76

Sexy by definition

IZA CALZADO

↙ LAST YEAR : 25

Childhood friend Divine Lee once revealed that Iza is one of the most absurd fitness freaks she has ever met. The remaining members of her social circle concur—it's difficult to keep up with her vigor. Among the many fitness routines the actress is into: Wake up at 3 a.m. for a quick run; yoga right around noon; circuit training session when night falls. You can't argue with the results.

75

GWEN GARCI

↺ RETURNING

There are different ways a celebrity could be eternally revered. She could leave behind a great body of work, like Nora and Vilma–or she could give everyone (especially men) something to fantasize about forever, like Gwen Garci.

74

Ageless humor

RUFA MAE QUINTO

↗ LAST YEAR : 90

Rufa Mae continues to dazzle us with her bombastic curves, bombshell appeal, and ageless humor. Having set the standards of what a sexy comedienne should be like, Rufa will forever have a precious place in our hearts. Her royal bustiness definitely earned it.

CHLOE DAUDEN

☆ NEW ENTRY

Chloe Dauden is the granddaughter of Marlene Dauden, a famous drama actress from the '50s to the '70s. We don't see much of the similarities the former Party Pilipinas regular has with her lola yet, but wait till she becomes crazy famous. All it takes is one carefully picked telenovela role and news will be abuzz with GMA 7's latest star. Then you'll say, FHM was right! Believe.

She means business

DANIELLE CASTAÑO

↙ LAST YEAR : 46

Danielle is the archetypal FHM cover girl–statuesque and curvy in all the right places, thanks to her beauty queen pedigree and athleticism. She's smart and well-versed, too, evident in hosting FHM's Tanduay Boracay Grind last March. The success of her spa business is due to her competitive side–and that just makes her 10 times sexier. The lady knows her stuff.

71

SANYA SMITH

↗ LAST YEAR : 72

Sanya can fill even the most noise-ridden of clubs with a presence that only the great Pepe's spawn is capable of. But what sets her apart is that she's carved out her own identity: daring fashionista, natural scenester, one-third of The Zombettes, and most important, FHM cover girl.

70

Coming of age

NIÑA JOSE

↙ LAST YEAR : 36

If we recall our cover interview correctly and do the math, Nina's full independence from her parents happens real soon–the day she turns 25. On August 26. This 2013. By golly, imagine the many unsupervised things she's been itching to do.

↺ RETURNING

The frenetic streets of New York were not able to keep two-time cover girl G Töngi from coming home. The first time she decided to share herself with FHM Nation, she was the country's resident It girl. Last year, when she returned to our arms, she was more mature, but still as effervescent as ever.

VALERIE CONCEPCION

↙ LAST YEAR : 42

With a mole placed lower on her left cheek, Valerie would have been like Marilyn Monroe. Val is an icon all her own, and we're not even complaining about that tiny detail. After all, it's not the only interesting facet of her that gets our attention.

67

Growing strong

WENDY VALDES

↙ LAST YEAR : 65

We like Wendy Valdes because she looks like she could kick our ass (she's tight and toned in all the right places). We'd never provoke her into a fight, though, because well, we're pure gents that way. Instead, we return the gesture by praising her for the fine specimen of a woman that she is.

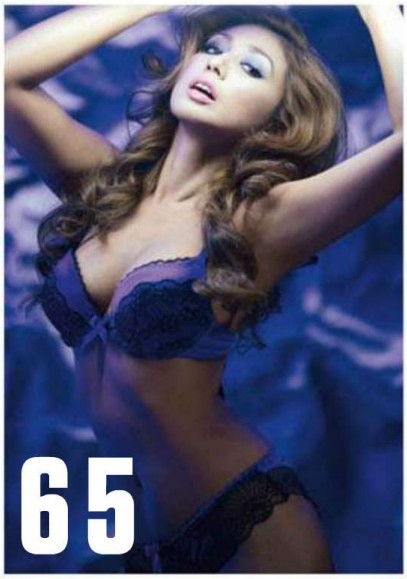
ROXEE B

↺ RETURNING

God forgive us for watching Art Angel. It wasn't because of the kids, it was Roxanne. We swear we couldn't figure out how she ended up there. We never really forgot sweet Roxanne and her bold potential. Now, as she releases a new single as scintillating siren Roxee B, it's time for her to sing a song that moves to a more sensual and daring beat. We're singing along.



Titanium

SHEREE

↺ RETURNING

Sheree might still be stuck in your mind's eye due to her bountiful pair, but it's her mean set of pipes that's grabbing our attention nowadays. Maybe it's too soon to call it "Bulaklak"-to-Broadway-mission accomplished, but based on Sheree's ageless looks, she has time on her side.

64

Royal treatment

PAULENE SO

↙ LAST YEAR : 54

Queenly is how we would best describe Paulene, and it has something to do with her reign as an Ultimate Premiere Vixen. To actually wear a tiara, be seated on a throne, and lord over the likes of successors Linda and Dorina can only do wonders to one's legacy.

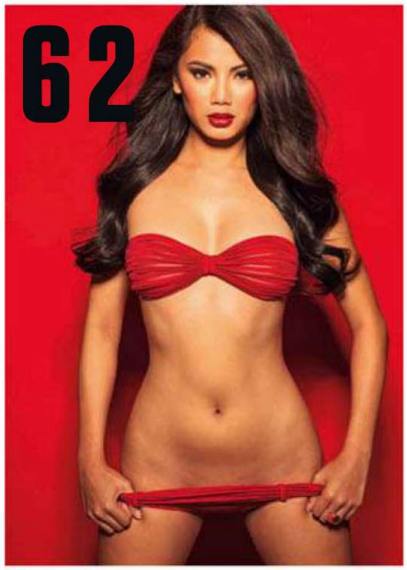
63

Immortal

ANDREA DEL ROSARIO

↺ RETURNING

When we shot her for our 150th issue special, Andrea advised us on the truth that we all only live once. She said that doing FHM allowed her to immortalize her beauty, an act of spontanaeity. As far as we're concerned, her effervescence will live forever.



Eye of the tigress

DANICA TORRES

☆ NEW ENTRY

Cute as a button but stares at you like your resident siga sa kanto, yet Danica Torres isn't one to start a fight. Rather, the Premiere Ultimate Vixen is all about passion—so intense you can feel it in your veins. And all she has to do is meet your gaze. In which case, congratulations to you, mamang pogi.

61

Redefining

LINDA PERSSON

↗ LAST YEAR : 78

Forget tall, blonde, and loaded with double Ds. Our new version of Eurasian beauty is petite, raven-haired, tan, and…still well-endowed. Now, about that knee-melting accent she inherited from her Swedish side? We'll have a tough time topping that.

Triumphant

JANA VICTORIA

↺ RETURNING

Motherhood really does endow a woman with a new desirability. There's a mature vibe that gets men young and old alike hot under the collar. And when Jana used MILF to describe herself in her latest FHM outing, we tingled in approval. The self-professed yummy mommy has got that acronym spot-on. Momma knows best indeed.

59

Age-defying

EULA VALDEZ

↙ LAST YEAR : 34

Let's forget the age factor for a little bit. Why celebrate Ms. Valdez looking smoking hot with the added qualification: "at her age"? Eula is hot, period. It's in her eyes, and not the absence of lines around them. Heck, we forget even what day it is just by looking at her, much less how many birthdays she has had.

58

JODI STA. MARIA

☆ NEW ENTRY

Few could have predicted that the solemn, submissive girl from Tabing Ilog would, years after that show had concluded, suddenly have her definitive breakout moment. In playing the kind, unassuming Maya, a yaya-with-a-heart-of-gold in the ABS-CBN hit Be Careful With My Heart, all eyes, slowly but surely, turned to Jodi. Now she is on a hot, hot streak of magazine covers, billboards, and television ads—the spotlight only serving to elicit "Si Jodi yan?!" reactions that would have made the meek characters she has played in the past blush. Now if only Sir Chief would be so kind as to allow this star to pull a Kaye Abad on her day-off.

57

Prime of her life

JULIA MONTES

↙ LAST YEAR : 68

Dear Julia is noticeably looking more and more like a woman these days, and that's because she's hard at work peeling off both the baby fat and the teenybopper image. And if the characters she plays on TV are any indication, Julia never really had a problem finding maturity in the first place.

56

Charm attack

IYA VILLANIA

↙ LAST YEAR :51

When Iya secured herself a Tanduay endorsement gig back in 2011, it had come to our attention that she finally found the ideal mishmash of charm and sex appeal. It has been a good two years since. As long as it takes Iya. We'll wait.

55

Queen of pain

ARIANNY CELESTE

↗ LAST YEAR : 56

After thousands of hours holding up ring cards, blowing kisses to drunk fans, and winking at the camera, she has carved a place in MMA history that no fighter could ever achieve—we doubt that even Anderson Silva could kickstart a million (wet) dreams. Arianny is her craft's MVP and G.O.A.T. all rolled into one.

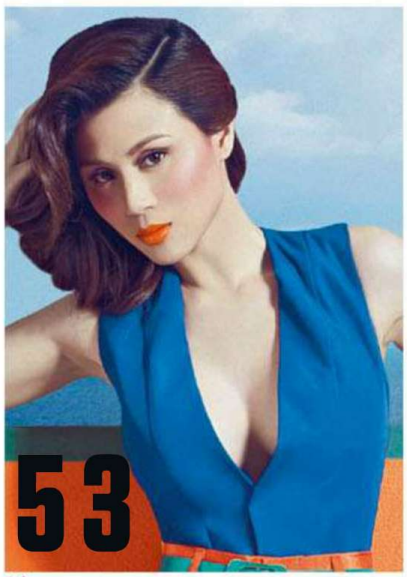
54

Infamous

DIANA ZUBIRI

↙ LAST YEAR : 37

This FHM classic will forever be remembered as the chick that caused that flyover controversy. Notoriety only favors the brave, and with this ageless and daring darling, there's no doubt she's carved a name for herself in the history of everything sexy.



53

Your cup of coffee

TONI GONZAGA

↙ LAST YEAR : 29

We're still wondering why no coffee brand has named Toni Gonzaga their official celebrity endorser. With her slim frame, the lady can fill up an arena with vigor. No dull moments, no time-wasters—if you need to wake up, a cup of Toni Gonzaga might be a good idea.

52

Code red

RED DELA CRUZ

☆ NEW ENTRY

She's been proclaimed as PXC's official ring girl and crowned as the Ultimate Premiere Vixen last year. Her glowing morena looks, awesome curves, and slim bod are the total package. She's on this list because you wanted her here. Now give yourself a pat on the back.

All that Jaz

JAHZIEL MANABAT

GEORGINA WILSON

↙ LAST YEAR : 41

The possibility of seeing Georgina Wilson at every waking moment is the most exquisite form of torture—the kind that makes us ask for more. Everywhere we look, we see her creamy skin and lustrous locks on billboards and television commercials. Her doe eyes gaze at us from magazine covers and stalked Instagram posts. Multimedia endorsements, events, in company of the similarly beautiful—the gorgeous Georgina is everywhere.

49

The good gene

ANDI EIGENMANN

↺ RETURNING

You know the Mark Gil + Jacklyn Jose gene pool experiment was fool-proof: Andi's got both their unique looks and acting chops. And if evolution is right that each generation is an improvement on the last, then Andi is certainly a step up the ladder. Two things we're most concerned about, though: Mark's lost hair and Jacklyn's poundage. We trust future medical tech will intervene for Andi, without messing up the original sexy configuration.

48

Instant classic

BEA ALONZO

↗ LAST YEAR : 49

It has been a decade of hourglass curves, expressive eyes, and milky-white skin, and just like Bea's acting prowess, her pulchritude just seems to get better and better—more than enough reason to re-watch One More Chance time and again.

47

Setting in

BIANCA MANALO

↙ LAST YEAR :23

Bianca is Italian for white and pure. Almost all Biancas we know are beautiful (except for that hairstylist Bianca who cut our hair sometime last year; "she" was a "he"). We have three Biancas on this list. At the moment, this is our favorite Bianca. Soon you'll find out why.

46

Unpretentious

ORNUSA CADNESS

↙ LAST YEAR :31

Works hard. Gulay fan. Fun-loving. That sounds like our kind of girl—or Ornusa Cadness to be exact. Now if you can get over your easily intimidated self for a moment, maybe you can appreciate just how real this free spirit is—in both mind and body.

45

Multidimensional

BUBBLES PARAISO

↺ RETURNING

It's hard not to fall for Bubbles. Aside from being a former cheerdancer and model, she is lively, something that she showcased with Twitter group Ampalaya Anonymous and in her stints on mainstream Kapuso TV. We also think her abs and beauty on the cover of Ladies' Confessions did the trick.

44

All grown up

SHAINA MAGDAYAO

↗ LAST YEAR : 59

Shaina getting on stage every weekend in her dancing shoes, sometimes donning sexy outfits to add spice to her numbers on an already hot Sunday afternoon—she was made for it. Which is to say, let us forget she ever was a child actress.

43

Clarity

ABBY POBLADOR

↗ LAST YEAR :69

Abby's answers to your questions are always backed with research and experience—which she has a lot of. She can be bastos without being bastusin, giving away everything but keeping that air of mystery. And she writes well, too, making us a little insecure about our job. Now we just can't come up with anything witty anymore.

Awesome name, awesome game

JACQ YU

↙ LAST YEAR : 39

Jacq Yu holds one of the most interesting names on this list. You can joke around it a bit, maybe even use it as an ice breaker, and she wouldn't mind. In fact, she might even lengthen the whole discussion, and you'd be the beneficiary of her cute giggles. That's how comfortable she is with her name.

Always in touch

MISA CAMPO

↙ LAST YEAR : 19

What we have with Misa we guess, you can label a long-distance relationship. The love between us is unbreakable, but the miles are just impossible. It's all good. We're down with that. World-class beauty like hers ought to see the world. Least we could do is make ends meet to make it work and she sends us her tender loving every once in a while.

Bright like a diamond

KC CONCEPCION

↙ LAST YEAR : 13

The megastar's daughter crawled into masang Pinoy's hearts by banking on her own sweet-talking talents in The X-Factor and by being an open book at the close of her, erm, interesting relationship. Her next order of business: to debut on our cover pages maybe?

39

Forever wonderful

AUBREY MILES

↙ LAST YEAR : 32

Aubrey Miles will be on this list forever. Maybe as long as she's still in showbiz and hasn't yet decided to take care of her two kids for good. (Yes, that body has already given birth to two kids. Makes you appreciate her curves more, doesn't it?). Or maybe as long as she's still willing to wear a bikini.

38

Smart knickers

BIANCA GONZALES

↗ LAST YEAR : 62

To say that a woman's mouth is sexy is a no-brainer. But with Bianca Gonzales, what makes her even sexier is what comes out of it. Brainy, eloquent, and not afraid to speak her mind, Bianca is the thinking man's pin-up girl, and we find ourselves really listening to what she would say next. Now, if only that would be a "yes" to a long-anticipated cover…

Here's to the future

MEG IMPERIAL

☆ NEW ENTRY

We kicked up quite a fuss about Meg Imperial, the fresh-faced actress barely out of her teens, when she landed on our December 2012 cover. It wasn't because she was so alluring for someone so young—it was because she proved how promising the future will be for FHM. Can you imagine Meg in a year? In three? In 10? We can't wait for her to blossom even further. The future looks bright—and even more beautiful.

This generation's sexy

YAM CONCEPCION

☆ NEW ENTRY

Is it 1995 all over again and is that you, Anjanette Abayari? Because you sure look a lot like her. But wait–could it be 2012? Because your debut cover heralded "Sexy Movies are Back" in time for the release of your softcore art flick-starrer Rigodon–and the last time a sexy movie of note was seared in our memory was 11 years back, with Kapag Ang Palay Naging Bigas...May Bumayo. Or did you just do 1992? Because you play drums for your brother's grunge revival band. But it's clearly 2013, and you are a new breed of multi-faceted sexy.

35

Neighbor we love

CARLA ABELLANA

↙ LAST YEAR : 28

Two of Carla's biggest projects to date have been illicit affairs: My Neighbor's Wife and My Husband's Lover. Her hubby cheats on her–with another woman in the former, and in the latter–a man. Those men are absolutely out of their minds. We can't ever imagine cheating on her and those dimples.

34

Elegant crossover

ERICH GONZALES

↗ LAST YEAR : 40

Erich capped 2012 with indie Mariposa Sa Hawla Ng Gabi. She also graces primetime TV opposite Coco Martin in Juan Dela Cruz, as a badass aswang hunter. She's that actress that can crossover from the mainstream to the art scene without ever looking like things are being forced.

33

Woman on the throne

BIANCA KING

↙ LAST YEAR : 22

Bianca King can switch from effective contravida to a likeable bida in a click. She's also dabbling in work behind the lens, having just gotten a filmmaking degree. Will she finally retreat behind the cameras forever? We hope not.

SUNSHINE CRUZ

↺ RETURNING

Sunshine Cruz's return to FHM is a miracle of sorts. Okay, miracle is too divine a word. How about phenomenal? Unbelievable? A WTF moment? Whatever. Sunshine Cruz re-gracing our cover 13 years after her first one was, simply, just awesome. That alabaster skin, those eyes, that mouth, those legs…we could go on and on but won't. We reckon you don't need to be told how wonderful this woman is.

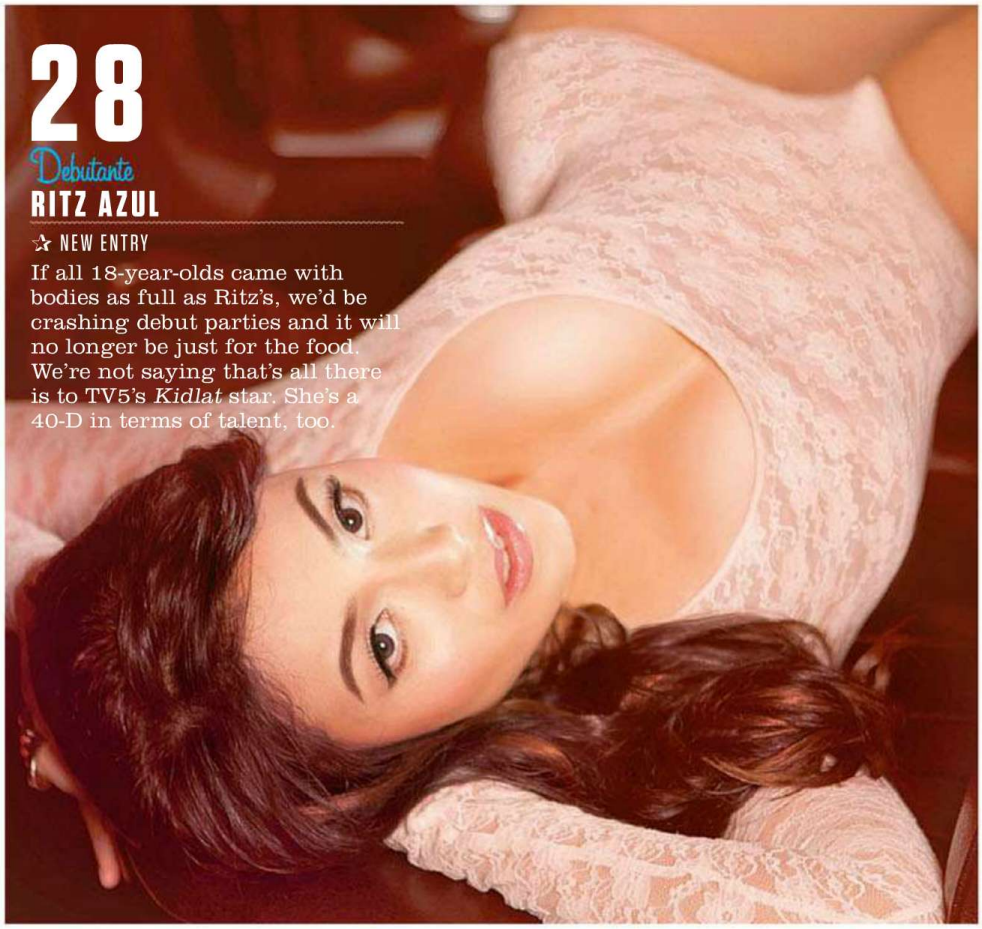
29

Love like a river

KAYE ABAD

↗ LAST YEAR : 53

Wouldn't you just love to bathe in the cool, fresh waters of a river with Kaye Abad? It's a query that has been taking space in our minds ever since she finally decided to drop her guard–along with her all-too-wholesome image–for the sake of an FHM cover appearance. We're glad you took the plunge, Kaye.



28

Debutante

RITZ AZUL

☆ NEW ENTRY

If all 18-year-olds came with bodies as full as Ritz's, we'd be crashing debut parties and it will no longer be just for the food. We're not saying that's all there is to TV5's Kidlat star. She's a 40-D in terms of talent, too.

27

The end is the beginning

KATRINA HALILI

↙ LAST YEAR : 16

We've seen her capture a whole nation with her allure. Twice. We've also played witness to public blithe and controversy that she refused to go down for. But the dark days are over and a new light shines for the former Sexiest in the land.

26

Much wanted

EHRA MADRIGAL

↙ LAST YEAR : 17

Though we see Ehra in occasional TV guestings, sitcoms, and teleseryes, we feel there's still a need for her to be more visible. Call us clingy, we don't care. We want as much Ehra as we can get.

25

First-class charmer

DAIANA MENEZES

↙ LAST YEAR : 24

When we think of Daiana, porcelain skin, tisay looks, and supermodel legs come to mind. But it's her koboy attitude and Brazilipina accent that we find drop-dead charming. And we intend to keep her that way. Like true brothers in arms, let us be one in fighting for this cause.

Cachet

JESSY MENDIOLA

↗ LAST YEAR :33

On our own litmus test for finding out who looks best on the cover (which is: we just know), we often find ourselves agreeing with whoever put the A-list stars where they are: A-listers are just made of a different grade than the second- or third-tier stars. This is how we see Jessy Mendiola. She hasn't taken her place in the FHM universe yet, but from the get-go we already know that Jessy has the cachet of a major cover girl. Nothing says down-market about her; she's all premium. If it's not a cliché to say she could be our next big thing, then she is. We promise to work on proving ourselves right.

The seasoned actress is at a point where she can choose which roles to portray. Now she fights the kind of fight that the very characters she has portrayed know all too well: the freedom to love as she pleases. In her case, it's between a lover and loved ones—the two parties gripping her arms in a perverse tug-of-war. How this real-life teleserye ends is all up to her. As for us? All we can say is we've never wished so hard to be a senator.

KIM CHIU

↗ LAST YEAR : 30

Still the singular force with which we've pegged balancing ideas of chinita and dalagang Pilipina. She is just like how we first saw her on PBB–blushingly unassuming, bibo but not annoying. Your parents would've loved to meet her. But that damn Xian Lim beat you to it.

21

Visceral

LJ REYES

↗ LAST YEAR : 57

If all women looked as gorgeous as LJ post-partum, the planet would be overpopulated with newborns, with men the world over asking their wives to pop out kids by the dozen. Our February 2013 issue is evidence of how giving birth can shape the woman, how her body and overall aura are enhanced by primal calling. Call the effervescence of her sophomore cover a wonderful afterglow. Call it a bountiful return. Call it Mother Nature bestowing beauty upon those who give motherhood a shot, not letting it get in the way of pristine being.

This was Alodia's Facebook post when this list came out last year: "Wow!! #86 FHM Philippines 100 Sexiest Women in the World 2012!" While she seemed to be really excited, we think a lot of her fans were secretly disappointed with the news—Alodia deserves more. So here we are.

Best of bets

BELA PADILLA

↙ LAST YEAR : 8

Weathered a bit of controversy after the "political incorrectness" of her March cover shoot of last year. Entirely our fault, though, but we figured, if there was one woman we'd commit artistic lapses of judgment for, it would be Bela. Not because we want controversy at her doors, but because she was graceful under tremendous pressure, sincere and intelligent in answering questions, charming and far from disagreeable.

And at 24, this sultry morena is just beginning.

Grow up beautiful

EMPRESS SCHUCK

☆ NEW ENTRY

A child star's curse is when the poor kid can't grow old. Because she is so adorable as a little bundle, the public wants her to stay that way. That is, of course, impossible. Let Aiza Seguerra tell you the rest of the story. So how do you fight it? Grow up beautiful, the way Empress did. Bet you don't recall that in 2003, about three years into this FHM gig, Empress was the most popular child actress at one awards tilt. Ten years later she's on the cover and you're staring differently, and not like you would Aiza.

↙ LAST YEAR :4

Fell off the FHM radar after her cover appearance in 2009, after which some of what we've heard of her weren't as rosy: breakup with actor-dancer boyfriend; controversial fight with big sister; and years before that, drenched on the roof of her house because of Ondoy. And yet, despite all that, we only know Cristine by these things: palaban attitude, labanos-white skin, and unparalleled steamy dancing. ANGEL LOCSIN

↙ LAST YEAR : 2

Ate up the stage whole and had everyone's eyes fixed on her face, and combined Mulawin-like wings and harnessed pyrotechnics when we crowned her Sexiest Woman three years ago in 2010. To be thoroughly biased is to say that Angel Locsin possesses the kind of ideal hubog our wives and girlfriends mean when they say they "don't need to be stick-thin to be sexy." Angel doesn't only bring this hubog-enviable figure in photos; in person and on the 100 Sexiest ramps, we can only describe her effervescence as malakas ang dating.

XANDER ANGELES

SWEET Angel

All her covers and the angelic things she's said in them

OCTOBER 2003

"Gusto ko yung tipong we finish each other's sentences. Gusto ko simple lang, down to earth, walang arte. . . totoong tao."

MARCH 2005

"Kung mahal ko talaga yung lalaki... why not! I love him! Kung yun ba ang magpapasaya sa kanya, eh. At tsaka pera lang naman yan."

OCTOBER 2005

"Wala akong life! Puro trabaho. If ever I get to have a free day, I'd usually spend it with my family dahil halos hindi na kami nagkikita."

MAY 2010

"Never pa ako nalasing. So, sabi ko, kailangan ko na talagang ma-experience. kailangan mo ring mag-enjoy, hindi ka naman nagwawala."

Sam LIKE IT HOT!

Sam was once a commercial model beaming with potential. We all know how that turned out

COMMERCIAL MODEL (Early 2000s)
She imbeds herself in your subconscious through TVCs and ads.

PBB: DOUBLE UP* (2009)
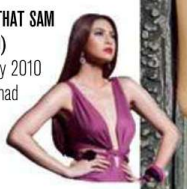
A dip in Kuya's pool caught the nation's attention.

THE HOUSE THAT SAM BUILT (2010)


With her July 2010 cover, Sam had arrived, paving the path to her inevitable...

FIRST WIN (2011)
Gone are the days of bombshells claiming top spot. She ushered in a new era, redefining the definition of sexy.

NENENG B (2011)
As Neneng B in gag show Bubble Gang, she channeled her inner comedienne.

FUTURE PERFECT (2011)
Her sophomore cover proved that, great things twice over, can only mean a prosperous future. She then secured what would be her...

BACK TO BACK WIN (2012)

We've only done it twice. She looked sultrier than ever, an FHM icon in her own right.

No questions.

SAM PINTO

↙ LAST YEAR : 1

Never has one person been given so few script lines to work with ("Bakit?") and still manage to work her way into our general consciousness, a couple of FHM covers, and the title of Sexiest Woman in all the land twice over. The silken-haired, doe-eyed, refined model/actress probably didn't exactly ask for as much, and the Neneng B in her surely wouldn't resist to ask, bakit? The answer: you.

MARIAN RIVERA

↗ LAST YEAR : 5

She fulfilled her promise of a new world and you have expressed your gratitude by declaring her the Sexiest. Just recalling how we got here is one for the books: when we finally had her for the cover after five years of trying, we were that close to giving up. But only that close, because we didn't. A confession: we had entertained doubts she would actually be able to deliver an FHM cover standard. With all the contracts and commitments, what would she be able to show? How wrong we were. What she allowed us to see, she gave prodigiously. No question, Marian Rivera is a paragon.
